FINANCIAL CRISIS IN PUTNAM

Ruhr Evacuation Problem Unsolved

RENEW EFFORTS TO SETTLE THE RUHR EVACUATION PROBLEM

Most Critical Day of Conference, Says Dr. Marx, German Chancellor, as Delegates at London Renew Efforts to Reach Settlement

LONDON, Aug. 13.—(By the Associated Press)—The conference held by French, Belgian and German representatives in Downing street this forenoon in an effort to reach a settlement of the Ruhr evacuation problem, ended at 1:30 o'clock without reaching a solution, adjourning until later in the afternoon.

"Today is the most critical day of the conference," Dr. Marx, the German chancellor, declared today to the newspaper correspondents, just before going into the 4 o'clock conference with Premier Herriot of France and Premier Theunis of Belgium and their French and Belgian associates, to resume their discussion of the Ruhr evacuation.

"I go to this afternoon's conference with a feeling of great responsibility, as the questions to be considered are so vital to Germany and the other countries concerned," he continued. "But I go filled with hope, and if we

BATTLESHIP IS SENT TO EGYPT

British Admiralty Acts in Connection With Recent Trouble in the Sudan

Official Report Says Egyptian Battalion Which Made Attack Recalled

LONDON, Aug. 13.—(By the Associated Press)—In connection with the trouble in the Sudan, the admiralty has ordered the battleship Marlborough to leave Zanzibar, Dalmatia, for Alexandria. The light cruiser Weymouth, enroute for Colombo, Ceylon, was ordered to Port Sudan, where she arrived yesterday, and the ship Clementis is on her way for the same port.

Egyptian Battalion Recalled
ALEXANDRIA, Egypt, Aug. 13.—An official communiqué issued today regarding the Athara affair says the soldiers of the Egyptian railway battalion, committed a considerable amount of sabotage within the railway works, destroying automobiles and machinery with long iron bars and also setting fire to the railway offices. They refused to respond to the moderating counsels of their commanding officers and the senior officials of the Sudan railway, it is declared. A court of inquiry has been established by order of the sirdar.

It appears, according to the communiqué, that the order to fire was given by a lieutenant of the Sudanese Arab mounted rifles who instructed a sergeant to make the men fire over the heads of the Egyptian soldiers who were attacking them.

To Recall Battalion
LONDON, Aug. 13.—An agency despatch from Cairo today says that according to the local press the Egyptian government has decided to recall to Egypt the railway battalion "which caused the disturbance at Athara."

EX-GOV. DAVIS INCREASES LEAD IN OHIO

COLUMBUS, O., August 13 (By the Associated Press)—Former Governor Harry L. Davis increased his lead to more than sixty thousand over Joseph B. Slesher of Akron, for the republican gubernatorial nomination when 7135 precincts out of 8300 had reported today. Slesher, however, still maintained a lead of more than 9000 votes over James A. White, who was running third.

Governor A. V. Donahay had increased his plurality to almost 110,000 votes over James C. B. Bonny for the democratic nomination for governor in 6563 precincts.

FARMERS GLAD TO SEE RAIN

Cows Are Not Giving Normal Production of Milk—Pullets in Revolution

Long-Desired Rain Seems to Have Arrived in Time to Save Crops

The sun shines a little brighter today for Middlesex county farmers. The drought that we have had for the past three weeks or more—the driest "spell" in four years of similar handicaps to ambitious agriculturists who produce the crops that mankind uses for food.

To raise farm and market garden crops in such agricultural territories of New England as Middlesex county and environs, you need an early season start. If you can plough up the soil in late March or early April, let it dry out thoroughly and "warm up" a little in the spring sunshine before you harrow and plant it, you are a

INQUESTS HELD BEFORE JUDGE PICKMAN

Two inquests were held in the court of second sessions before Judge Pickman this morning. The first concerned the death of Edw. rd Cunningham, who was burned to death during a fire in the establishment at 58 Bridge street, formerly conducted by Andrew F. Roach. The second inquest dealt with Michael Moran, who was struck by a truck in East Merrimack street on June 21, and who died last week in St. John's hospital.

CHANGE IN SCHEDULE OF WORLD FLIERS

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Aug. 13.—(By the Associated Press)—After plans had been completed here for the American army world fliers to hop off for Greenland tomorrow, weather permitting, a disquieting rumor today from naval flight commander Bruce G. Leighton, on board the cruiser Raleigh, off the Greenland coast, caused a sudden change in the schedule.

LEOPOLD-LOEB CASE

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—(By the Associated Press)—Four alienists will be the only witnesses used by the state to rebut the theory of "mental disease" which the defense has offered in mitigation of the penalty Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb must pay for kidnapping and killing Robert Franks.

The original plan of Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, to call campus friends and associates of the youths to testify as to their sanity, in refuting statements of lay witnesses for the defense, has been abandoned. The prosecution believes it is unnecessary.

MISS WILLS WINS SECOND ROUND

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 13.—Miss Helen Wills, of Berkeley, Calif., playing through champion, today won her second round match in the national women's tennis championships by defeating Mrs. H. P. Falk, of Biberie, N. J., 6-0, 6-0. The Californian displayed masterful stroking and dazzling speed. Mrs. Falk threatened only once when in the third game of the final set she brought the score to deuce and then made the vantage point, only to lose

URGES AUTOISTS TO LET TRAINS GO BY

TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 13.—"Stop and let the train go by. 'It hardly takes a minute. Your car starts out again intact. And better still,—you're in it!'"

This bit of verse Governor Silzer quoted today as a reminder to automobilists to exercise caution and avoid the dangers of increasing grade crossing accidents.

IN THE DISTRICT COURT

Woman Points Accusing Finger at Spectators in the District Court

Charged Men With Getting Her Husband Drunk—Court Investigates

Two spectators at this morning's session of the district court were given a scare when the wife of a defendant who was charged with drunkenness pointed an accusing finger at them and charged them with being responsible for her husband's getting drunk.

Judge Enright summoned the two men to the bench and questioned them as to the allegations preferred by the woman. One of the men stated that he did not give or sell liquor to the defendant. Herminia Grenowicz, as he just came down from Hudson, N. H., to visit a relative a few days ago, while the second said he was a sick man and had just been released from the hospital.

"Sick men sometimes sell liquor," the court remarked as he ordered officers to take the names of the two spectators and refer them for investigation.

Grenowicz was arrested yesterday by Patrolman John J. Linane. He was found guilty of drunkenness, and his case continued to Nov. 28, when a previous probationary period will expire.

FARMERETTES HARVEST RECORD CROP

BEDFORD, N. Y., Aug. 13.—A record breaking crop of vegetables has been harvested by the farmerettes of the state reformatory for women, Anos T. Baker, superintendent of the institution, announced today. This year's harvest shows an increase of 25 per cent over last year's production, he said.

Sixty farmerettes, some of them formerly classed as Broadway butterflies and habitués of high-life resorts in New York, did the planting and harvesting this year.

10,236 TOTAL STRENGTH OF MASS. NAT. GUARD

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—The total strength of the Massachusetts National Guard may not exceed 10,236, the enrollment of July 31, 1924, the state militia bureau said in an order issued today. A limitation in appropriations is said to have caused the restriction.

Eight guard units were commended for 100 per cent attendance at the summer training camp this year, in a report filed by the state guard inspector.

The next two points and the game, at no other time was the champion forced to display her variety of puzzling shots which won her the national title last year.

Gov. Templeton Orders Immediate Audit of State Treasurer's Office

Cashier Gilpatric, Who Attempted Suicide, Was Town's Leading Citizen

Authorities Probe Possible Forgeries in Connection With Mortgage Deeds

PUTNAM, Conn., Aug. 13.—The First National bank of Putnam has been wrecked so badly by the operations of its cashier, G. Harold Gilpatric, who is also treasurer of the state of Connecticut, that it can never open its doors again, it was indicated today by Norville S. Bean, National bank examiner. Mr. Bean's statement was made in the form of a suggestion to a citizen's committee that they take steps immediately to organize a new institution that would take over the bank building and equipment.

Indications today were that the amount of losses from Mr. Gilpatric's handling of funds in his capacity as cashier of the bank and as custodian of estates and for individuals might amount to $400,000. The sum of $262,000 has already been established as the amount of money and negotiable securities missing from the bank, and for which Mr. Gilpatric had given his receipts as cashier in addition to that handed to him for investment and administrative purposes.

Governor Orders Audit
WATERBURY, Conn., Aug. 13.—Governor Charles A. Templeton, in a letter to Attorney-General Frank Healey, made public today, states that he desires to have an audit made at once of the state's treasurer's office "in view of the report of State Treasurer Gilpatric's reported defalcations in Putnam and attendant disclosures."

The governor says he does not intend to question the work of the public auditors to whom the law allows for their services, but $10 a day, with nothing for assistants. The state's business runs into many millions with authority in the treasurer to deposit these funds where he pleases, the governor says.

ASSESSORS MAY ANNOUNCE NEW TAX RATE ON AUGUST 25

Passing of Supplementary Budget Clears Stage for Action—Street Department Gets Busy—Motor Bus Ordinance Still Inoperative—City Hall Notes

With the supplementary budget having passed the council last night there is every possibility that the board of assessors will announce the new tax rate on Aug. 25. Chairman John F. Dwyer of the board of assessors said this morning that he thinks, from the present outlook, the assessors will have the rate determined for announcement on that day.

Under the law the supplementary budget must remain ten days in the city clerk's office before final acceptance. This sum and $2350 of the $75,000 sewer extension appropriation of last night must be added in the levy.

MOVE TO CUT MINERS' WAGES

Mine Workers' Journal Charges Drive to Revise Jacksonville Agreement

Declares Attack Will Fail—Workers Will Take No Backward Steps

INDIANAPOLIS, August 13.—The United Mine Workers' Journal, official organ of the United Mine Workers of America, in its issue of August 15, will say:

"There appears to be a well defined movement among certain class of coal operators and coal companies throughout the country to force a revision of the Jacksonville agreement, which would mean a reduction in the wage structure in the bituminous coal industry. Such a movement has been under way for the last several months. It has centered in and around West Virginia and certain parts of other coal mining fields.

"The attack on the Jacksonville agreement and the present wage scale of the mine workers of the country will fail. America will not permit anything of the kind to happen. There is no going to be any reduction in wages. The Jacksonville agreement will stand until the day of its expiration, without change or amendment.

"It is but fair to state that, as far as is now known, the operators who are parties to the Jacksonville agreement are taking no part in the attempt to discard the document. The effort is being made by coal companies in outlying fields and not by those in the central competitive field, who are now under the Jacksonville agreement.

"President Lewis has stated many times that there will be no reduction in wages in the union fields. He has said, and everyone has become familiar with his statements, that the United Mine Workers of America will take no backward steps. It is a sacred Jacksonville agreement as a sacred thing, and he proposes that it shall be lived up to in every particular. Coal companies, coal papers, and others may as well take notice."

IT PAYS TO CARRY COPY OF THE SUN

A copy of The Sun was the means of restoring to Frank O'Grady of Gorham street a suitcase containing valued clothing found Sunday on the road in Kittery, Me., by C. H. Farwell of that place. Mr. Farwell, in examining the contents of the suitcase, found a copy of The Sun of July 11 as the only possible clue to identification of the owner.

Believing that the suitcase had probably dropped from an auto from this city Mr. Farwell wrote The Sun stating he would forward the property upon proof of ownership. A statement to that effect contained in The Sun last night served to notify Mr. O'Grady of the finding of his lost effects and he immediately communicated with Mr. Farwell and established the necessary identification to accomplish the forwarding of the suitcase to him here.

REDUCTION IN WAGES

HAVERHILL, Mass., August 13.—A request for a substantial reduction in wages and revision of working conditions is made by the cut sole manufacturers in a proposition made today to the cut sole workers' local No. 12 of the Shoe Workers' Protective union. Contracts expire in the sole plants August 27, and the union this week presented new agreements calling for a renewal of present prices and conditions for the ensuing year.

POLICE SEEK MISSING TYNGSBORO PAIR

Anxious to learn of the whereabouts of Clifford Malo, 19, and Cleo Broder, 18, both of Tyngsboro, who disappeared from their homes on August 3, the parents of the young couple have requested the assistance of Tyngsboro and Lowell police. When last seen the missing pair were thought to be enroute to New York in a Ford automobile owned by Mr. Henry Malo, father of Clifford. The machine was seen passing through Lowell on the day the couple disappeared. It is a 1923 Ford touring car, registration number 118, 889, with semi-balloon tires and two dents in the rear.

Mallo was wearing a dark brown suit, white or tan shirt and black shoes. He has dark brown hair, ruddy complexion, five feet seven inches tall and weighs about 130 pounds.

The Broder girl is five feet, six inches in height and weighs about 135 pounds. When she left home she wore a brown suit and hat.

Any information concerning the couple will be gratefully appreciated by their parents. Mr. Malo's address is R.D., No. 1, Tyngsboro.

G. A. R. HEAD RAPS CONGRESS

Objects to Aid Granted in Construction of Monument to Confederate Leaders

Commander-in-Chief Saltz-gaber Makes Attack at Boston Encampment

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—Criticism of the last congress for aiding in the construction of a monument to confederate leaders on Stone Mountain, Georgia, was made by Commander-in-Chief Gaylord M. Saltz-gaber in his annual report to the Grand Army of the Republic, which is holding its fifty-eighth annual encampment here.

Congress had provided, General Saltz-gaber said, for the coining of fifty-cent pieces to memorialize the commencement of the monument.

"Undoubtedly," he continued, "the majority of congress would have voted against the law if they had known of its real import. We do not object to the confederates building monuments to their heroes, but we do object to draw the line when the United States government which they sought to destroy is asked to help build them? Should we not express our own sentiment upon the subject and inform the patriotic citizens of our nation of this crime against loyalty?"

The commander-in-chief praised the Women's Relief Corps for its aid to Civil war veterans and thanked the officials of this city and state for their welcome and business sessions today. The adjutant-general reported that the strength of the G.A.R. in this country on Dec. 31, 1923, was 65,582, an increase of 192 over that in 1922.

The G.A.R., the Women's Relief Corps and affiliated organizations were occupied with business sessions today. This afternoon a bronze tablet marking the site of the home of John A. Andrew, governor of Massachusetts in the Civil war, will be dedicated with an invocation by Rev. Charles L. Sherris, Chaplain-in-chief of the G.A.R.

Is it psychology that guides a political comeback?

Or is it just a series of coincidences that enables men, once banished from the political arena, to climb back into power through the votes of the electorate?

Texas and Oklahoma now present a problem for political students. The former may have a woman governor. Mrs. Miriam Amanda Ferguson, wife of "Farmer Jim" Ferguson, who was banished by the state legislature, while Oklahoma may have Jack Walton as United States senator. Walton was recently impeached for alleged irregularities in office.

The political situation in the two states is parallel. First there is the Klan and anti-Klan political feud. The Fergusons and Walton have long been bitter enemies of the Klan. Walton's only campaign argument was a bitter denunciation of the Invisible Empire which he charged "framed" him in order to cause his impeachment.

He aroused sympathy. In Texas "Farmer Jim" Ferguson took the stump and likewise assailed the hooded organization. His wife, the candidate, derived the benefit at the primary and was second choice.

"Farmer Jim" also went to his tenant farmer friends in behalf of his wife. It was he that promised to protect these farmers from high rents. Today Ferguson with the tenant farmer is not a candidate; he is a religion. Which sews up nearly 100,000 votes for "Jim" Ferguson.

Both Jim and Jack are avowed "wells," but Mrs. Ferguson is an ardent prohibitionist.

Humiliated by state legislatures through impeachment, these two men may be again returned to power.

For the school girl the dress of navy blue flannel or red with a separate guimpe of white lawn or linen cross-stitched in peasant designs is very effective.

BY HARRY D. HUNT
NEA Service Writer.
WASHINGTON, Aug. 11.—Washington is no summer resort. Through many weeks each year the capital city steeps in a humid heat that saps the energy and frazzles the nerves.

At such times bureau chiefs and department heads have a habit of finding important government business calling them elsewhere. Diplomats, being less diplomatic, frankly pack their portfolios and portmanteaux and seek cooler spots.

Not for many thousands of government workers, no such opportunity to dodge the stifling dog-days can be found.

To offset this situation for the stay-at-homes, the workers who must carry on the government's business while the bosses are away, Uncle Sam has provided what is probably the most extensive and varied recreational layout to be found in any city, anywhere.

Inside the 75 square miles of the District of Columbia there are no less than 505 "government reservations," ranging from small grass plots of a few hundred square feet to Potomac and Rock Creek parks, the latter containing 1700 acres.

And on all the larger of these reservations, play spaces have been set aside and facilities provided for almost any kind of outdoor sport that can be imagined.

Swimming, golfing, boating, baseball, tennis, football and basketball are of course provided. Those are the standard brands of recreation provided in most public play places.

But in addition to these, Washington also offers its tired workers a cricket field, two polo fields, an equestrian field, a hurling ball field, an archery court, volley ball courts, hockey fields, soccer fields, quail courts and a general athletic field.

COMMITTEE APPOINTED FOR K. OF C. OUTING

Plans for a joint outing of members of Bishop Delany assembly, fourth degree, of this city, and Fr. Drullatte assembly of Salem, with their ladies, were discussed at a big meeting in "Eagles" hall here last night, and the following committee was appointed to make arrangements:

Sir Knights Andrew Molloy, John C. McQuade, John Flannery, Chief Ed. Ward, P. Saunders, Chris J. McSorley, J. Walter McKenna, Paul Cahill, Thomas Conaton, James F. Conway, John T. Burns, Hon. James B. Casey, George R. O'Neil, Edward Appleton, John T. Buckley, William Barrett, Frank Rieard, P. J. Nevins, James E. Hennessy, James Pollard, John E. Boyle, George B. Delaney and William J. Rogers, secretary.

A delegation of sir knights from Salem, including Michael D. O'Malley, faithful navigator, James J. Green, chairman of the outing committee; John W. Dempsey, Henry Francis and James H. Boulger outlined the plans of the Salem assembly and were most enthusiastic over the outlook.

John V. Donegan, faithful navigator of the local assembly, presided at the meeting, and called a special meeting of the newly-appointed committee immediately after the general meeting adjourned. This committee will go to Salem Thursday evening for the purpose of developing the plans and will leave the K. of C. rooms at 7 o'clock.

The members of both assemblies have received assurances from Rev. Bro. Osmund, C. E. N. of the Xavierian juniorate, Peabody, and Rev. Bro. Norbert, C. E. N. of St. John's prep school, Danvers, but formerly connected with St. Patrick's boys' school here, that they will co-operate with the men in making the affair a success. A dinner, sports and entertainment will be included in the program. The date selected is Sept. 7th at St. John's, Danvers.

A committee consisting of Sir Knights John C. McQuade, Thomas J. Conaton and Frank J. Flannery was appointed to arrange a supper in con-

For golf alone there are no less than four courses, two of nine holes and two of 18.

There are 32 public tennis courts and 17 baseball diamonds.

And in addition to the public bathing beach in the tidal basin, there is, near the Washington monument, a juvenile swimming pool.

According to the records, golf is the most popular sport in the capital. 277,777 players having checked in on the public links last year. Swimming comes second, with 176,180, and tennis third with 96,000.

Croquet—we almost forgot the croquet courts—provided the thrills for 6328 of the less strenuously inclined.

The next extension of the public play program of the capital may be the inauguration of public riding stables, to provide mounts for folks who would like to ramble on horseback along the district's bridle paths.

There are already more than 50 miles of these bridle paths, but to date they have been "exclusive." Only folks who own their own mounts, or who can afford the high charges assessed by private riding academies, have been able to enjoy them.

Col. C. O. Sherrill, in charge of public grounds, now recommends that cavalry horses, superannuated from active service, be utilized to stock a stable near one of the parks, from which they can be rented at a nominal sum to the public.

If that is done, the last "exclusive" recreation of the capital will have been made common property!

But Uncle Sam believes good players make good workers, and no part of his public expenditures is figured as returning better dividends than those dollars put into providing public recreation.

Meeting with next regular meeting of Bishop Delany assembly.

At the business meeting a raft of routine matters was disposed of and Sir Knight Michael J. Quinn, F. P., was appointed a committee to revise the card system. Rev. James F. Lynch, faithful friar, gave a brief talk on the assembly, its aims and its purposes and asked for co-operation of all the members in the outing.

Remarks under the head of good of the order were made by Sir Knights Daniel J. O'Brien, Elias J. McQuade, James F. Conway, Andrew Molloy, John J. O'Brien, John T. Burns and John T. Buckley.

THREE-PIECE SUIT
Here is a three-piece costume of the type that is to be extremely fashionable this winter. The coat and skirt are of black and gray striped velvet brocade, and the long, straight blouse is of gray. The coat is so long that it may easily be worn as a wrap with other gowns, while the blouse and skirt give the effect of a complete costume without the wrap. The matching suit coats are very long and follow the straight, comfortable lines of this one.

RUCHARREST, Rumania, Aug. 12.—Newspaper despatches received here say that Rumanian troops surprised a Russian terrorist band which had crossed the Dniester river near the Black sea coast, intending to pillage the Rumanian village of Shaba. The terrorists succumbed in escaping back over the frontier after a struggle, but were obliged to abandon their arms and munitions.

The activities of raiding bands, operating over the Russian frontier, were recently made the basis of a complaint from Poland to the soviet government. The Poles alleged that

TO FIX MOTIVE FOR MURDER

Authorities Begin to Build
Up Case Against Dr.
Thiery of Somerville

Physicians Report Accused Man, Now in Hospital, Making Progress

SOMERVILLE, Mass., Aug. 12.—With Dr. Raymond D. Thiery under arrest at the Massachusetts General hospital on the charge of murdering his brother-in-law, David M. Noble, as he entered the Thiery residence here last Friday night, the local and state authorities began to build up their case against Dr. Thiery, seeking particularly to establish the motive of the shooting.

Physicians reported at the hospital that Dr. Thiery, although still weak from the effects of an operation performed at his request to relieve him from a rupture which he said he had received in a struggle with an intruder whom he told the police he had encountered in his home immediately after the shooting, was making good progress. The police continue their silence concerning the nature of the drug to which they said they had evidence that Dr. Thiery was addicted.

DEATHS

STOKHAM—Mrs. Eliza Stokham died yesterday at her home, 25 Bleachery street, aged 71 years, 9 months and 10 days. She is survived by four sons, Henry A. Stokham of Chelmsford, Charles W. of this city, Burton J. of Foughkeepsie, N. Y., and Ernest F. of this city; three daughters, Mrs. Frank Lett of Chelmsford, Mrs. Norman Lett of Lakewood, N. H., and Miss Grace F. Stokham of this city; several grandchildren and one great-grandchild; two brothers, William and Alexander, both of St. Stephen, N. B., and one sister, Mrs. William Carmichael of St. Stephen, N. B.

THEVENAGE—Eronise (Fontaine) Thevenage died this morning at her home, 120 Allen street, after a long illness, which she suffered with patience and resignation. Deceased was 47 years old. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, George; three daughters, Mrs. Charles Eugene Levesque of Montreal, and the Misses Juliette and Valérie, both of Lowell; two brothers, Hermenegilde and Zephirine Fontaine, both of Three Rivers, P. Q.; one sister, Mrs. Knese of Quebec. Deceased was a member of St. Ann's society of St. Bridget's parish in Montreal.

TURVEY—Charles S. Turvey died yesterday afternoon at his home, 334 Walker street, aged 38 years, 9 months and 22 days. He is survived by his wife, Rosalie B. Turvey; a daughter, Winona G. Turvey of Lowell; his father, Mrs. Turvey's three sisters, Mrs. Joseph Hill, Mrs. Harry B. Bailey and Miss Daisy Turvey, and one brother, William E. Turvey, Jr., all of Frederickton, N. B. Mr. Turvey was a member of the Episcopal church of Frederickton, N. B.

GUILLOTTE—The many friends of Thomas J. and Emma (Harber) Guillotte will regret to hear of the death of their little daughter, Muriel A. Guillotte, who died at the State hospital this morning, aged 1 year, 7 months. The body was removed to the funeral home of Undertakers Mahoney Bros.

CARD OF THANKS
We, the undersigned, wish to express our thanks and appreciation for the kindness shown to us in our recent bereavement in the loss of our beloved husband and brother, Patrick Bourke. We wish to thank the Railway Relief association and the Fraternal Order of Eagles, also the Sisters of the Sacred Heart and all who sent floral or spiritual offerings. We will ever hold them in loving remembrance.
MRS. MARGARET BOURKE,
MRS. J. KENNEDY,
MRS. R. CATHANAN,
MRS. M. CASIDY.

IN MEMORY
This day brings back the memory of a dear son and brother, Thomas Tully, who passed away Aug. 14, 1923, but who is still fondly remembered by his loving friends.
Sadly missed by
MR. AND MRS. JAMES TULLY and Family.

ST. BERNARD DOG IS VERY VICIOUS

The St. Bernard dog that was held at the police headquarters because of his appetite for automobile tires, has now acquired a taste for wooden boxes. Agent Richardson of the Humane society stated this morning that the dog had been removed from police headquarters in the society's animal ambulance and taken to the animal hospital. During the trip the dog displayed such violent temper that the attendant was forced to barricade himself behind a wall of transport boxes. Unable to reach the man, the dog vented his rage on one of the boxes, tearing and chewing it to pieces. He is now held for observation by Dr. Walter Sherman who suspects rabies.

FUNERALS

MORAN—After solemn and impressive services at the Sacred Heart church, the remains of John J. Moran, a well known resident of this city, and for the past twenty-four years janitor at the annex of the Lowell high school, were tenderly consigned to the Sacred Heart cemetery this morning, followed to the grave by a large gathering of relatives, friends and associates. The cortege left the home of the deceased, 43 Anderson street at 9:45 o'clock and proceeded to the Sacred Heart church where at 10 o'clock a solemn high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. Dennis A. Sullivan, O.M.I., as celebrant; Rev. Bernard Fletcher, O.M.I., as deacon and Rev. Charles Barry, O.M.I., as sub-deacon. Sent off with the sanctuary were Rev. William McFadden, O.M.I. and Rev. William Noonan, O.M.I., D.C.L. The choir sang the Gregorian Mass, the solos being sustained by Mr. James Gurley and Miss Mary Garritty. At the offertory Thomas A. Glavin sang "O Meritum Passionis," Miss Veronica Barr presided at the organ. The family casket was borne by friends of the family. Sisters of the Sacred Heart convent, city officials, representatives of all walks of life, as well as members of the older families of the parish, were in full attendance. A large number of floral offerings and a large number of spiritual bouquets. The bearers were Messrs. John Sullivan, James Duddy, Patrick Fella, Peter Furrington, Michael Egan and John Welch. The following delegation represented the School Teachers' Association: Michael Finnegan, Arthur Dana, John Barrett, Patrick J. Mahoney, John Nolan and John O'Connor. Burial took place in St. Patrick's cemetery where the final prayers were read by Rev. Fr. Sullivan, O.M.I., assisted by Rev. Fr. Fletcher, O.M.I., Rev. Fr. Noonan, D.C.L. and Rev. Fr. McFadden, O.M.I. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers M. H. McDonough Sons.

DUGAN—The funeral of Elizabeth Dugan took place this morning at 8:30 o'clock from 14 Highland street and was attended by a large number of relatives and friends. The funeral cortege proceeded to St. Peter's church where at 9 o'clock a funeral high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. Peter T. Linehan. The choir sang the Gregorian Mass, the solos being sustained by Miss Mary Ryanne and James B. Donnelly. Mr. Raymond Kelly presided at the organ. There was a number of floral and spiritual offerings. The bearers were Messrs. Joseph Dugan, Jeremiah Tobin, Fred Howe and James Watson. Burial took place in St. Patrick's cemetery where the final prayers were read by Rev. Fr. Linehan. G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT

Veterans Assemble for Formal Session in Boston—
Visit Points of Interest

BOSTON, August 13.—The G.A.R. forces assembled this morning for the formal session of their 58th annual encampment. The sons, daughters and wives of the G.A.R. veterans also met in convention sessions of their respective allied organizations.

Following the business of the morning, each of the groups attended special luncheons and then spent the afternoon in friendly talks or visits to points of interest in Boston, especially the navy yard, which made special efforts to observe this day, which had been designated as navy day.

Panthers Wildly Cheered

The surviving veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic braved chills and pneumonia yesterday to give their colors more to the breezes of this loyal northern city, where they sadly admit those banners will never flutter again in a national encampment.

In spite of this grim decree of fate, of sombre skies, sodden decorations and the spite of the rain that washed the route of their march, their progress through the streets of Boston yesterday was not a sad one. Old-time kaily ran through the column, and the gayest people in Boston were the men who marched in the thinned ranks, and many an old veteran executed a jig-step or cut a piece of wing just to show that the late Comrade John L. Parker's lines "What though grim age comes on space our hearts shall not grow old," had a living witness in him.

Bravest Show Ever

Perhaps not more than 6000 of the old boys joined in the parade, including those who were carried in automobiles; certainly not more than 7000, but some who have seen the parades at each of the four Boston encampments considered that this was the bravest show that the Grand Army ever made. Among the 2000—perhaps 2500—who dared the elements and declared stoutly "I came here to march," some were aged men and one walked on crutches.

Cheer on cheer went up for the brave old chaps all along the route, just as the mayor and all the workers in behalf of the encampment had asked. It was hearty, sincere cheering, in which the thoughtful middle-aged vied with the youth and the little children joined. The noisy greeting was swelled by mechanical noise-makers, whistles, rattles and bells. A pretty, bright-haired miss in an office building overlooking Park square leaned out like Barbara Pritchelle, only instead of a flag she had a bell, about the size of the teacher's bell in the old district school. Her demonstration caused many a kiss to be blown to her by men old enough to be her great-grandfathers.

SEVERE EARTHQUAKES IN JAPAN REPORTED

TOKIO, Aug. 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—Earthquakes, described as "fairly severe," were reported in the Kobe, Osaka and Nagoya area today. Reports from Nagoya said that the water mains there were broken by the tremors, cutting off the water supply and flooding the streets. No casualties have been reported. The disturbances are alarming the citizenry.

Residents Forced to Flee

TOKIO, Aug. 13.—(By the Associated Press.)—An earthquake which shook western Honshu and Sikkoku this morning, forced residents to flee from their homes in several towns. Despatches received here no casualties or material damage was reported.

RADIO SIGNALS SENT FROM MOVING TRAIN

By N.E.A. Service
LONDON, Aug. 11.—Amateurs of the Radio society of Great Britain have succeeded in sending and receiving radio signals on a moving train.
This is the first time in the history of this science that both transmission and reception of wireless messages to and from a moving train succeeded.
The train was going from London to Newcastle, recently, a distance of 275 miles, when messages from it were exchanged with station 6XX here and other amateur stations along the route. Station 6XX is the official station of the British radio society.
The transmitting and receiving apparatus was for short waves and the power was only a few watts. The antenna wires were stretched inside the car from end to end, instead of being the regulation outside wires. Yet the experimenters succeeded in conversing with amateurs 100 miles away.

SOME "FISTS"

The controversy about who's the father of broadcasting won't be easy to judge, considering the complexity of claims.
Station WWJ, owned by the Detroit News, for instance, enters into the struggle for first honors in broadcasting on the claim that it began a regular broadcasting schedule on Aug. 30, 1920, more than two months before station KDKA at East Pittsburgh, Pa., began its regular schedule.
However, KDKA maintains broadcasting had been going on more or less regularly ever since October, 1919, while station WWJ at Detroit claims, at least, still claims actual first prize for its claim of having started broadcasting in December of 1919.
Well—what's first?

PREPARE FOR FAIR

Amateurs not only in the United States but in other countries are experimenting on receiving and transmitting sets to take part in the Amateur Builders' Contest at the Radio World's Fair in Madison Square Garden, New York, Sept. 22 to 28. Entries are coming in from Europe, South America and other foreign points.

DOCTOR BY RADIO

Senator Marconi, famous Italian radio engineer, predicts physicians will be summoned and the advice taken by radio. He asks: "Who can say that in the future some means will not be perfected to permit the doctor to study his patient and diagnose his complaint by wireless?"

LIBERAL IN CLUB

BROADCAST LICENSES

Broadcasting stations licensed to transmit under agreement with the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. pay a license fee of from $500 to $3000. This is paid only once to cover the entire use of the licensed apparatus.

TALKING TO ENGLAND

Long distance talks with London and other British cities may be common after the erection of a contemplated 200-kilowatt radio telephone station in England. Engineers are now talking to England, although their activity is experimental.

RADIO ON THE FAIRM

One farm in every 17 in Ohio is equipped with radio, reports C. J. West, federal crop statistician for that state. He adds they are in 7500 rural homes in that state.

RADIO IN SPAIN

Radio is growing in Spain since the government has permitted amateurs the use of wavelengths below 150 meters and power up to 100 watts. There are now about 100 amateur transmitters in the country.

HIGHEST STATION

Station PS, mounted atop one of the Serrah mountains in Santos, Brazil, is said to be the highest radio station in the world.

Glass-Enclosed Porch, Casement Windows Feature This Home

A porch entirely glazed in, and included under the sweep of the main roof, becomes really a sixth room in this pretty house, and is usable the year round. Casement windows are especially attractive in effecting this result, and when properly fitted with hardware and frames are as practical as double hung windows. Casements have the advantage of permitting the use of the full opening for air.

Another desirable feature of this plan is the fact that the house has very few openings on the rear, so this side will be helpful in keeping the house comfortable, if it is given the undesirable exposure. In addition to the five rooms and sunporch, there is a large storage room in the attic.

The living room is back of the sunporch. A sunny group of casements, a long inside wall space directly opposite them, and an open stair at the rear of the room furnish an interesting background for furnishing. There is a coat closet which is equally convenient from the front or rear of the house. The door at the rear of the living room leads to basement, rear entry and kitchen.

The dining room occupies the front, adjoining the sunporch. Its many casement windows make it unusually pleasant. A pair of corner china closets of simple design increase its attractiveness. Like the rest of the woodwork in the main rooms, these are of oak, and should be stained a warm dark brown.

Housewives will approve the kitchen, small, compact, light and airy. It is equipped with a built-in dresser and worktable. The sink is located under windows, so that a pleasant view makes the dishwashing a pleasant task.

Each of the two bedrooms is provided with a built-in tray case enclosed by a regular interior door. Besides this each has a large closet and one of them has two closets. A built-in linen case in the hall, the bathroom and the storage room complete the convenient layout. The house is an excellent choice for the small lot.

You Can Do It Better With Gas

Hot Water Is Needed All the Time

One of the most necessary requisites in every home is hot water—it is needed at every season.

Especially during the summer months hot water is needed for daily baths. A warm water bath is more soothing and restful and should always be taken before a cool shower. If you want real hot water service we recommend the

Kompak Storage System

With a Kompak you get a full flow of hot water at an instant's notice. The flame on the Kompak is regulated automatically. A number of Kompaks have recently been installed in Lowell. There are many satisfied users to vouch for the satisfactory results obtained.

We will be pleased to have a water heater salesman call at your home and explain to you what a Kompak will do for you.

IS YOUR SKIN RADIANT, OR SALLOW?

Sallowiness, freckles, blackheads—literally fade away after a few Mello-glo treatments. Mello-glo Skin Tonic, a pink, creamy liquid, cleanses pores, then closes them. Rub it gently on your skin with your finger tips. Before it dries, wipe off with absorbent cotton. You'll notice a pink glow, a pink-and-white freshness, soft and sweet as a baby's. This stimulation does not wear off, but lasts throughout the day.

Its lasting effect is perfected by Mello-glo Beauty Cream, which should be applied immediately after Mello-glo Skin Tonic. It bleaches and is absorbed into the skin, making a velvety, smooth powder base. Next put on Mello-glo Facial Tonic Powder—stays on until you take it off.

These three Beauty Treatments have the wild-rose tint, that fragrant, appealing delicacy beloved of men and women. $1.00 each, at high-class toilet counters. A. G. Pollard Co., Bon Marche, Chalfont Co., The Gagnon Co., Cherry & Webb, Green's Drug Store and other good stores—Adv.

OUT OUR WAY

TRY A BIT O' TENNIS

"Why don't you try a little tennis now?" the physical trainer asked Mr. Mann.

"That's an old woman's game. It's a kid's game."

"Yes it is! Just try it. I mean seriously," chided the trainer. "The trouble is that you'll have to play like an old lady for a while until you get in shape. If more men would get the old lady notion out of their heads, there would be fewer old ladies among the old men."

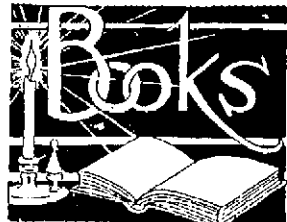

Tennis, as a matter of fact, whether played easily, or with the terrific force that marks great skill, is a pleasant and stimulating exercise. The mere matter of swinging a racket is comparable to work with Indian clubs or dumb-bells, while reaching, ducking and hopping gives good play to many of the body muscles.

It takes wind to play a good game of tennis and for building up wind and for breathing generally swimming and tennis are good partners.

Tennis is for the quick of eye, foot and hand if it is to be well played, and should be included in the recreation of anyone needing and desiring sprightly exercises in which the play element figures.

By the N. E. A. Hook Survey

A young Australian, Dale Collins, by name, took ship aboard the "Specks," world-girdling yacht of a rich Ohioan, when that craft put into the Antipodes.

Reaching London he wrote a rather colorful story of the trip, but stored up a great deal for future fiction.

Some of this he has released in a first novel, "Ordeal" (Knopf). It is one of those surprising first books, in which extraordinary capacity for strength is revealed, with promise of greater strength to follow.

"Ordeal" is a book which shows sophisticated, cultured people in full rout when taken away from their customary civilization. Better things, though different, have been done in this school of writing—for instance, Russell's "Where the Pavement Ends," and the more whimsical "The Admirable Crichton" of Barrie.

In Collins' book a party of wealthy, sophisticated folk are touring on the ship of a rich New Yorker when the ship becomes lost in the Pacific. Thus they fall upon the mercy of Ted, a half-breed steward; a sneering, sniveling, villainous fellow who gains ascendancy over the crew through superior cunning and intelligence.

In a midnight fray Ted kills the first mate, a drug addict, and finds that he alone is able to "take the sun" and keep the ship's position. The half-caste then enjoys delicious grandeur to the extent of believing a young woman in the party could be infatuated with him.

Madness overtakes him in the end, and finally he becomes shark food—both of which situations are among the weakest in the book.

Meanwhile there have been thrills aplenty, and some psychological studies that are varying in their skill. Some show Collins to be still quite young—28, or something like that, in fact—but it is amusing that dead, old lady duty is the one who finally disposes of Ted. Because she is dead she does not comprehend the half-breed's dominant commands and so, when the time comes, she orders him about his business and he humbly goes.

In the earlier parts of the book Collins suffers slightly from "neurophoria" or fatty figure of speech. His figures, pile upon each other too fast. But Collins will bear watching. He will write good sea stuff, and in time—big.

And while the sound of surf is still in our ears, a word for the passing of Joseph Conrad.

He left 24 volumes. What alluring titles: "The Nigger of the Narcissus," "An Outcast of the Islands," "Almayer's Folly," "Nostromo," "Typhoon," "Youth," "Chance," "The Arrow of God," "Lord Jim"—down through the whole list that his genius wrought.

A great heritage from a Slavic sailor who held the magic genius and who, master of many languages, found the English tongue most music to his ears and chose to write in it. That has been one of the great wonders of Conrad—a native of Poland who could become so great an English stylist.

Such was the diversity of his work, and so wide the appeal to varying tastes that there will always exist a debate as to his best tale.

"Youth" would probably get a majority vote; but what of "Heart of Darkness" for sheer dark coloring and "Lord Jim" for psychology?

In the case of Conrad literature is fortunate to this extent: he lived to write all that he had to say. The last work of his life "The Rover," showed the mastery of old age; it was a book of his fading years.

Frank B. Doubleday, of Doubleday, Page (his American publisher), announces an incomplete novel, "Suspense," laid in Italian setting and with no mention of the sea contained in it.

WEIGHTS FOR CURTAINS

IN NEW YORK

BY STEPHEN HANNIGAN

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Men with hard eyes, faltering footsteps, graying hairs, and a tendency to portliness are the cause of the six-by-ten dance floors in the popular late-at-night supper clubs.

They are the consistent habitués of the intimate clubs that cater to the night-life lovers. Young men cannot stand the financial strain of this expensive entertainment. Only men of age and years of struggling to attain the pocket full of big bills can peer at the morning's check with its high covert charge and higher charge for charged water with an air of unconcern.

The nearest these youthless men come to activity is keeping an alert eye on the young, frivolous girls who accompany them.

When the orchestra starts playing a few ambitious couples arise for the struggle. That's where the old men hide bunions, gimpy legs, rheumatic muscles and corpulent bellies behind an abbreviated dance floor.

They complain that there is not enough room to dance and their colorful companions agree. After all, few of the older generation can jig without tramping on toes and bruising an ankle or two.

The manager of a supper club that boasts of a well-known orchestra relates that when he opened his club with a large dance floor, the guests were few and far between. Instead of taking out tables, he added many. And he placed them on the dance floor. Business immediately picked up.

Within a week it was impossible to dance in comfort, but the club was packed. People who swore on their oath that they would never return, made reservations the following day.

Old men, seeking an excuse for down youth, are the cause of it all.

Split skirts are appearing along the avenue again.

Bulky knots of rolled, silken hose are to be seen in the skirt cap as a modish damsel passes.

The first split skirt I saw was years ago in Lafayette, Ind. It was during a period when long, tight skirts were being worn. The skirt was split to the knee. What a shock—and then disappointment it created. It was worn on the street by a female impersonator, who was on a local vaudeville bill.

The new style skirt, however, is much shorter and the split is only a few inches long in most instances.

While New Yorkers are rushing by the trainload to the cities and show places of the west, the westerners are coming to New York to spend their vacations.

It's an uneven exchange, however, with New York getting far more visitors than she sends.

This city is the world's greatest summer resort.

School teachers, clerks, students and vacationing stenographers make up a large part of the sightseeing influx.

Domestic Heroines in Our Homes

Women who lead a domestic life seem to listen to every call of duty excepting the supreme one that tells them to guard their health. As long as they can drag themselves around women continue to work. Necessity to keep on their feet all day when over-tired, or sitting in cramped positions day in and day out often brings on ailments from which women suffer tortures. For fifty years Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound has been strengthening women and overcoming such ailments. Sickness and pain vanish under its influence and thousands of women have been benefited by it.—Adv.

THREE HURT WHEN AUTO HITS ELECTRIC CAR

A crash between a Ford sedan and an electric car in Davis square, Wiganville, shortly before 11:30 o'clock last night, necessitated the treatment of three men for painful injuries at St. John's hospital. The injured parties are Robert T. Collins of 88 Commonwealth avenue, who sustained a wash on his left cheek which required 12 stitches; Joseph Spencer of 182 Agawam street, owner of the car, who sustained numerous abrasions and glass cuts, and Arnold Thompson, said to have been the driver of the car, who had four stitches taken in his left arm and one in his left cheek.

The accident occurred as the three men were proceeding to their homes. In Woburn street the steering knuckle of the sedan snapped and the car swerved sharply to the left, crashing into an Eastern Massachusetts electric, operated by Motorman Bartholomew Cabell. One of the wheels of the machine became lodged under the street car. The windshield was smashed to atoms, and the men received their injuries from flying glass. The electric car and the automobile were both damaged by the impact.

EIGHT DROWN WHEN DANCE FLOOR COLLAPSES

Eight persons were drowned near Buckeye, O., when part of a dance pavilion built over the water collapsed. The accident was caused by a beam under the floor breaking when the floor was crowded. Thirty persons fell through the floor into the water. In the picture men in a boat may be seen hunting for bodies.

TO MAN NEW DRY FLEET

400 of the 4000 Recruits Have Been Mobilized at Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 13.—Four hundred of the 4000 men recruited to man the new dry fleet of 267 vessels to be commissioned for action against smugglers of aliens, liquor and narcotics have been mobilized in this city, according to announcement by coast guard officials.

Preparations for the offensive, which is said to be scheduled for some time in September, have been in progress at the navy yard here for more than a month. Destroyers, mine sweepers and speed boats are being reconditioned and outfitted.

Twenty-four section bases will be established and three new receiving stations will be opened for the training of recruits.

EXHIBITION DANCERS AT LAKEVIEW TONIGHT

The patrons of the Lakeview ballroom have witnessed many first class dancing exhibitions during the present season, but the most brilliant and prettiest act of them all is the offering of Brett and Wentworth, premier exhibition dancing artists, appearing at the Lakeview ballroom this evening.

Mr. Brett and his charming partner are introducing several new dance steps, the most popular being the Argentine Tango, the whirling one-step and the classical and skating waltz.

The dancing at Lakeview is by the check system and the peppy music furnished by "Broderick's Entertainers" makes dancing a real pleasure.

BATTLE OF MUSIC AT PINEHURST PARK

A real rivalry battle of music will be fought tonight at Pinehurst park between Leo Daly's orchestra of this city and Jimmy Russo's orchestra of Somerville.

Daly's orchestra has been playing at Pinehurst park all summer and has made many friends among the Greater Boston people who form the majority of the patrons at Pinehurst. Russo's orchestra playing at Pittman's summer ballroom, Medford, has requested Mr. Daly's preface and has requested Mr. Pahey, manager of Pinehurst, to allow them to clash with Daly's. Mr. Pahey readily consented to this and the "music war" is on.

A large assemblage of Lowell people is going to the contest tonight to cheer for Daly's and let the great number of Boston followers Russo's will bring with them know that the Lowell boys are there with the goods.

One of the most important industries in Chile is boot and shoe making.

AMUSEMENT NOTES

LOEW'S RIALTO

When a picture is suggested by Tom Moore's poem, "Believe Me If All These Endearing Young Charms," it is but natural to expect a love story of the most romantic type. Such is the case with "Supreme Passion" which will start at Loew's Rialto Thursday. This is the interesting story of a girl who wants to be sure that the man she marries will love her, even after her beauty is faded and gone. Her method to prove whether she was loved for her physical or spiritual beauty was clever and courageous and could be practiced with impunity by a girl on a sweetheart whose faithfulness she might doubt.

The added feature is a thrilling melodrama starring Charles Hutchinson, Leah Baird and Sheldon Lewis, and "His Forgotten Wife," starring Madge Bellamy and an able cast in a fascinating society drama. Will Rogers in "Going to Congress," his latest comedy, is the third feature.

For Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Manager Peterson has booked another excellent program with two high class features. The first is Pola Negri in "Montmartre," a story of Paris with Pola in a role much like that in which she played in "Passion." The second feature is Agnes Ayres in "The Guilty One," a screen version of the popular stage play. To round out this unusual bill Ben Turpin, perhaps the most generally applauded comedian on the screen, will appear in "Tillie's in a Big City," and the International News will give its customary comprehensive panorama of world news events.

In "Montmartre," Pola more than just returns to that type of part in which the public first remembered her. According to those who have already seen the picture, Pola gives a far more interesting performance than in any of her earlier productions, whether they be European or American made. She is a more vital, a more flashing girl as Yvette, a young dancing girl of a cafe in Montmartre, who every day is a tilt with fortune, merrymaking amid the gay lights of the cabarets and days in almost unbearable dullness in a drab attic room—this is the part of Pola, and Pola's great in the part. In the picture, which she is in store for when you see "Montmartre."

"The Guilty One," the second feature, is a gripping drama, adapted from the stage play by that name in which Pauline Frederick scored such a hit, and which was unanimously acclaimed by critics as the big daddy of all mystery stories. Agnes Ayres plays the role Miss Frederick created—not only plays the part but handles it admirably. Edward Burns, leading man,

MEERIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Final performances will be given this evening at the Meerimack Square Theatre of "Women Who Give," the noted novel of sea life with the rugged New England coast as a background, and "His Forgotten Wife," starring Madge Bellamy and an able cast in a fascinating society drama. Will Rogers in "Going to Congress," his latest comedy, is the third feature.

LOWELL FIREMEN ATTEND CONVENTION

The twelfth annual convention of the Massachusetts Permanent Firemen's association was held yesterday (Tuesday) at the Hotel Marlborough in Lowell from 10 a. m. to 5 p. m.

At the business meeting in the afternoon, President John M. Galligan of Taunton and the other officers of the association were re-elected. It was voted to hold the next annual convention in Lawrence.

The convention concluded last night with a banquet, at which 600 delegates and guests were present. Representative John F. Donovan of Chelsea, was toastmaster. The speakers included Lieut. Gov. Alvan T. Fuller, Fire Commissioner Theodore A. Glynn of Boston, City Treasurer George F. Hendon of Chelsea, Representative Michael F. Shaw of Revere and Executive Secretary Francis X. Tyrrell of Chelsea chamber of commerce. Prayer was offered by Rev. Augustin Hardegon and an entertainment followed the dinner.

Fire Chief Edward V. Saunders of this city, who is one of the few chiefs in the state proud of membership in the "M.P.F.A.," was unable to attend the convention, much to his regret.

GENERAL PERSHING AT CAMP DEVENS

Gen. John J. Pershing, addressing 2500 assembled members of the citizens' military training corps at Camp Devens yesterday, declared that the proposed national "Defense Day" program for Sept. 12, was merely a method of instruction for officers in the regular army, national guard and organized reserves, to prepare them for their duties in a national emergency.

"Only by facing this problem squarely can these officers realize the extent of their task in case of war," said the general in concluding remarks.

Preparations for local participation in the coming national mobilization of the country's fighting forces and organizations of defense are now under way. Sept. 12 is the sixth anniversary of the battle of St. Mihiel, when American fighting led made history.

American Legion Post 87 will discuss plans for the proper observance of the anniversary at its next meeting, August 19. No Lowell military organizations have taken action on the proposed national mobilization program as yet, but are expected to do so at the proper time.

The plans for "Defense Day" include a complete turnout of the national guard, the organized reserves and any other units of military age who wish to take part.

MISSING BARGES ARE LOCATED

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—Two barges which broke loose from a tug while in tow from Boston to Rockland, Me., with a crew of five men each, have anchored off Penikese beach, near Rockland, according to a message received here by the owners of one of the barges. The tug hunted through heavy fog all yesterday for her charges.

The Tree Climbers club, the members of which spend their holidays climbing the tallest trees they can find, has been organized in Godalming Surrey, Eng.

YEAR-ROUND BUILDING OPERATIONS

Secretary Hoover of the department of commerce has appointed a committee to consider the feasibility of continuing building construction throughout the year. For some years past construction fell off with the approach of cold weather, and the employees were thus thrown into idleness and many of them deprived of the means of obtaining a livelihood during the winter. It is estimated that this idle time averages about 25 per cent among all the building trades throughout the country; and it is known to be a distinct loss to those employed in the industry. Such losses are due to the seasonal ups and downs of the construction business as dependent upon the temperature or to some extent upon the weather.

The committee appointed by Mr. Hoover, finds that this practice is largely the result of custom rather than climate, and that it can be overcome if proper provision be made for that purpose. In the first place, even where the winters are cold, interior work on new buildings may be conducted without interruption; but, of course, it will be necessary to have a number of such buildings closed in before the cold weather so that the inside work may be done satisfactorily regardless of cold weather. If such arrangements could be made the building trades would be greatly benefited in having steady employment during the cold weather which in former years was the signal for winding up operations until the early spring.

ECHOES OF MR. DAVIS' SPEECH

Now that the country has heard the first speech of John W. Davis in his campaign—and received his views on all the great issues of the hour, the people can draw a just conclusion as to his intellectual attainments, his high equipment for the office, his ability as a speaker, a statesman and a diplomat. As president he would bring to the discharge of his duties, the mental brilliancy and learning of Woodrow Wilson, and while equally idealistic, he would be much more practical in dealing with public questions of a controversial character.

The republican press, in some instances, has tried to criticize the speech of Mr. Davis and to take issue with him on some of his statements, but despite the fact that the address was of liberal length, the critics have been unable to pick any real flaws in it without resorting to distortion or misrepresentation of the facts. The favorable comment upon the speech from practically all sources, is a high tribute to Mr. Davis and a hopeful augury of his triumph at the polls in November.

CAMPAIGN COMMITTEES

Now that the political campaigns both state and national, are open, it is in order for the democratic city committee to organize for business. For some years past this committee has existed chiefly on paper; but it is time it should wake up and show some activity in getting into the campaign in order to promote the success of the democratic ticket. This is no time for lethargy or seasonal hibernation.

Mr. Humphrey O'Sullivan has been nominated for congress in the fifth district, and while the district committee will doubtless do its duty, it is important that the local ward and city committees shall undertake the essential work of registration and arrange to get out a full vote in the primary and final elections. It is especially necessary that pressure be brought to bear upon the women who have not yet availed themselves of the right to vote, in order that they may comply with the preliminaries necessary to the exercise of the franchise.

Sessions of the election commissioners are open daily for registration, but many of the women and quite a few of the men also from one cause or another, keep away. Some are under the impression that registration entails expense and at least the payment of a poll tax as a pre-requisite of voting, which is entirely wrong. It costs nothing to get registered, and the right to vote is not dependent upon payment of a poll tax.

Although the majority of the women rejoiced at the triumph of woman suffrage, yet there is a fair proportion of them, mostly democratic, who paid no attention to the movement and who thought then as they do now, that voting at elections is a matter that should be left to the men. We find, therefore, that we have a great many women eligible for registration, who have yet to cast their first vote in a political election.

It is the proper function of ward and city committees, therefore, to induce these women to get registered and vote in the coming elections. There will be exciting contests during the campaign for the election of state and national officers, and urgent appeals will be made for support by both political parties. As the time for election approaches the importance of a single vote will be realized to a much greater extent than at present. Let it be understood by these women who have never voted, that a single vote may decide as between a democratic and a republican candidate for governor, between a democratic and republican candidate for United States senator and so on. Public rallies will be held by both parties in order to make appeals to the voters, but such appeals can have no effect except with the men and women whose names are on the voting list and who can go to the polls to exercise in the secrecy of the ballot box a part of the sovereignty vested in the American people.

PILL AND BOTTLE

If the average person got from his automobile as irregular service as most of us are content to get from our bodies, he would make a change. This statement is made by Dr. Frances Scott of Smith college.

How many people take as good care of their bodies as they do of their autos or radios? And yet the human body, a thousand times more delicate than the auto or any other machine, is given very little attention. Its fuel, which is food, is fed to it haphazardly, with little of the care we bestow in buying gas for the auto or tubes for the radio.

The noted surgeon, Dr. Charles J. Mayo, probably had this in mind when he said recently: "Civilization has ended 'mass diseases' such as yellow fever, but individual ailments such as cancer and nervous indigestion are gaining."

Even if Leopold and Loeb are crazy, they never said anything so absolutely foolish as some of the statements made by the alienists testifying in their behalf.

Leopold and Loeb were seeking all the thrills that life can offer when they resorted to kidnapping and murder. There is just one remaining thing they should be vouchsafed the pleasure of enjoying and that is the thrill of finding the hangman's noose tightening around their necks.

Motor trucks are not adapted to house to house collections or deliveries. The horse-drawn vehicles are still more convenient and economical for such work.

FIVE GENERATIONS AND ALL ACTIVE!

FIVE GENERATIONS OF WOMEN IN ONE FAMILY, DAUGHTER,

MOTHER, GRANDMOTHER,

GREAT-GRANDMOTHER,

GREAT-GREAT-GRANDMOTHER

By N. E. A. Service
SAN JOSE, Calif., Aug. 13.—In the modern mad race for youth, the greatest fountain of youth of all is generally overlooked, declares Mrs. Florence Sebastian of this city.

Mrs. Sebastian, however, has found it. With two living grandchildren, she is as active and vigorous as any girl of 18.

"I follow the rules which still keep my mother young at 62, and my grandmother youthful at 92," she explains.

"The secret is simple and there for anyone who wishes to profit by it: Keep close to nature."

This remarkable family of five generations of active women is widely scattered.

Mrs. Charlotte Bascome, the grandmother of a grandmother, lives with her daughter, Mrs. Alice Banks, in Pashley, Alberta, Canada.

These two women, with ages totaling 154, keep house, manage a farm, run a grocery store, and Mrs. Banks also is town postmistress. Until last year she taught school and may again if the inclination strikes her.

Does Needlework

Mrs. Bascome fills in odd moments of otherwise inactivity by doing needlework.

Mrs. Sebastian, the grandmother and granddaughter, lives here with her husband, an employee of a telephone company. For years she has done all the family work (including washing "in the old-fashioned way, with a washboard—great exercise") and this year, feeling her time not fully occupied, she has taken up motion picture scenario writing.

Mrs. Sebastian's daughter, Mrs. Helen Meigs, lives with her husband and daughter, Doris, age 3, in Spokane, Wash.

"We are all healthy and active because from earliest girlhood we have applied common sense rules to our living," Mrs. Sebastian declares.

"The first of these is to keep away from stuffy, indoor unsanitation of air. We live out doors practically all the year round, sleeping in a tent, and only utilizing this meager shelter at night. Daytime we keep out in the sunshine.

Easier and Healthier

"We find it just as easy to do our work there as indoors—and much healthier."

"Outside of the exercise incidental to housekeeping, I walk some 10, 15 or 20 miles a day. I do not believe ordinary calisthenics necessary under these circumstances."

"All the women of our family have plenty of food."

"We do not use stimulants, condiments only most sparingly, and none of the rich dishes so injurious to health."

"I eat very little meat, in fact, don't have appetite for much. I was fully grown before I ever tasted it."

"But the most important rule of all is that one must keep young in spirit. If thoughts are those of age, age will come; if movements are allowed to become slower, soon it will be impossible to regain spry activity."

"Think youth and take care of yourself and you stay young."

LEVIATHAN COMING TO BOSTON DRY DOCK

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—The United States liner Leviathan left here at 5:15 o'clock this morning, daylight saving time, for Boston, where she will be placed in drydock while a propeller, damaged on the last trip from Europe, will be replaced. The giant steamship will be replaced. The giant steamship will be replaced.

is expected to reach Boston between 3 and 4 o'clock this afternoon.

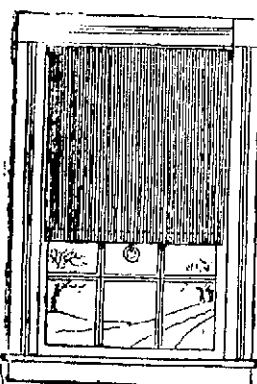

Because of the damaged propeller, the Leviathan arrived here yesterday one day late.

Last winter the Leviathan was in the Boston drydock several weeks after the vessel was grounded on Robbins Reef. She was out of the service approximately four months.

The moderate consumer of alcohol outlives the total abstainer, according to a German physician.

NATIONAL CONVENTION

Fraternal Orders of Eagles Meet in Providence—Many Lowell Visitors

President Quinn of Lowell Aerie Presents Purse of Gold to Organizer

Eleven hundred delegates reported at the formal opening of the national convention of the Fraternal Order of Eagles, in Providence, R. I., yesterday.

Lowell was officially represented by President Thomas F. Quinn and Secretary John M. Hogan of Lowell aerie, but many members of the local organization also journeyed to Providence to witness the convention proceedings and participate in the social programs scheduled in abundance.

All Lowell visitors will remain

throughout the convention sessions, which will be concluded Sunday night. Special arrangements have been made for the entertainment of women who accompanied their husbands to Providence.

Nearly 20,000 members of the flourishing "F.O.E." registered in Providence yesterday and more were arriving by every incoming train from many distant points in the United States. The Eagles will parade tomorrow, when it is expected to have fully 10,000 men in line. Lowell aerie will have a place in the imposing column. There will be 20 bands in the long procession.

The annual parade will be reviewed by Mayor James M. Curley of Boston, Gov. William E. Flynn of Rhode Island and Mayor Joseph H. Gainer of Providence.

Thomas B. Murphy of Boston, New England organizer for the Eagles, was yesterday presented $1000 in $20 gold pieces by the Massachusetts Eagles, the presentation being made by President Thomas F. Quinn of Lowell aerie. Among the Massachusetts men named to office by Grand President Howard N. Ragland yesterday, were the following: Outside guard, John J. Rice of Framingham; first assistant outside guard, James Gallagher of Revere; assistant grand conductor, John J. Leyard of Watertown; member of the tabulation committee, William T. Mackey of North Adams; one of tylers, William Keegan of Pittsfield.

The features of the program today included grand aerial session at Biltmore hotel, exemplification of the ritual by drill teams at the armory, reception all day and evening at the Eagles' home, sightseeing trips and shopping tours for visiting women, ritualistic exemplification by officers of subordinate aeries at Eagles' home, band concert at Hotel Biltmore and observance of Eagles' day at Oakland beach.

PREPARE TO RECEIVE ITALIAN FLIER

Plan Reception

INDIAN HARBOR, Labrador, Aug. 12. (By the Associated Press.)—A wireless message from Lieut. Clayton L. Bissell of the army air service, aboard the U.S.S. Milwaukee, in Greenland waters, directs that preparations be made here for the coming of Lieut. Locatelli, the Italian flier who is attempting to cross the Atlantic in the wake of the American aviators.

Argentinian Delayed

CALCUTTA, Aug. 12.—Major Pedro Zanni, the Argentine aviator who had intended hopping off this morning in continuance of his attempted world flight, met with another setback just as he was about to start when one of the three on the under-carriage of his machine burst. It was his last spare and if another cannot be obtained here, one must be ordered from Lahore,

SOUND VALUE

Sound products evolve from sound principles.

Dodge Brothers Motor Car is the product of an institution whose principles have always been conceded to be pre-eminently sound.

Sound manufacturing methods that place infinitely more importance on quality than quantity.

Sound financial standing, which permits uninterrupted development and adherence to the policy of constant improvement—

A sound method of selecting dealers, from which an organization has grown that enjoys the complete confidence of the public—

A sound sales and service policy, through which buyers are assured full value for their investment—

These basic principles being sound, it follows as an obvious consequence that Dodge Brothers Motor Car represents sound value.

Western American League Teams Begin Last Invasion of East for the 1924 Season

DOUBLE HEADERS ON TODAY'S CARD FOR AMERICAN LEAGUE TEAMS

Indians and Senators Only Teams to Play Yesterday
—Walter Johnson Registered His 106th Whitewash—Boosts Strike Out Total to 3180

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Primed for battle by 48 hours' rest accorded them by a conspiracy of schedule makers and rain makers, the western division of American League contenders will begin its last invasion of the east for the 1924 season today. St. Louis will take on New York, Chicago will meet Boston and Detroit will engage Philadelphia in double-headers while Cleveland and Washington hook up in a single game. The contest scheduled for this afternoon in the National League is that between New York and Pittsburgh in the Pennsylvania city.

The Indians and Senators managed to find a dry spot in the nation's capitol in which to stage a ball game yesterday, while all the other major league players were forced by the inclement weather to seek recreation in indoor sports. Postponements of the Pirates-Phillies, White Sox-Red Sox and Browns-Tankers tilts were occasioned by the general downpour along the Atlantic seaboard.

In shutting out Cleveland by a 4 to 0 score, Walter Johnson registered his 106th whitewash and raised his all-time strikeout total to 3180. Sir Walter graciously parceled out five hits to the Spunkies. The victory cut the world champions' lead over Washington to a game and a half. Umpires Owens, Rowland and Connolly inaugurated a new fashion in major league arbiters' dress when they appeared in gray drab uniforms. This apparel henceforth will be the regulation costume for Dan Johnson's mediocrity.

FAYETTE NATIONAL WINS CALIFORNIAN POLO STAR HOD CARRIER NOW AT NORTH RANDALL ON DEFENDING FOUR STARS AS GOLFER

NORTH RANDALL, CLEVELAND, Aug. 12. (By the Associated Press)—Fayette National, owned by Guttenstein Bros., Milwaukee, Wis., and driven by Tom McKay, won the North Randall purse of $3000 for 213 trotters the feature of the grand circuit short program here yesterday. He was the only winner to take his event in straight heats but was forced to a brush down the stretch to beat the wire in both heats by a short margin. Only four horses faced Starter Stone and of these Hollywood Frisco was distanced in the first heat after he went into a break in the stretch when Will Crozier started his move to overtake the leaders.

Because of a high wind Fred Edman postponed a scheduled start with Favonius in an effort to beat his 2:03 1/2 trotting record.

After quitting at the wire in the first two heats, Grace Direct set the pace in the 2:04 class pacing and coming from behind won his third heat, forcing that event into four heats. Logan Hedgewood, which led to far into the stretch, paced the first quarter in 30 seconds flat and the half in 1:00 4/5.

CITY TWILIGHT LEAGUE GAME CALLED OFF

The City Twilight league game between the Butlers and the Centralville East Ends was called off last night on account of rain. The game will be played at a later date. Tomorrow evening on the South common, the Butlers will play Richard's Belmonts. The game will start at 6 o'clock.

EAST AND WEST MEET IN TENNIS MATCH

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 13.—East and west met in the first starred tennis match in the singles on the Casino turf today. N. W. Niles, Boston, faced C. J. Griffin, San Francisco, on the championship playing surface. The rain of yesterday helped the courts and conditions were excellent.

BY JOE WILLIAMS

The scribes wanted to see Bill Melhorn of St. Louis win the open golf championship at Oakland Hills this year. Bill would have made great copy. Few people know it, but Bill is a reformed hod carrier. What's more, he looks it. In build he suggests the smashing fullback of the 1906 vintage. His huge shoulders are slightly stooped.

"What makes you walk bent over like that?" a friend inquired at Detroit. "If you had carried bricks up five flights when you were a kid you'd walk that way, too," was the answer.

Bill wasn't kidding, either. That was his racket some 15 years ago when he was a sturdy youth in Chicago. Melhorn came to golf via the caddy route. His fine physique and fine fighting ability soon carried him to the lofty summits.

Not so many moons back Melhorn was touched by the glittering wand of romance. A beautiful circus bareback rider came into his life, and a pretty little ceremony followed. Mrs. Melhorn gave up the sawdust ring for the more domesticated role of wife.

You see her at all the tournaments these days, always leading the gallery, pulling hard for Bill. She almost pulled him across Oakland Hills. For a time it looked as if he had won. As it was he finished third with 301 a stroke back of Bobby Jones. Melhorn has the same temperament and courage to be a champion. Since he is still young his time may come yet.

Melhorn is a fighter in action. We recall an explosion shot he played out of a sand trap at the 12th hole at Oakland Hills during the final round. The ball rested in a heel print. A combination of perfect timing and great muscular effort was demanded.

Melhorn rolled up his sleeves, barked at his caddy to leave the green, waved the gallery to move to one side, gritted his teeth and banged away. This was not an actor's gesture. It was concentration and determination, plus.

Melhorn made a perfect out, incidentally, and holed for a par 5 when it looked as if he'd be lucky to get down in 7.

BUTLERS DEFEATED BY INDIAN SECONDS

The Indian Seconds moved into a triple tie for second place in the Upper Gormham Street Twilight League as a result of defeating the Butlers, 6 to 2, last night at O'Donnell park.

The Indians had a new man in the box, Mullin, formerly of the T.R.T. of North Billerica. Mullin's dazzling ball raised havoc in the ranks of the hard, sure hitting Butlers. He had them swinging at nothing, and that's what they hit. The real batting feature of the game was supplied by the pitcher also when he connected with a hot one and gave the pill the longest ride yet seen at the park, but because of a bad leg Mullin only reached third. The score:

PARK PLAYERS SHOULD WATCH RULES CLOSELY

BY MERCER BEALEY
The A-to-Z man of Tennis
This is addressed to the many tennis players. The city fathers attitude toward tennis has changed sharply in recent years. You no longer have to bring your own net, or chalk your own lines. In most cities the free park facilities for tennis are thoroughly adequate for the moment.

There is no reason why you shouldn't develop a good game. And in so doing there is no reason why you shouldn't learn the rules. The fact that you are playing on park courts and in matches with no great importance attached thereto is no reason why you shouldn't respect all the rules of the game as scrupulously as if you were playing in a major league championship.

Time after time I have seen park players ignore the faulting, fair or chance courts after the odd games hit the net with the racket and make many other common violations of the rules. Two or three days before the fact you get in the habit of ignoring rules and when you do arrive and the city and state tournaments beckon you you are stuck up and find yourself at a decided disadvantage.

Here's an example: A park player was entered in the city tournament. He was a good player and he fought his way into the final meeting. A local player of established prestige. They split the first two sets. The home player in the last set, led by games 6 to 4. At this point his opponent made a wild shot. It was headed for the back stop. The park player stuck up his hand and caught the ball.

Now as the score was at deuce before the ball was hit the park player's advantage would have been stricken off if he hadn't needlessly caught the ball. Under the rules, of course, the point was scored against him. He had gone after the ball. "Well, we caught it in the line in the park," was his futile explanation.

JOHNSTON CAUSES TILDEN TO SIT UP AND TAKE NOTICE

Maybe the great Bill Tilden won't dominate the tennis battle sector this season after all. The unexpected victory of Howard Kinsey of California over Little Bill Johnston in the Seabright finals has added a note of uncertainty to the singles situation. Johnston for years has been listed as Tilden's nearest competitor. If Kinsey was good enough to beat Johnston

AMERICAN FIGHTERS LEAVE CAMP IN HIGH HUFF

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 8.—Because Luis Firpo, here to train for his match with Harry Wills, insisted on charging admission to the training camp, three American fighters walked out on him. "We don't want to work in the same camp with that guy. He's money-mad." That's what they said. The three were Bartley Madden, heavyweight; Mike McTigue, light heavyweight, and Jack Britton, welterweight.

CLAIM $36,500 DUE TOMMY GIBBONS

LONDON, Aug. 13.—A lawyer representing Tom Gibbons, American boxer, has written Major Arnold Wilson, promoter of the Gibbons-Bloomfield fight at Wembley last Saturday, demanding that $361 pounds sterling, (about $36,500) is due their client, this being the difference in sterling between $50,000 and the 3000 pounds sterling which Gibbons received.

Major Wilson has gone to the country under physicians' orders, suffering from a nervous breakdown brought on by the strain of managing the fight. Interviewed at Preston by a representative of the Daily Sketch, he said he had been in ill health for some time, that two or three days before the fight his nerves "went" and that until he had six or seven days rest he would not be able to say anything. The Daily Sketch says the fight resulted roundly in a loss of 12,000 pounds sterling to its backers, the receipts amounting to 15,000 pounds sterling against expenses of 27,000 pounds sterling.

BLOOMER GIRLS TO PLAY HERE

Manager Bell of Richard's Belmonts, members of the City Twilight league, announced today that he had signed up the American Bloomer Girls to play his team at Alumni field on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Bloomer Girls are on a tour of the east and will play in Boston on Friday night. They will come to Lowell in their special bus on Saturday morning. They have a very strong team this season and have been meeting with remarkable success in all parts of the country. Frank Ricard, sponsor of the local team, is planning to offer several prizes in connection with the game.

BOXING

Tommy Robson of Malden, who has been inactive for some time, staged a most successful comeback at Boston Monday night, when he won over the hard hitting veteran, George Robinson of Boston. It was one of the most strenuous battles seen in Boston in years, and the large crowd of fans that turned out for the bouts marveled at the speed maintained by the big fellow over the ten-round journey. The decision to Robson was a proper one and the Malden man left the ring amid vigorous applause.

Lowell fans at the Boston bouts Monday night were deeply impressed at the spectacular work of Young Denelo, who triumphed over his rival from the Philippines, Jose Jarvier, now stationed at the Charlestown navy yard. This battle was one of the fastest of the season. Denelo gave away several pounds to Jarvier, but he carried the fight all the way. He was like a rubber ball in action, bouncing in and snapping punches, with the speed and precision of a machine. He gave Jarvier quite a licking, but the sailor boy stood up there gamely, and made many friends by his work. The local spectators when resting Frankie Hebert recently got a draw with Denelo in Washington and previously scored a decision over him, agreed that Hebert is of real championship calibre, even stand in there with such a marvel.

Jackie Williams of Chicago, who fought Archie Walker in Lowell last season and failed to show much class, proved that he is a real fighter in his ten-round bout with Wally Lee at Boston Monday night. He tore at the clever Denver colored boy and outlasted him in a slashing battle. Williams certainly showed a remarkable improvement over his work in the Spindle city.

Charley Mealey, well known in Lowell, handled Williams Monday night, and after the bout said that he was ready to put the Chicago boy against any man of his weight in the country.

TERRY PARKER LOOKS LIKE COMER

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—Terry Parker of Boston, former heavyweight champion, is trading on high since joining the professional ranks, has signed a contract to box under the management of Solly Snyder, who also directs the business affairs of Jackie Clark, A.E.F. middleweight champion.

Parker has defeated the cream of the Boston and New England bantamweights, featherweights, including Andy Martin, twice, Tommy New, Willie Shugrue, Jimmy "Kid" Rice of Portland and lost a questionable decision to "Red" Chapman.

Parker is only 21 years of age and has a very bright future ahead of him. He is very tall for his weight, but can easily scale 125 pounds. He possesses a clever left hand and besides boxes with the skill of Abe Attell, former featherweight champion of the world.

Such wonderful boxing critics as William A. Hamilton, of the Boston Herald, Edding Cunningham, sporting editor of the Boston Traveler, Al Lippe, International boxing manager and Tom Walsh of Chicago, manager of Joe Starnine, Joe Burman and Charlie White, predict that Parker will be the next featherweight champion of the world.

IT'S CUSTOMARY OF COURSE TO BOOST NATIONAL CAPITAL, BUT—

BY HARRY B. HUNT
N.E.A. Service Writer
WASHINGTON, Aug. 12.—Let's hurry to the brick-bat at Washington, the beautiful capital. Let's try to get to the peak behind the false fronts which this city lives.
Washington's population is not a growing population. Although it is called a city, it is in no sense a city. It is parasitic. It lives off the rest of the country.
Washington's population falls into three distinct classes.
First—Employees and officials of the United States government.
Second—Tradesmen and their employees, who feed and clothe the employees and officials of the government.
Third—"Retired" individuals of wealth, with social or political aspirations, who find in life at the capital an opportunity to serve their own interests as well as their own luxuries by being "in the swim" of capital affairs.
The result of this condition is that there is only one group with any permanent interest in the development of the city is the second—the group which lives off the low permanent and less-Washington-minded part of the population.
Many thousands of Washington residents, persons who have lived here for years, never think of Washington as "home."
"Home" is where they came from when they first got their job with the government. It is where they keep their "voluntary residence." It is where they expect to return when they quit government service.
In the meantime, with no voice as to how the city is to be run, with only a "temporary" interest in its affairs, they accept unsatisfactory housing and transportation, high prices and mediocre service, and the dozen and one annoyances and inconveniences that beset the existence of the average sojourner here, as the lot of a temporary dweller anywhere, and make the best of it with a minimum of protest.

Among this group—and it is one of the largest in Washington—there is little loyalty to the capital city.
It has taken from them in full measure for what it has given. It never becomes their city, their home.
They now know too well the rear sides of those false fronts which first attracted them. They may "like" Washington, but their love remains steadfast with Kankakee, Kalamazoo and Walla Walla.
One of the difficulties with Washington, on the material side of its development, has been its intensive development.
Washington is limited by the boundaries of the District of Columbia. It cannot expand. It cannot spread. It cannot sprout extensive suburban areas of comfortable homes and annex them as part of the parent city.
Anything outside the 73 square miles of the District of Columbia Washington.
You may live five miles from the never can hope to be a part of White House, in Virginia, but you are an outlander.
You may live five miles from the White House, and in Maryland, and you are likewise outside the pale.
But you may live seven miles from the White House, and still inside the remotest point of the District line, and the seal of the United States will what may ever be included in the pay 40 per cent of your city taxes.

The result of these fixed limits to beneficence of the nation to its capital city has resulted in a close control by a few large interests of the undeveloped territory still within the District.
This assured monopoly has in turn made possible the capitalization of these lands on a scale which forces their sale in the smallest possible plots.

This makes for congestion and crowding and ugliness, not for a healthy, happy, "beautiful" capital city.

ANNUAL GARDEN PARTY

Brilliant Event in Aid of St.
John's Catholic Mission in Chelmsford

Historic Old Common to Be Gaily Decorated—List of Committees

On Thursday afternoon and evening of this week the town common at Chelmsford Centre will be the scene of a gala and brilliant event when the annual garden party and dance will be held in aid of St. John's Catholic mission. For over a month a large and most enthusiastic group of willing workers have been preparing for the event and the thousand and one details have been perfected in a way that ensures to all who attend a good time that will not be soon forgotten.
As in years past, the beautiful and historic old common will be lavishly decorated with gay booths, flags, bunting and hundreds of electric lights, but this year there will be many more booths and entertaining events than formerly, owing to the determination of the people of St. John's and their good friends to start work on their proposed new church in the near future. In fact one who might have dropped in on the general committee when they were planning their garden party might easily think that they were planning for the great midway on the South common, Lowell, on the night before Fourth. Chelmsford has the reputation of doing things right, and the people of St. John's Mission are determined that their annual day will be no exception.

Thursday afternoon will be devoted to the children, not only of Chelmsford but those of Lowell and surrounding towns who may attend. The main event of the afternoon period will be a baby show, which will be held from 4 to 6
p. m. All babies from six months to two and one-half years are eligible, and all that is necessary is that the babies be registered for the show before 4 o'clock at a special booth which will be erected on the grounds for that purpose. The judges of the event will include three graduate nurses, none of whom shall be from Chelmsford. Valuable prizes will be awarded. From the noon hour until 6 p. m. the older children and grown up folks present will be treated to all the pleasures of a country festival. There will be sports and amusements for the boys and girls, including pony rides, games, the thrills of the fish pond and the not less delightful surprises of the refreshments, ice cream and candy booths. These features for the children will be under the general supervision of Miss Mary Hill, Mrs. Robert Donahue and Miss Mary Sheehan.

The big events for the grown-ups will start sharp at 6 p. m. Ten gaily decorated booths will display their wares and as much fun as possible will be packed into the evening hours. In addition, many talented musical and acrobatic performers have volunteered their services, so that the evening will not be devoid of genuine "thrills."
There will be opportunity for the sharpshooters and the strong men to show their prowess, while all the usual opportunities will be given for the lucky ones to win something worth taking home. Many of the events have been kept secret by the general committee, but a feature of the evening will be a slide show, scheduled for 10 p. m. There will also be an offering by the O'Reilly troupe and a comedy entertainment by a committee of the Y.M.C.A., under the direction of John Payne. Throughout the evening there will be a band concert by the Chelmsford band, and for those who wish to dance, there will be a dancing party in the town hall under the direction of Mr. Walter McMahon.

The list of committees in charge of the big garden party is as follows:

RUGS OF SIMPLE PATTERN ARE BEST

The floor is the foundation of the room. It should remain the foundation, stay in its place, and not haunt itself
before the visitor.
Therefore, the best tone for the floor is dark. And the simplest design the best.
Where the floor is of the light kind,

a dark rug or rugs should cover it, to furnish the simple, dark, unobtrusive background essential to proper decoration.

But on the floor may be placed various rugs, to conform with the taste of the owner and the principle of decoration in the room.

A good oriental rug is far from being dark and simple, far from acting as a background. But it is used in many homes for its intrinsic beauty and value. It, in fact, acts as the centre of the decorative scheme throughout the room.

But in such event, be careful with the selection of your rug. If you do want some design, some color, some life and attraction applied to the floor in a rug or carpet, see that it is not obtrusive and tiring.

A person looks at a floor most easily.
His eyes are soothed by a simple, unobtrusive covering. But let him glance at a rug with varied colors and large pattern, and his eyes hurt from staring at the colors and following the pattern.

If there must be a design in a rug, it should be small, neat, simple and with as little color in it, with as little contrast, as possible. That is next in preference to the simple, dark gray-like covering that makes the best background for the room's furniture and other decorations.

Fatally Shot Wife and Then

Same Gun

NEWARK, N. J., Aug. 12.—Christoph Magalis, 46, fatally shot his wife, Mary, and then killed himself with the same gun at their home early today, in a rage because his wife, angered because he stayed out until after midnight, locked him out. Magalis also fired a wild shot at Miss Mary Averich, of Fall River, Mass., his sister-in-law, who was visiting the family. When Magalis found he could not get in the house he climbed through his wife's bedroom window. She fled to the hall, where he seized her by the throat and shot her in the head, according to Mrs. Averich. Magalis then took his own life by firing a bullet in his brain. Mrs. Magalis died an hour later in the hospital.

20 SHOE CUTTERS QUIT
JOBS AT HAVERHILL

HAVERHILL, Aug. 12.—Twenty cutters employed by the Rickard Shoe company, quit their jobs one by one today, declaring dissatisfaction with their jobs because of a recent decision of Chairman Edwin Newdick of the Haverhill shoe board refusing them an increase in rates. No strike, walkout or cessation of work has been sanctioned by the Shoe Workers' Protective Union where the cutters are members. It is regarded as merely individual action on the part of the cutters and if the firm asks the union to fill their vacancies help will be supplied. If concerted action on the part of the crew can be proven, the action will constitute a violation of the local working agreement.

CAR TURNS SOMERSAULT, TWO MEN INJURED

DANIELSON, Conn., August 12.—Edward J. Burke, of 20 Maxim street, Brockton, Mass., suffered a fracture of the right shoulder and his right leg was broken today when a touring car in which he was riding with a chauffeur turned a somersault on the Providence highway, a mile east of here. The car skidded on a wet pavement. Willis Davies, the chauffeur, also of Brockton, was thrown clear of the car and escaped with minor cuts and bruises. Both were taken to the Day-Kimball hospital at Putnam. Neither is seriously injured.

200 Insane Enter Asylums
Daily, New Survey Shows

BY MAURICE HENLE

N. E. A. Service Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Insanity is increasing steadily in the United States. At present more than 200 persons enter asylums each day.

In 1890 there were 106,000 insane in the country.

By 1924 this has increased to nearly 300,000.

If the present rate of increase should continue in 150 years one person out of every 200 will be insane.

Population of asylums and institutions for mental disorders is increasing from three to five per cent annually—and there is no sign of a let-up. Corridors of some institutions have to be used as dormitories.

Dr. Raymond F. C. Kieb, medical superintendent of Matteawan State gave lectures, with very little or no clinical work. Those days are past.

"There is another reason for taking an optimistic view. There has been increasing signs of confidence by the public in hospitals for mental diseases."

In Matteawan the "population" has increased steadily for the past 20 years. But Dr. Kieb warns that statistics should be closely examined for their true value.

"The increase has been in population," he says, "not in admissions. This means that there has been a steady accumulation. Some patients stay in institutions for years—some even 40 years."

Patients are admitted to institutions now, he points out, where in former years their cases would have gone unnoticed by their families, because the eccentricity of the patient would not have been understood.

"The immigration problem today presents a serious aspect. Many persons are admitted every year who should not be. Their admission would not be possible if a thorough examination were given the immigrant before he sailed for this country."

"For instance," Dr. Kieb says, "let us say a steamer comes over with 1500 passengers. It is impossible for the inspectors to give each one more than superficial examination. Some types of insanity do not come to the surface immediately. A large percentage of immigrants find their way in hospitals for mental diseases."

In one sense, Dr. Kieb thinks, our increasing civilization is responsible for the increase in insanity. With the advance of medical science, life has been prolonged. Many forms of insanity do not come on until later years, and so people who would have died in former years at an early age due to lack of medical knowledge, now live on.

Twenty persons a day are admitted into asylums in New York state alone. There are more people under institutional care in New York than in any other state.

Dr. Kieb warns parents to watch for early signs of eccentricity in children, and to consult with competent physicians. Education is the one hope for those striving to fight mental diseases.

One thing is certain: Our asylums have three times as many patients today as they had 30 years ago.

More important than "population" of asylums, however, is the number of "new patients." In New York state alone in 1910, the number of new cases was 5914; in 1915 it increased to 6890; in 1922 it increased to 7408.

Dr. Kieb has definite ideas about our immigration problem. Speaking of his own institution, he says:

"For the past 15 years the foreign-born averaged 46.9 per cent of admissions. During 1923 there were 73 foreign-born admissions, or 47 per cent."

"Without any desire to advocate closing of our ports of entry to those attracted to this country by its wealth and advantages and who seriously wish to become a part of it, there is nevertheless a great necessity for selective immigration to prevent the unloading on our soil of the physically and mentally unfit from other countries."

"I believe that the unit are purposely sent here with the expectation that our rich and charitable country will take care of them—which it does. The government should weed out undesirable on arrival."

FOR WASHING HAIR

An excellent soap jelly for washing the hair is made by shaving a bar of castile soap and dissolving it in about an equal amount of water with a teaspoon of borax for every pint of water.

BUY NEW RUBBERS

It is better to buy new rubbers for your fruit cans than take chances on old ones which may be defective and spoil your fruit.

SETS COLORS

Borax helps set color, so a little added to the water in which cotton clothes are to be washed is of great advantage.

NEAT APPEARANCE

To paint all the tin containers in which you keep your food a color that harmonizes with the kitchen wall will insure a neat appearance.

DR. RAYMOND F. C. KIEB

Hospital for the Insane, takes an optimistic view of the problem.

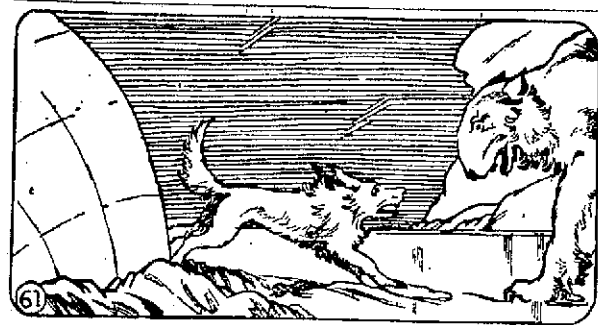

"There was a time," he said, "when psychiatry did not have an important place in medical schools. Some schools ignored it. Others merely

COMMON SENSE

When a merchant advertises his wares in a newspaper, he does not appeal to the paper, but to its readers. He solicits the patronage of those readers whether he agrees with the policy of the paper or not.

To refrain from advertising in a paper of wide circulation simply because he does not agree with the editor on all public questions, is not using common sense. It is a form of business suicide. It has sent many short-sighted business men into bankruptcy. A dealer might as well put a sign over his store notifying all who do not think as he does that he does not want their patronage. Readers of newspaper advertisements know when and where their patronage is welcome.

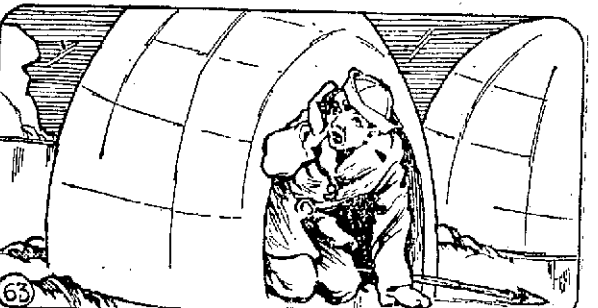

Jack Daw's Adventures. Chapter 21

The bear growled. Flip barked. Both bristled with anger, for each thought the other was an unwelcome visitor. Gradually the bear drew closer. Flip would have made a tasty mouthful for him. But the little dog wasn't afraid. He kept up his defiant barking.

But Jack stuck his head out of the ice mound just in time to grab Flip and hold him back. It wasn't an easy job, for the dog was enraged and wanted to show the bear that he wasn't afraid. But he didn't realize that he was putting Jack in danger, too. For the bear would just as soon have eaten the little boy, too.

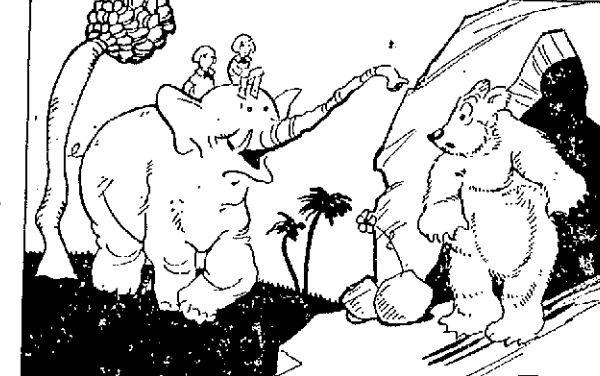

Just then one of the sailors crept out of his little mound. The noise of Flip's barking and the bear's growling aroused him. The bear was edging away to make a new attack on the other side of Jack's mound. The sailor saw the new danger and acted quickly. (Continued.)

ADVENTURES OF THE TWINS

by Olive Roberts Barton

WHY THE TWINS LEFT BUSTER BEAR

HE WAS SO SURPRISED TO SEE THEM

"I think I'd kind of like to visit Buster Bear on my vacation," said Weeny. "He's so cute, and I'm sure Buster would like to have you, too."

"Where does he live?" asked Nick. "In a woods on the side of a mountain," said Weeny. "Nancy, will you please shake the wrinkles out of my nightgown and pack it up for me? I can go to Buster's house all wrinkled up. And where are my spears?"

"You have them on," laughed Nancy. "They're right on your nose." "Ha, ha, ha! I declare!" laughed Weeny. "If they'd been a snake they'd have bitten me. That's me for you! Here, Nancy, I'll take them off and you can pack them, too."

"So Nancy packed the spears and then she and Nick trotted off—I mean Weeny trotted off with them on his back. I mean the twins on his back, not the spears."

I don't know what places they crossed, but it was about a dozen things, and by and by they came to the tree-covered mountain side where Buster lived in a cave house with his mother and daddy.

When Weeny climbed up and rang the door-bell, Buster answered it, for indeed there was no one else to do it. He was all by himself.

He was so surprised to see them that all he could say was, "Goodnight!"

"You should say, 'Good-day,'" said Weeny, wrapping his trunk around Buster's neck and giving him a kiss. "Good-night—I mean 'Hello,'" said Buster, doing a little dance. "I'm as glad as sixty to see you. Where are you going?"

"Here," said Weeny, sitting down to let the twins slide off his back. "We've come to pay you a visit. Have you got any room?"

"Oodles!" said Buster. "Ma and Daddy are away on a trip and I'm all by myself. And I was just wondering what I was going to do. But now we can have a good time. Four is a dandy number. We can't play ball or prisms' base, but we can play tag and hide-and-seek and all sorts of games."

"Yes, I can cook anything in cans," said Nancy. "And hot eggs and make tea."

"We'll have a perfect picnic," said Buster Bear. "Come on in and take off your things and we'll have a game of hide-and-seek right away. Talk about circus!"

Well, I haven't got much room left to tell you all about it, but the visitors stayed five days with Buster and then Mr. and Mrs. Bear came home.

"Buster, did you get the cellar cleaned as I told you?" said Mrs. Bear. "No, ma'am," said Buster, hanging his head.

"Or the fence whitewashed or the ash-can emptied or the wood cut or—

"Oh, ma, we had such a good time I forgot," said Buster.

"I think we're packing and moving along," said Weeny to the twins. (To Be Continued.)

EFFECT OF RICHNESS

AIM OF STYLE EXPERTS

BY MARIAN HALE

N.Y.A. Service Writer

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—The effect of richness and sumptuousness in what style experts of this country are going to try to popularize for fall and winter.

Gorgeous colors, velvets, brocades and furs that look expensive and luxurious are being prepared to take up the challenge of the simple crepe gowns with the effect of no trimming that have been so popular the past season.

The present-day styles please everyone but the manufacturers. Women like them because they are so casual and easy to wear. Men like them because they look so simple and youthful. But manufacturers dislike them because it is so hard to make them look like money.

To be sure, effective simplicity is expensive, but only the knowing eye discerns this. The untrammelled hats of today cost much more than the plumage-laden ribbon-bedecked creations of ten years ago.

The simple chiffon or crepe gowns that are so much more stylish than the elaborately beaded or embroidered ones cost more because the lines make it better and the workmanship above reproach.

But it is hard to educate women to pay a fabulous price for a gown that has apparently only a few yards of expensive material with no adornment of any kind.

Whereas a woman parts cheerfully with money for a gown that gives the effect of sumptuousness and outfit, Paris is holding out for simplicity because the Parisienne will pay for line. American dealers want a radical change toward more sophisticated styles. Above are some of their efforts.

The velvet bouffant gown is of ocean blue velvet trimmed with metal lace and chinchilla fur. The evening gown with cape to match is embroidered with colored beads to harmonize with the burnt orange lining. Both garments are swathed with silk fur.

The coat dress is of printed velvet trimmed with silk fox.

Will Construct Macadam Roadway

Supt. Frederick W. Ford, Jr., of Methuen has been officially notified that the state highway division of public works will take over that section of Broadway from the Stevens bungalow, at the junction of Hampshire street, to the state line, in Methuen, and will construct a 20-foot macadam roadway to Messer's crossing, collecting the cost of the final short stretch from the state of New Hampshire. The work will be started about Sept. 1.

This will create a new direct through route from Boston to the White mountains and will eliminate the need of using Hampshire street, which is a narrow road with winding curves that have been responsible for numerous accidents in the past. The town of Methuen has appropriated $10,000—one-third share toward the cost of the new construction.

To the Honorable the Judges of the Probate Court in and for the County of Middlesex:

Respectfully I hereby and represents Bella Potvin of Lowell, in the County of Middlesex and Commonwealth of Massachusetts that she was lawfully married to Albert Potvin also called Albany Potvin, now of Paris, and known at Biddeford, in the State of Maine, on the twenty-sixth day of September, A. D. 1918, and thereafter your libellant and the said libellee lived together as husband and wife in this Commonwealth, to wit at said Lowell, that your libellant has always been faithful to their marriage vows and obligations, but the said libellee being wholly regardless of the same, at said Lowell, on or about the first day of April, 1918, utterly deserted your libellant and continued such desertion from said last mentioned date until the date hereof, being more than three consecutive years next prior to the filing of this libel and at said Biddeford and at said Lowell, on or about the first day of October, 1918, to on or about the first day of April, 1919, was guilty of cruel and abusive treatment towards your libellant. Your libellant further says that she has lived in this Commonwealth for more than five years last preceding the filing of this libel.

Wherefore your libellant prays that a divorce from the bond of matrimony be granted your libellant and the said libellee be decreed and further that the court decree that your libellant be allowed to resume her maiden name, to wit, Bella Potvin.

Dated this second day of July, A. D. 1924.

COUNCIL PASSES $75,000 ORDER FOR SEWER CONSTRUCTION

Proposition to Run a 16-Inch Water Main to the Oaklands is Defeated—Council Passes Supplementary Budget Calling for $73,285

The city council last night passed an emergency order appropriating $75,000 for sewer construction and voted down by six votes to five the administration measure calling for a like sum for the purpose of running a 16-inch water main to the Oaklands.

A compromise measure offered by President Gallagher and provided that $75,000 be spent for the extension of present water mains failed to meet anything like spontaneous accord or enthusiasm and was withdrawn by its author.

The supplementary budget, calling for $73,285, of which sum $31,500 was for the board of public service and $41,785 for the charities department, was passed with but little comment. Several councilors took advantage of the presence of members of the board of public service to complain that while the board was given $34,000 to expend on sewers this year there has been little seen by them that would be regarded as reflecting judicious expenditure.

The board of elections commissioners was also singled out for a smart rap, objections being raised to the location of the polling booth in Dummer street and the suggestion being made that the booth be moved to the school street bridge. Councillor Fitzgerald explained the location of the booth had been changed because the street department was expecting to enter the square where the booth is usually placed.

Meeting in Detail
Messrs. Chadwick, Chretien, Daly and Lambert were absent. The meeting scheduled to start at 7:45 o'clock was a few minutes more than the customary hour and a quarter late.

At the opening of the session the city solicitor introduced in order authorizing the mayor to make agreements with the proprietors of the Locks and Canals and the Boston and Maine railroad as to repairs to the School street bridge. A copy of the agreement was attached. The city solicitor explained that there is litigation pending in superior court which will establish liability for bridge repairs. Under this agreement drawn between the city and the two corporations the locks and canals owners will repair the bridge and ultimate payment will be made by whoever the courts hold liable. A brief discussion preceded unanimous endorsement.

It was voted to ask the board of public service to furnish an estimate of cost for the elevation of the Tenth street reservoir sufficiently to make an appreciable increase in pressure in pipes served from Christian Hill.

A petition for an itinerant vendor's license, made by Teddy's Shoe Shop, was tabled. This is the second application to reach the body and action was deferred pending a written opinion from the city solicitor as to whether it is mandatory upon the council to issue the license.

Hearings on new petitions by public utilities concerns for pole locations were set for Sept. 2. Orders for sewers in Raynor street, Mount View street and Fletcher street passed second reading. Action was deferred until the next regular meeting on petitions for improvements of a like nature in Highland avenue and Mt. Hope street.

Carrying the approval of the city solicitor and the board of health the petition for the right to establish a burial ground in Cunningham street for the Polish people of Lowell was granted.

Water Main Extensions
Councillor Cosgrove took the chair while President Gallagher spoke for his order providing $75,000 for extension of water mains throughout the city rather than for the Oaklands project. Mr. Gallagher took for his chief points the claim that extension of all mains would make matters more conducive to the annexation of East Chatham and the Navy Yard section of Dracut and that main extensions thus made would be revenue producing as well.

Mr. Gallagher further claimed that greater relief to unemployment would be gained through his measure as more could be put to work in separate departments than on the one main job. Mr. Sadler spoke against citing the fact that main extensions are now keeping astride with building while sewer work is way behind. Mr. McFadden asked Chairman Murphy of the service board as to status of sewer work. Mr. Murphy replied it would require $200,000 to get caught up with pending applications.

Mr. Murphy urged the passage of the water main order saying this in his mind was of prime necessity as the danger always exists of the present main under the river breaking and cutting off the water supply of the Oaklands. Mr. Stearns later claimed that this could not happen as there is an idle 24-inch pipe under the river now with gates ready to be cut in such an emergency.

Mr. Cosgrove called upon Mr. McFadden to take chair in order that he might join with President Gallagher in the debate from the floor. Mr. Stearns said he thought the increasing of the altitude of the high service reservoir of prime importance and next in order the acquisition of land on the right side of the Merrimack, opposite the boulevard pumping station, for more wells. Thirdly, he said, Cook wells should receive attention and be put into constant use. As to the Oaklands main idea he said "there is already about this case, to me, the idea of an unnecessary expenditure of money. This would be termed by some people a waste of money. I am not ready to subscribe to that statement but many could be found who would."

Gallagher Order Tabled
Mr. Stearns moved to table the Gallagher order and the motion carried by 8 to 2. Messrs. Cosgrove and Gallagher against. Mr. Gallagher resumed the chair and declared a 5-minute recess before taking the supplementary budget.

After the recess Mr. McFadden introduced the sewer order as a compromise and it was carried. Mr. Gallagher then withdrew his order. Mr. Cosgrove moved to table the emergency clause having been rejected at last Friday night's meeting the question, came on the adoption of the order. Five voted to adopt and six against and the president declared the motion lost, lacking the necessary two-thirds by five votes.

FINE POTATO CROP
TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 13.—Central New Jersey potato growers are beginning this week to harvest a two million bushel crop. Preliminary reports indicate that it will be the finest quality crop ever produced in this state. At least four thousand car loads will be shipped out of the central potato belt, it is estimated.

THE MAJOR TELLS HIS DEFENSE PLANS

TO HOLD LAWN PARTY THE PLATO ASSOCIATION ELECTS OFFICERS

Collinsville Church Affair
Will Also Take Nature of
Reception to New Pastor

A mass meeting of the parishioners of St. Mary's church, Collinsville, was held last night in Harmony hall and preliminary plans were laid for the grand lawn party, the first of its kind to be held in the parish for some time. There was a large attendance of the men and women of the parish and it was evident that the idea of a lawn party was immensely popular and as the evening wore on and the preliminary plans began to take shape there was an abundance of enthusiasm indeed.

Town Clerk John W. Brennan was elected chairman of the meeting and Leo Marshall, secretary. The date was definitely settled as Saturday, August 30, and the place, the grounds surrounding Harmony hall, which lends itself admirably to a fine out-door event. Sub-committees on various features were appointed, and for an initial meeting, it was a fine start.

Rev. Daniel J. Heffernan, pastor of the parish, was present, and expressed himself as delighted with the attendance of parishioners. It augured well, he said, for the success of any movement to see such a large body of men and women enthusiastic for the putting over the project. He spoke briefly of his happy experience since assuming the pastorate of St. Mary's and was deeply appreciative, he said, of the assistance that has been given him.

It was stated today by several members of the committee in charge that the lawn party will be the medium of bringing the members of the parish to meet the new pastor, and the affair will undoubtedly resolve itself into a reception for the energetic clergyman.

The Lowell representation at the affair will be very large, for anything in which Rev. Fr. Hoffman is interested will draw a big crowd of friends from the city as well as from his native city of Lawrence.

Another meeting will be held next Tuesday evening when sub-committees will report on their plans and ideas.

SEEKS CO-OPERATION OF CHIEFS OF POLICE

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, Aug. 13.—Chiefs of police all over the commonwealth were requested today by Frank A. Goodwin, registrar of motor vehicles, to co-operate with him in a drive against unlicensed drivers of motor vehicles. Mr. Goodwin estimates that there are in the state today fully 20,000 drivers who have no right to operate a motor vehicle, and he points out that they comprise chiefly the lawless element, men who because of unfitness have not been able to secure a license, or those whose licenses have been revoked for cause, and who are operating in defiance of the law.

In his letter, sent today to every chief of police in the state, the registrar says in part:
"Reports of my inspectors indicate a widespread violation of the law requiring an operator to have a license. I think it is conservative to say that at least 20,000 persons are now operating illegally, and they are necessarily of the lawless element. They are either persons who have not been able to get their licenses because they are unfit, or have had their licenses revoked and are naturally lawless and irresponsible.

If such persons would make a drive on this type of violator and in addition to prosecuting them, notify me as soon as possible of the name of the offender and the registration numbers of the cars so that I may take the plates away at once.

"The killing of little children does not decrease. Practically every case of this kind happens in the cities and thickly settled parts of towns. The only remedy is to allow the motorist down in such places and I hope you will do what you can to remedy this condition.

Very truly yours,
FRANK A. GOODWIN,
Registrar.
HOYT.

At the business meeting held on Monday last, the sum of $10 was contributed by the members for the purchase of a fountain pen to be presented by the association president to Komnenos Soukarras for excellent work accomplished during his high school career. Mr. Soukarras was the valedictorian of his class at the Lowell high school commencement exercises last June.

The Plato association proposes to conduct a series of lectures, starting some time next month.

U. S. SEN. COLT CRITICALLY ILL

BRISTOL, R. I., Aug. 13.—United States Senator LeBaron Colt, critically ill with heart trouble and nephritis at his home here, was still conscious today, but his condition continued serious. His physicians said that the heart action and blood pressure were nearly normal.

MATRIMONIAL

Gagne—Asselin
Mr. J. A. S. Gagne and Miss Annette Asselin, two well known local young people, were married Monday at St. Louis church by Rev. J. B. Labossiere, pastor. Mr. J. A. Gagne and Mr. N. Asselin, fathers of the bridegroom and bride respectively attended the couple. Miss Jeanne Asselin acted as flower girl. The bride was attractively gowned in moonlight satin, trimmed with beads. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents in Beaulieu street, at which guests were present from Warren, R. I., and Pithsburg. Mr. Gagne is assistant treasurer of the Bureau Bros. Inc., while Mrs. Gagne was formerly employed at Morse & Beals. Mr. and Mrs. Gagne will make their home at 174 Dalton street, where they will be at home to friends after Sept. 15.

DAVIS BACK IN EAST TO PLAN FOR INTENSIVE CAMPAIGN

Prepares to Conduct Drive Without Gloves—First
Speech at Columbus, Ohio—G. O. P. Leaders
Gather in Washington for Coolidge Notification

ABOARD THE METROPOLITAN SPECIAL, ENROUTE TO NEW YORK, Aug. 13, John W. Davis, democratic presidential candidate, was back in the east today to prepare for an intensive campaign which he has told leaders of his party he intends to conduct without gloves.

His drive to carry his message to the country will be inaugurated with his trip to Columbus, O., to address the democratic state convention on Aug. 28. Meanwhile, Clem L. Shaver, his campaign manager, and other party chiefs will make every endeavor to complete the campaign organization, which now is far behind that of the republicans. Messages reaching Mr. Davis have confirmed his belief in the radio as a means of reaching a large unseen audience with campaign messages. National Committee man Dooley, of Fort Rico, cabled that he had heard Mr. Davis' speech perfectly by radio, and similar reports came from Maine and the Pacific coast.

The candidate expressed surprise that the heavy downpour of rain in which he spoke had not interfered with transmission. He declared that at times the rain was beating down on the table holding the microphones with such force that he could scarcely hear his own voice.

Coolidge Notification Tomorrow
WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Republican leaders from all parts of the country assembled here today for the exercises tomorrow night at which President Coolidge will be formally notified of his nomination by the Cleveland convention.

The address of the president accepting the nomination is expected by the party leaders to set forth merely the principles on which the republican campaign will be based, since it was written before John W. Davis, the democratic nominee, delivered his corresponding address at Clarkburg, W. Va., and could not, therefore, be regarded as a direct reply to the latter's statements.

The president had a light program today to permit him to spend some time in preparation for delivery of his address. All members of the national committee, as well as republican governors and members of congress and others prominent in the party affairs have been invited to attend the ceremonies.

Women to Aid La Follette
WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—With Senator La Follette's approval, the task of organizing women voters in behalf of his candidacy for the presidency has been placed in the hands of women. Mrs. Mabel C. Costigan, of Colorado, wife of Commissioner Costigan of the tariff commission, has been made chairman of a committee of women which will have charge of the work. It is planned to have a membership of at least 100 and to give representation to every state.

The committee will maintain headquarters here and in Chicago, where Mrs. Gladys James of Illinois, in charge of activities in the west, will be stationed. Regional offices also may be established at other points.

The first move, Mrs. Costigan said today, will be to organize women known to be in sympathy with the La Follette-for-president movement. Then other recruits will be sought.

Davis in New York
NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—John W. Davis, democratic presidential candidate arrived here early today from Clarkburg, W. Va., and immediately went to his headquarters in an apartment hotel for conferences with a number of those in charge of his campaign organization.

Among those with whom Mr. Davis had engagements was Senator Pittman of Nevada, of the speakers' bureau, who has had assembled for him a large amount of data to be used in the preparation of addresses to be delivered later in the campaign.

The itinerary of the speaking tours which the candidate is to make is now blocked out, but information regarding it is being withheld until final approval is given.

TRIPLE TRAGEDY AT LINDSAY, ONT.

Mrs. Fanning, Strangled
Daughters, Then Attempted Suicide

Little Girls Hanged on Improvised Gallows After Which Mother Cuts Throat

LINDSAY, Ont., Aug. 13.—A triple tragedy was enacted on a remote farm in the south of here yesterday when Mrs. George Fanning, 33, strangled her two daughters, Bernice and Lois, aged 7 and 8 years, on an improvised gallows and then attempted to end her life by cutting her throat.

As George Fanning, the father and husband, returned from a visit to Lindsay, he found his wife sitting on her bed with a wound in her throat. In an adjoining room he saw the children, dressed in their best clothes, slide by side upon a cot, apparently in deep sleep.

Fanning attempted to rouse them. They did not respond. It was then he saw around their throats a tight-by-drawn cord. Investigation convinced that they had been suspended from a plank to the top of a cistern in the potato bin.

Fanning learned that the mother, after having hung her children, had cut them down, dressed them and placed them on their bed. Then she had applied the knife to her own throat. She was given medical attention and is expected to recover.

"I don't know why she did it," Fanning said. "She was always so kind to them and she dearly loved them."

A coroner's inquest was begun late yesterday and adjourned for further consideration of the case until Friday night.

FEARS SPREAD OF REBELLION
MANAGAL, Nicaragua, Aug. 12.—Advices received here state that unless there is intervention, the rebellion in Honduras will become general. The situation is said to be grave and the Nicaraguan government is sending additional troops to the frontier to preserve neutrality by preventing the rebels from using this country as a base for their sallies.

TO FIX MOTIVE FOR MURDER

Authorities Begin to Build
Up Case Against Dr.
Thiery of Somerville

Physicians Report Ac-
pital, Making Progress

SOMERVILLE, Mass., Aug. 12.—With Dr. Raymond D. Thiery under arrest at the Massachusetts General hospital on the charge of murdering his brother-in-law, David M. Noble, as he entered the Thiery residence here last Friday night, the local and state authorities began to build up their case against Dr. Thiery, seeking particularly to establish the motive of the shooting.

Physicians reported at the hospital that Dr. Thiery, although still weak from the effects of an operation performed at his request to relieve him from a rupture which he said he had received in a struggle with an intruder whom he told the police he had encountered in his home immediately after the shooting, was making good progress. The police continued their efforts to establish the motive of the shooting.

DEATHS

STOKHAM—Mrs. Eliza Stokham died yesterday at her home, 25 Bleachery street, aged 71 years, 9 months and 10 days. She is survived by four sons, Henry A. Stokham of this city; several grandchildren and one great-grandchild; two brothers, William and Alexander, both of St. Stephen, N. B., and one sister, Mrs. William Carmichael of St. Stephen, N. B.

THURBERG—Bronie (Pontane) Thuerberg died this morning at her home, 124 Allen street, after a long illness, which she suffered with patience and resignation. Deceased was 47 years old. She leaves to mourn her loss her husband, George; three daughters, Mrs. Charles Eugene Levesque of Montreal and the Misses Juliette and Valeria, both of Lowell; two brothers, Herman and Zephin Pontane, both of this city; a sister, Mrs. Thine Rivers, P. Q.; one sister, Mrs. Kuno of Quebec. Deceased was a member of St. Ann's parish of St. Bridget's parish in Montreal.

STURVEY—Charles S. Turvey died yesterday afternoon at his home, 334 Walker street, aged 38 years, 3 months and 22 days. He is survived by his wife, Bessie B. Turvey; a daughter, Winona G. Turvey of Lowell; his father and mother, Mr. and Mrs. William E. Turvey, Jr., all of Frederickton, N. B. Mr. Turvey was a member of the Episcopal church of Frederickton, N. B.

GUILLOTTE—The many friends of Thomas D. and Emma (Bacher) Guillette will regret to hear of the death of their little daughter, Muriel A. Guillette, who died at the State hospital this morning, aged 1 year, 7 months. The body was removed to the Funeral home of Undertakers Mahoney Bros.

CARD OF THANKS
We, the undersigned, wish to express our thanks and appreciation for the kindness shown to us in our recent bereavement by the loss of our beloved husband and brother, Patrick Bourke. We wish to thank the Railway Brotherhood association and the Fraternal Order of Eagles, also the Sisters of the Sacred Heart and all who sent floral or spiritual offerings. We will ever hold them in loving remembrance.

MRS. MARGARET ROURKE,
MRS. J. KENNEDY,
MRS. R. CALLAHAN,
MRS. M. CASSIDY.

IN MEMORY
This day brings back the memory of a dear son and brother, Thomas Tully, who passed away Aug. 14, 1923, but who is still fondly remembered by his loving friends.

Sadly missed by
MR. AND MRS. JAMES TULLY and Family.

ST. BERNARD DOG IS VERY VICIOUS

The St. Bernard dog that was held at the police headquarters because of his appetite for automobile tires, has now acquired a taste for wooden boxes. Agent Richardson of the Humane society stated this morning that the dog had been removed from police headquarters in the society's animal ambulance and taken to the animal hospital. During the trip the dog displayed such violent temper that the attendant was forced to barricade himself behind a wall of transport boxes. Unable to reach the man, the dog vented his rage on one of the boxes, tearing and chewing it to pieces. He is now held for observation by Dr. Walter Sherman who suspects rabies.

FUNERALS

NOHAN—After solemn and impressive services at the Sacred Heart church, the remains of John J. Nohan, a well known resident of this city, and for the past twenty-four years a janitor at the annex of the Lowell high school, were tenderly consigned to earth in St. Patrick's cemetery this morning, followed in the grave by a large gathering of relatives, friends and associates. The cortege left the home of the deceased, 43 Anderson street at 9:15 o'clock and proceeded to the Sacred Heart church where at 10 o'clock a solemn high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. Dennis A. Sullivan, O.M.I., as celebrant; Rev. Bernard Fletcher, O.M.I., as deacon and Rev. Charles Barry, O.M.I., as sub-deacon. Seated within the sanctuary were Rev. William McFadden, O.M.I. and Rev. William Noonan, O.M.I., D.C. The choir, consisting of the Gregorian choir, the solps being sustained by Mr. James Garrity and Miss Mary Garrity. At the offertory Thomas A. Ginty sang "O Meritum Passionis." Miss Veronique Barr presided at the organ. The church was filled with friends of the family, sisters of the Sacred Heart convent, city officials, representatives of all walks of life, as well as members of the older families of the parish. There was a profusion of beautiful floral offerings and a large number of spiritual offerings. The bearers were Messrs. John Sullivan, James Duddy, Patrick Pells, Peter Farrington, Michael Egan and John Veleh. The following delegation represented the School Juniors' Association: Michael Finnegan, Arthur Dana, John Barrett, Patrick J. Mahoney, John Kelly and John O'Connor. Burial took place in St. Patrick's cemetery where the committal prayers were read by Rev. Fr. Sullivan, O.M.I., assisted by Rev. Fr. Fletcher, O.M.I., Rev. Fr. Noonan, D.C. and Rev. Fr. McFadden, O.M.I. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers M. H. McDonough Sons.

DUGAN—The funeral of Elizabeth Dugan took place this morning at 8:30 o'clock from 14 Highland street and was attended by sorrowing relatives and friends. The funeral cortege proceeded to St. Patrick's cemetery where at 9 o'clock a funeral high mass of requiem was sung by Rev. Peter T. Linehan. The choir sang the Gregorian chant, the solos being sustained by Miss Mary Egan and James E. Donnelly. Mr. Raymond Kelly presided at the organ. There was a number of floral and spiritual offerings. The bearers were Messrs. Joseph Dugan, Jeremiah Tobin, Fred Howe and James Watson. Burial took place in St. Patrick's cemetery where the committal prayers were read by Rev. Fr. Linehan. The funeral arrangements were in charge of Undertakers M. H. McDonough Sons.

ST. HILARY—The funeral of Joseph St. Hilary took place this morning from the home of his uncle, Omar St. Hilary, 756 Merrimack street. High funeral mass was celebrated in St. Joseph's church at 8 o'clock by Very Rev. Eugene Turcotte, O.M.I. The choir, under the direction of Telesphore Mado, sang the Gregorian chant. Miss Lena B. Camire was the organist. The bearers were Donald St. Hilary, Wilfred St. Hilary, Andre Frechette and Armand Frechette. Burial was in the family lot in St. Joseph's cemetery where Rev. Augustus Gratton, O.M.I., read the committal prayers. Arrangements were in charge of Funeral Director Joseph Albert.

WASIK—The funeral of Mrs. Mary Wasik took place yesterday morning from 6 Oak street and was largely attended by friends and relatives. At 8:30 o'clock a funeral mass was celebrated at Holy Trinity (Polish) church by Rev. Ignacy Truszyński. The bearers were John Wolek, Anthony Wolek, John Zaleski, Stanley Dangel, Joseph Sosnowski and Frank Urbowicz. Burial took place in the family lot in St. Patrick's cemetery where Rev. L. Truszyński read the committal prayers. The arrangements were in charge of Joseph J. Sadowski.

G. A. R. ENCAMPMENT

Visit Points of Interest

BOSTON, August 12.—The G.A.R. forces assembled this morning for the formal session of their 58th annual encampment. The sons, daughters and wives of the G.A.R. veterans also met in convention sessions of their respective allied organizations.

Following the business of the morning, each of the groups attended special luncheons and then spent the afternoon in friendly talks or visits to points of interest in Boston, especially the navy yard, which made special efforts to observe this day, which had been designated as navy day.

Paraders Wildly Cheered

The surviving veterans of the Grand Army of the Republic braved chills and pneumonia yesterday to give their colors more to the breezes of this loyal northern city, where they sadly admit those banners will never flutter again in a national encampment.

In spite of this grim decree of fate, of sombre skies, sodden decorations and in spite of the rain that lashed the route of their march, their progress through the streets of Boston yesterday was not a sad one. Old-time gaily ran through the column, and the gayest people in Boston were the men who marched in the thinned ranks, and many an old veteran executed a jig-step or cut a pigeon-wing just to show that the late Comrade John I. Parker's lines "What though grim age comes on space our hearts shall not grow old," had a living witness in him.

Bravest Show Ever

Perhaps not more than 6000 of the old boys joined in the parade, including those who were carried in automobiles; certainly not more than 7000, but some who have seen the parades at each of the four Boston encampments considered that this was the bravest show that the Grand Army ever made. Among the 2000—perhaps 2500—who dared the elements and declared stoutly "I came here to march," some were aged men and one walked on crutches.

Cheer on cheer went up for the brave old chaps all along the route, just as the veterans and all the workers in behalf of the encampment had asked. It was hearty, sincere cheering in which the thoughtful middle-aged vivid with the youth and the little children joined. The noisy greeting was swelled by mechanical noise-makers, watchmen's rattles and bells. A pretty, bright-haired miss in an office building overlooking Park square leaned out like Barbara Frolic, only instead of a flag she had a ball, about the size of the teacher's ball in the old district school. Her demonstration caused many a kink to be blown to her by men old enough to be her great-grandfathers.

SEVERE EARTHQUAKES IN JAPAN REPORTED

TOKIO, Aug. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—Earthquakes, described as "fairly severe" were reported in the Kobe, Osaka and Nagoya area. Reports from Nagoya said that the water mains there were broken by the tremors, cutting off the water supply and flooding the streets. No casualties have been reported. The disturbances are alarming the citizenry.

Residents Forced to Flee
TOKIO, Aug. 12.—(By the Associated Press)—An earthquake which shook western Honshu and Shikoku this morning, forced residents to flee from their homes in several towns. In despatches received here no casualties or material damage was reported.

RADIO SIGNALS SENT FROM MOVING TRAIN

By N.R.A. Service
LONDON, Aug. 11.—Amateurs of the Radio Society of Great Britain have succeeded in sending and receiving radio signals on a moving train.
This is the first time in the history of this science that both transmission and reception of wireless messages to and from a moving train succeeded.
The train was going from London to Newcastle, recently, a distance of 275 miles, when messages from it were exchanged with Station 6XX here and other amateur stations along the route. Station 6XX is the official station of the British radio society.
The transmitting and receiving apparatus was for short waves and the power was only a few watts. The antenna wires were stretched inside the car from end to end, instead of being the regulation outside wires. Yet the experimenters succeeded in conversing with amateurs 100 miles away.

SOME "FISTS"

The controversy about who's the father of broadcasting won't be easy to judge, considering the complexity of claims.
Station WWJ, owned by the Detroit News, for instance, enters into the wrangle for first honors in broadcasting on the claim that it began a regular broadcasting schedule on Aug. 30, 1922, more than two months before station KDKA at East Pittsburgh, Pa., began its regular schedule.
However, KDKA maintains broadcasting had been going on more or less regularly ever since October, 1919, while station WGI at Medford Hillside, Mass., still claims actual first prize for the claim of having started broadcasting in December of 1916.
Well—who's first?

PREPARE FOR FAIR

Amateurs not only in the United States but in other countries are experimenting on receiving and transmitting sets to take part in the Amateur Builders' Contest at the Radio World's Fair in Madison Square Garden, New York, Sept. 22 to 28. Entries are coming in from Europe, South America and other foreign points.

DOCTOR BY RADIO

Senator Marconi, famous Italian radio engineer predicts physicians will be summoned and their advice taken by radio. He asks: "Who says that in the future some means will not be perfected to permit the doctor to study his patient and diagnose his complaint by wireless?"

LIBERAL IN CUBA

BROADCAST LICENSES

Broadcasting stations licensed to transmit under agreement with the American Telephone & Telegraph Co. pay a license fee of from $500 to $3000. This is paid only once to cover the entire use of the licensed apparatus.

TALKING TO ENGLAND

Long distance talks with London and other British cities may be common after the erection of a contemplated 200-kilowatt radio telephone station in England. Engineers are now talking to England, although their activity is experimental.

RADIO ON THE FARM

One farm in every 17 in Ohio is equipped with radio, reports C. J. West, federal crop statistician for that state. He adds they are in 7500 rural homes in that state.

RADIO IN SPAIN

Radio is growing in Spain since the government has permitted amateurs the use of wavelengths below 150 meters and power up to 100 watts. There are now about 100 amateur transmitters in the country.

HIGHEST STATION

Station PS, mounted atop one of the Serra's mountains in Santos, Brazil, is said to be the highest radio station in the world.

Glass-Enclosed Porch, Casement Windows Feature This Home

A porch entirely glazed in, and included under the sweep of the main roof, becomes really a sixth room in this pretty house, and is usable the year 'round. Casement windows are especially attractive in effecting this result, and when properly fitted with hardware and frames are as practical as double hung windows. Casements have the advantage of permitting the use of the full opening for air.
Another desirable feature of this plan is the fact that the house has very few openings on the rear, so this side will be helpful in keeping the house comfortable. In addition to the undratable exposure. In addition to the five rooms and sunporch, there is a large storage room in the attic.

long inside wall space directly opposite them, and an open stair at the rear of the room furnish an interesting background for furnishing. There is a coal closet which is equally convenient from the front or rear of the house. The door at the rear of the living room leads to basement, rear entry and kitchen.
The dining room occupies the front, adjoining the sunporch. Its many casement windows make it unusually pleasant. A pair of corner china closets of simple design increase its attractiveness. Like the rest of the woodwork in the main rooms, these are of oak, and should be stained a warm dark brown.

Housewives will approve the kitchen, small, compact, light and airy. It is equipped with a built-in dresser and worktable. The sink is located under windows, so that a pleasant view makes the dishwashing a pleasant task.
Each of the two bedrooms is provided with a built-in tray case enclosing a regular interior door. Besides this each has a large closet and one of them has two closets. A built-in linen case in the hall, the bathroom and the storage room complete the convenient layout. The house is an excellent choice for the small lot.

You Can Do It Better With Gas

Hot Water Is Needed All the Time

One of the most necessary requisites in every home is hot water—it is needed at every season.

Especially during the summer months hot water is needed for daily baths. A warm water bath is more soothing and restful and should always be taken before a cool shower. If you want real hot water service we recommend the

Kompak Storage System

With a Kompak you get a full flow of hot water at an instant's notice. The flame on the Kompak is regulated automatically. A number of Kompaks have recently been installed in Lowell. There are many satisfied users to vouch for the satisfactory results obtained. We will be pleased to have a water heater salesman call at your home and explain to you what a Kompak will do for you.

IS YOUR SKIN RADIANT, OR SALLOW?

Sallowness, freckles, blackheads—literally fade away after a few Mello-gio treatments. Mello-gio Skin Tonic, a pink, creamy liquid, cleanses pores, then closes them. Rub it gently on your skin with your finger tips. Before it dries, wipe off with absorbent cotton. You'll notice a pink glow, a pink-and-white freshness, soft and sweet as a baby's. This stimulation does not wear off, but lasts throughout the day.

The lasting effect is perfected by Mello-gio Beauty Cream, which should be applied immediately after Mello-gio Skin Tonic. It bleaches and is absorbed into the skin, making a velvety, smooth powder base. Next put on Mello-gio Facial Tonic Powder—stays on until you take it off.

These Three Beauty Treatments have the wild-rose tint, that fragile, appealing delicacy beloved of men and women. $1.00 each, at high-class toilet counters. A. G. Pollard Co., Bon Marche, Chalfont Co., The Gagnon Co., Cherry & Webb, Green's Drug Store and other good stores.—Adv.

Off On Daring Trip to Beat U. S. Airmen

BY MILTON BRONNER

N.E.A. Staff Writer

LONDON, Aug. 13.—"Show the North Americans what the South Americans can do!"

This was the parting admonition to Maj. Pedro Zanni just before he hopped off from Schiphol aerodrome near Amsterdam, Holland, on his attempt to fly around the world in record time.

The Zanni expedition stands in a class by itself. The American fund-the-world flight, undertaken by army flyers, is backed by the resources of our government and extensive preparations were made everywhere for their convenience. The world flight undertaken by the Briton, Squadron Commander MacLaren, is a private enterprise, but assistance has been given by the British government wherever possible. But the funds for the cost of the Zanni undertaking were raised by public contributions in the Argentine. Little or no help will be forthcoming from the Argentine authorities.

But the southerners are betting on Zanni because of his magnificent record of daring and success. He was born in Argentina in 1895 and was graduated from the infantry to the National School of Aviation in 1912. He became chief instructor of pilots there. Shortly afterward he electrified all South America by making the first air flight over the Andes, crossing at an altitude of 25,000 feet.

Zanni hopes to make the flight by means of three machines. For the first stage—Amsterdam to Tokyo—he is using a new type Poirer machine, fitted with a 450-horsepower British Napier engine. For the crossing of the Pacific ocean he will use a Poirer-Napier seaplane, whose wing breadth is 70 feet and whose total length is 45 feet.

The machines have petrol tanks fitted in the wings. These tanks are of sufficient capacity to allow flights of 16 hours' duration at 112 miles per hour. They will not need refueling at that time. The top speed of the machines is about 140 miles per hour. The route laid out for himself by Zanni is: Amsterdam, Paris, Rome, Constantinople, Baghdad, Allahabad, Calcutta, Canton, Shanghai, Tokyo, Alaska, Cordova, Chicago, Cleveland, New York, Halifax, St. John's, Ireland, London and back to Amsterdam. He hopes to do the trick within two months.

Will Fly Over Ocean

The special and most daring part of Zanni's attempt will be in the last stages. He intends to try the direct flight over the Atlantic from St. John's to Ireland. This has only been accomplished once by an airplane. The successful crossing was made by Sir John Alcock on June 15, 1919, in 15 hours and 57 minutes.

Shortage May Reach $400,000

It seems to him it "would stabilize public confidence to have this audit made now by a firm of accountants who were not connected in any way with public office or public officials," the governor says.

Town Is Shocked

POTNAM, Conn., Aug. 13.—With a shortage of $262,000 in Liberty bonds and other negotiable securities established to date, investigation of the accounts of H. Harold Gilpatrick, cashier of the First National bank of Putnam, who is also state treasurer, was being continued today at the bank and by individuals interested in various funds entrusted to him. These funds aggregated about $200,000, it was understood. It had been supposed that a part of these funds were kept at the bank by Gilpatrick, but the national bank examiners' investigation was said to have uncovered little or nothing of the accounts in several instances.

Gilpatrick's books as state treasurer were said at the state capital at Hartford to be in good condition. Meanwhile Gilpatrick is lying at the Day-Kimball hospital, probably blind for life, by a shot that he fired into his temple last Thursday, and his physicians say he has an even chance for recovery.

$1,500,000 in Deposits

The First National bank, this town's only commercial institution, stands closed by action of its board of directors, with more than $1,500,000 of deposits and with no indication as yet of the extent to which individual accounts may have to stand a share of the loss.

Gilpatrick was the biggest man in this community and acquaintances in all walks of life were shocked today to learn of the shortage, and to learn that investigation was being made of his alleged forgeries in connection with mortgage deeds that Gilpatrick had given to friends who had given him large amounts of cash to invest for them.

$202,000 in Bonds Missing

Officers of the bank said it had been determined definitely that Liberty bonds and other securities that were easily negotiable, amounting to $202,000, were missing from the vaults. For all of this Gilpatrick had given the bank's receipt as cashier.

Bank Examiner N. S. Bean and his assistants were still at work on the books today to determine whether there were any shortages in the accounts subject to checks or savings withdrawals, and it was added that no irregularities in these accounts had been found to date.

The personal box of the state treasurer, the contents of which he was said to have placed at more than $100,000, was found to contain little of value.

Lending Spirit of Community

Gilpatrick, as the leading spirit of the community, was treasurer of local funds and trustee of local estates, as well as custodian of money given him informally by friends who sought his assistance. Among the local funds that he had in charge was one of $25,000 subscribed recently for the Day-Kimball, where he is a patient. Fifteen thousand of this amount was in Liberty bonds.

James Donahue, a druggist, is understood to have given him $25,000 to invest in a first mortgage recently after he had received from Gilpatrick a deed covering certain property in Hartford already heavily mortgaged. There is no record of this mortgage on file in Hartford, and this was one of the subjects of special inquiry today.

Held Confidence of Rich and Poor

It seemed as if everyone in Putnam had brought their money to Gilpatrick to invest. Rich men and poor men alike gave him their confidence, and when it was announced that he had shot himself, leaving a note for his wife, saying that his affairs were "heavily involved," it was believed that his troubles were only temporary and relatively trivial and that his act was that of a man overly conscientious.

The revelations of the last day or two, however, have caused such a general examination into the standing of Gilpatrick's personal accounts with local institutions and individuals that it may be weeks before the general result is known.

Family Life Happy

Gilpatrick's family life had been a happy one, and it was learned today that when he was found with a bullet wound in the head, the picture of his wife, his daughter, Rhoda, just out of boarding school, and of two young sons was found beside him.

There are indications that the shortage may extend back a number of years.

Gilpatrick was the son of parents in modest circumstances and entered the bank here from high school 25 years ago. Almost within a decade he had established himself as the town's leading citizen.

Act to Quiet Unrest

All these things were considered by the townsfolk, but while they still talked of "Harold," they arranged today through a committee appointed at a mass meeting yesterday for a conference with the directors of the bank today to "quiet the unrest caused by the closing of the bank," to "make public information regarding conditions of the bank" and to "devise ways and means to carry on the business of the community."

Other banks in this section of the state have volunteered their good offices in meeting the financial emergency thrust upon the community.

POLICE FIND BEER IN LOCAL STORE

A store at 132 Bedford avenue, was raided by Officers Clyde Aldrich, William Keegan and Charles Hamilton yesterday afternoon, and 95 quarts of beer confiscated. When Officer Aldrich entered the store he found a man being served. The proprietor is alleged to have admitted selling the goods for 20 cents per bottle. Samples of the liquor were sent to Boston for analysis today, and if found to contain the forbidden amount of alcohol, the store-keeper will be summoned into court on a charge of illegal keeping.

Assessors May Announce Tax Rate on Aug. 25

Another making cold patches in Andover street, and a sewer gang has opened Parkview avenue for extension of the sewer line sewer there.

Work on the Oakland sewer is progressing slowly. The board of public service on Thursday will probably select 15 additional laborers from the civil service lists for work on that job.

Motor Bus Ordinance

The motor bus ordinance passed by the city council a week ago is as yet unaltered by the mayor and action on the long-pending application of the Eastern Massachusetts Street Railway Company for a bus line franchise from Lowell to Boston is deferred pending decision by the mayor on the newly adopted ordinance.

The $15,000 appropriation order for sewer work, voted last night, is also awaiting the signature of the mayor.

Municipal Bonds

City Treasurer Prof. H. Bourke this morning signed and delivered to the mayor for signature, $25,000 in 4 per cent. municipal bonds, ready for delivery to Curtis & Stanger, a Boston successful bidder for the issue.

There is $15,000 provided for permanent paving in Lawrence street and $11,000 for the Centralville play field.

Painting Hydrants

The water department has commenced painting all hydrants a bright yellow hue in place of the black that has heretofore prevailed. Better visibility, especially at night, is the main reason for the change, urged by the American Water Works association.

MEXICO AND RUSSIA RESUME RELATIONS

MOSCOW, Aug. 13.—(By the Associated Press)—Full diplomatic relations between Mexico and Soviet Russia have been resumed as the result of negotiations carried on by representatives of the two countries in Berlin.

S. A. Penikovsky, who as a Polish revolutionary exile lived in London for a number of years, has been appointed soviet representative in Mexico, while Professor Voellio, present Mexican envoy in Norway is assigned to Moscow.

Ruhr Evacuation Problem

rench an agreement I think the most important part of the conference will have passed."

Chancellor Marx expressed his satisfaction with the equality of treatment the Germans had received from all the members of the conference, especially with the manner in which Premier MacDonald had placed his time at the disposal of the Germans outside the formal meetings. He said the Germans had done everything possible to promote speed in the conference and were anxious to be helpful in creating a better understanding among all peoples and in promoting peace.

Momentous Decision

LONDON, Aug. 13.—(By the Associated Press)—The reparations conference today expected to receive the momentous decision of the German, French and Belgian delegates on the Ruhr evacuation problem, solution of which is necessary before the negotiations for putting the Daves plan into effect can be favorably concluded. Announcement that the decision would probably be forthcoming today was made to the conference heads yesterday by Premier Herriot of France.

The Germans, French and Belgians have been thrashing out the matter in private, as it is not on the agenda of the conference, and many trades are reported to have been made in efforts to meet the concessions demanded by the French as the price of withdrawing their troops from the Ruhr.

The American government has let it be known, through Ambassador Kollogg, that it wishes to be represented at the conference of allied finance ministers which is to convene in Paris shortly after the close of the present gathering.

Allocation of the money received from Germany by one of the subjects to be discussed and the United States is interested in recovering its expenditures for the maintenance of the American forces in Germany and in pressing mixed claims, including those growing out of the sinking of the Lusitania.

ITEMS OF INTEREST IN WALL STREET WILL OBSERVE HIS 90TH BIRTHDAY TOMORROW

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—The first note of dissension among railroad interests involved in the proposed $1,500,000,000 Nickel Plate merger engineered by the Van Sweringen brothers of Cleveland has been sounded by minority stockholders of the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad. Dissatisfaction with the terms semi-officially outlined for an exchange of stock has led the minority group to consider formation of a protective committee but action is being withheld pending the submission of a formal offer. The controlling interest in the Chesapeake & Ohio railroad is held by the Van Sweringens.

The reaction in yesterday's stock market brought indications that the opening of the rail group at the liquidation in many ways, based on prospective merger developments, soon spent its force and selling of these issues combined with further liquidation and profit-taking in other sections of the list gave the market a decidedly uneven tone. For the first time in recent sessions, selling rather than buying orders were responsible for the "million share days."

Virtual completion of the Baltimore & Ohio railroad's large refunding program through the sale of $75,000,000 first mortgage bonds leaves only two railroad financing operations of similar character and size to be cared for within the next year. Both the New Haven and St. Paul railroads are confronted with sizeable maturities in 1925. Bankers for the St. Paul are said to be considering plans for refunding its obligations this year.

Net profit of the Hayes Wheel Company for the six months ended June 30 after harvest, depreciation and taxes, was $416,230, equal to $1.79 a share on the 197,040 shares of no par value common stock. During the preceding half-year earnings of the common stock were equal to $3.92 a share, a reduction reflecting the depressed condition of the automobile business during the recent period.

U. S. DELEGATES REFUSE TO SIGN CONVENTION

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—The United States has refused to adhere to the convention signed by most of the central and South American states at the Inter-American electrical communications conference, at Mexico City.

The convention, however, does not become effective until July 1, 1926, and the state department, in announcing the decision of the American delegation against signing the pact, expressed hope, that, in the meantime, a world conference may be held to establish regulations governing radio communication in the light of developments made since the London agreement was reached in 1912.

Home Circulation is Best

Advertisers who use The Sun consistently get greater returns on the money invested than through any other Lowell newspaper. There's a reason. The Sun goes into more homes in Lowell and suburbs than any other Lowell paper and ninety per cent of Sun readers read no other Lowell newspaper. Furthermore, ninety five per cent of The Sun circulation is confined to the city of Lowell and immediate vicinity.

happy farmer with all kinds of luck at the start of your summer growing campaign.

On the other hand, if you got away with a late ploughing and planting, because of extreme cold weather and too much rain in March and April, you feel far from chirky and confident, for "late planting" usually means that many crops won't reach full, productive growth before the fall months, when frosts usually appear early and nip the tender growing plants that are not mature. It is the early frost as well as the late planting problem that gets the jinx of the average farmer and market gardener today, say what you will about the soil-filler's thrift, industry and strategic planning to circumvent weather attacks and rapid temperature changes that often raise havoc with the products of the soil when they are but half-grown.

Rain Was Badly Needed

Farmers have been complaining audibly and forcibly about the condition of some of their garden crops during the long drought that was practically "broken" by yesterday's long drizzle of rain. Tender plants almost ready to produce—plants that were producing—others that had no nourishment in the shape of water sprouting from rubber hose lines or iron piping temporarily sprung across market gardens from house and barn pipe connections—vast quantities of such "green stuff" simply faded out of the scenery.

Not that the market gardens have suffered these last three weeks as severely as was the case in former years, perhaps. Not many agriculturists interviewed today by a Sun reporter could find anybody complaining vociferously about serious damage to well-nourished garden crops. Most of the farmers who own much cows and produce large quantities of quality milk for Lowell customers are complaining that the extreme drought has dried up many pastures water streams and also scorched much green forage in the shape of meadow, upland and orchard grass, as well as the hill pasture lands where the sun fairly burns the cattle's grazing grounds.

Pastures Are Olive Drab

Many county pasture lands have been so bare of "green feed" during the past two weeks, that farmers have had to feed left-over hay and extra grain to keep their milk-producing animals in proper condition. As usual, when the pastures "burn up," the supplies of milk from the farms dwindle heavily. That has been the case for the past four weeks or more, in such nearby town stations of well-known producers as Dracut, Billerica, Chelmsford, Carlisle, Dunstable, Westford and the Tewksburys.

As for the hay crops this year, few farmers are complaining. The hand-picks of the late planting season for food crops, in Middlesex county towns, did not include the grass lands. Grass will grow luxuriantly and fast in the spring of the year if the weather be not too cold and the weather rainy.

Crops Coming Along Well

A survey of the general market gardening conditions in several nearby towns, as they are today, shows that crops are "coming along finely." The rains of the last few days were badly needed, of course, but not many crops had suffered harshly during the drought, except where upland garden land was without moisture to start with. Long, dry "spells" rarely affect lowland landings, for the moisture is held away under the upper strata of the surface land, remaining a long time to nourish the roots of the food crops that seek lower depths in their search for water nourishment.

Tewksbury and Dracut farmers have recently complained of "corn fields burning up." Motorists saw last week in several Chelmsford farm territories, excellent growths of food and "grass-corn," with the ten leaves and "grass-corn" browned by long exposure to the sun. There is no doubt, but what some farmers will be unable to harvest their corn crops because of the sun's damage, but stalks that have attained full growth will be producers now that Middlesex county farms have received plenty of moisture from the skies.

Let'see Production Hurt

The market gardeners' only complaint about the spring crop harvest and the current harvesting of such vegetables as early potatoes, cabbages, tomatoes, onions and lettuce, is that growth was greatly retarded by the extreme heat and much lettuce destroyed by "wilting." "Yellow" lettuce cannot be sold, but chickens and pigs willow in it, so most farmers who lost their lettuce fields, harvested it for the feeding of the inmates of the farm menageries.

The wholesale and retail dealers in Lowell, have had no shortage of nearby market garden produce at any time this summer, most of them agree. The strawberry crop was a record-crashing starter, every farmer with a row of "beds" harvesting enormous supplies. Rhubarb growers had "a surplus" and worse. All early green products were plentiful and nearly always cheap.

Pullets' Revolution

Today, nearly produce growers are trucking into Lowell wholesale and retail markets vast quantities of the best beets that ever grew; yellow and green string beans by the cartload, sparkling white native celery, carrots large and according to ratings color and architecture; new green and red peppers, cheap and all-quality; "cukes" by the barrel from Tewksbury farms and selling for 10 cents each, even the ones you get lodged with long, red, ripe tomatoes, from Chelmsford south and Westford north. Early apples of the Gravenstein, Red Astrachans and Williams, as well as the August sweeties, are here.

In other words, the farmers' only real complaint this year is that they are not raising so much milk as they were, and that the drought has kept them from laying eggs.

They blame the "dry spell" for the pullets' revolt, too!

EIGHT DROWN WHEN DANCE FLOOR COLLAPSES

Eight persons were drowned near Buckeye, O., when part of a dance pavilion built over the water collapsed. The accident was caused by a beam under the floor breaking when the floor was crowded. Thirty persons fell through the floor into the water. In the picture men in a boat may be seen hunting for bodies.

TO MAN NEW DRY FLEET

400 of the 4000 Recruits Have Been Mobilized at Philadelphia

PHILADELPHIA, Aug. 13.—Four hundred of the 4000 men recruited to man the new dry fleet of 257 vessels to be commissioned for action against smugglers of aliens, liquor and narcotics have been mobilized in this city, according to announcement by coast guard officials.

Preparations for the offensive, which is said to be scheduled for some time in September, have been in progress at the navy yard here for more than a month. Destroyers, mine sweepers and speed boats are being reconditioned and outfitted.

Twenty-four section bases will be established and three new receiving stations will be opened for the training of recruits.

EXHIBITION DANCERS AT LAKEVIEW TONIGHT

The patrons of the Lakeview ballroom have witnessed many first class dancing exhibitions during the present season, but the nicest and prettiest dancing act of them all is the offering of Brett and Wentworth, premier exhibition dancing artists, appearing at the Lakeview ballroom this evening.

Mr. Brett and his charming partner are introducing several new dance steps, the most popular being the Argentine tango, the whirlwind one-step and the classical and skating waltz.

"The dancing at Lakeview is by the check system and the peppy music furnished by 'Broderick's Entertainers' makes dancing a real pleasure."

AMUSEMENT NOTES

LOWELL'S RIALTO

When a picture is suggested by Tom Moore's poem, "Believe Me If All Those Endearing Young Charms," it is but natural to expect a love story of the most romantic type. Such is the case with "Supreme Passion" which will start at Loew's Rialto Thursday. This is the interesting story of a girl who wants to be sure that the man she marries will love her, even after her beauty is faded and gone. Her method to prove whether she was loved for her physical or spiritual beauty was clever and cunning, and could be practiced with impunity by a girl of a sweetheart whose faithfulness she might doubt.

The added feature is a thrilling melodrama starring Charles Hutchinson, Leah Baird and Sheldon Lewis. Hutchinson, noted for his feats of daring fairly outdoes himself in this in "The Law Demands," the title of which is "The Law Demands."

Another striking episode of the H. C. Wither "Fighting Blood" series is also on the program as well as a new Fox News reel.

MERRIMACK SQUARE THEATRE

Final performances will be given this evening at the Merrimack Square Theatre of "Women Who Give," the noted novel of sea life with the rugged New England coast as a background, and "His Forgotten Wife," starring Madge Bellamy and an able cast in a fascinating society drama. Will Rogers in "Going to Congress," his latest comedy, is the third feature.

For Thursday, Friday and Saturday, Manager Peterson has booked another excellent program with two high class features. The first is Pola Negri in "Montmartre," a story of Paris with Pola in a role much like that in which she played in "Passion." The second feature is Agnes Ayres in "The Guilty One," a screen version of the popular stage play. To round out this unusual bill Ben Turpin, perhaps the most generally applauded comedian on the screen, will appear in "Pittfalls of a Big City," and the International News will give its customary comprehensive panorama of world news events.

In "Montmartre," Pola more than just returns to that type of part in which the public first remember her. According to those who have already seen the picture, Pola gives a far more finished performance than in any of her earlier productions, whether they happen to be European or American made. She is a more vital, a more flashing Pola as Yvette, a young dancing girl of a cafe in Montmartre whose every day is a life of fortune.

Just before the picture, the popular merrymaking amid the gay lights of the cabarets and days in almost unbearable dullness in a drab attic room—this is a great rule for Pola, and Pola's in the part. If you liked Pola in her other pictures, there's a treat in store for you when you see "Montmartre."

"The Guilty One," the second feature, is a gripping drama, adapted from the play by that name in which Pauline Frederick scored such a hit, and which was unanimously acclaimed by critics as the big daddy of all mystery stories. Agnes Ayres plays the role Miss Frederick created—not only plays the part but handles it admirably. Edward Burns, leading man,

LOWELL FIREMEN ATTEND CONVENTION

The twelfth annual convention of the Massachusetts Permanent Firemen's association was held yesterday in State armory, Chelsea. About 40 Lowell firemen attended.

At the business meeting in the afternoon, President John M. Gulligan of Taunton and the other officers of the association were re-elected. It was voted to hold the next annual convention in Lawrence.

The convention concluded last night with a banquet, at which 600 delegates and guests were present. Representative John F. Donovan of Chelsea, was toastmaster. The speakers included Lieut. Gov. Alvan T. Fuller, Fire Commissioner Theodore A. Glynn of Boston, City Treasurer George F. Henderson of Chelsea, Representative Michael F. Shaw of Haver and Executive Secretary Francis X. Tyrrell of Chelsea chamber of commerce. Prayer was offered by Rev. Augustin Hargreaves and an entertainment followed the dinner.

Fire Chief Edward E. Saunders of this city, who is one of the few chiefs in the state proud of membership in the "M.P.F.A.," was unable to attend the convention, much to his regret.

GENERAL PERSHING AT CAMP DEVENS

Gen. John J. Pershing, addressing 2500 assembled members of the citizens' military training corps at Camp Devens yesterday, declared that the proposed national "Defense Day" program for Sept. 12, was merely a method of instruction to officers in the regular army, national guard and organized reserves, to prepare them for their duties in a national emergency.

"Only by facing this problem squarely can these officers realize the extent of their task in case of war," said the general in conclusion.

Preparations for local participation in the coming national mobilization of the country's fighting forces and organizations of defense, are now under way. Sept. 12 is the sixth anniversary of the battle of Marston, when American fighting legions made history.

American Legion Post 57 will discuss plans for the proper observance of the anniversary at its next meeting, August 19. No Lowell military organizations have taken action on the proposed national mobilization program as yet, but are expected to do so at the proper time.

MISSING BARGES ARE LOCATED

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—Two barges which broke loose from a tug while in tow from Boston to Rockland, Me., with a crew of five men each, have been anchored off Penikese beach, near Rockland, according to a message received here by the owners of one of the barges. The tug hunted through heavy fog all yesterday for her charges.

A Thought

Anger begins with folly and ends with repentance.—Pythagoras.

Did He Best

"No, Reginald," averred the girl, "your blossoms made no grant hit with me — you sent only daisies." "Well, daisies mean 'I love you'." "That's all right, but you sent orchids. Orchids mean 'I want broke for you'."—Louisville Courier-Journal.

Well Matched

Two little high school girls were concluding a somewhat acrimonious conversation. "Why does your father call his earnings 'foes'?" the draper's daughter asked the doctor's child aggressively. "For the same reason that yours calls stockings 'foes'," was the reply.

Not So Many Left

"Don't you feel dreadfully hard to choose names for your children?" gushed Miss Brewster, who had been addressing Mrs. Blair's new baby. "O, I don't find it nearly so hard as it was at first," replied Mrs. Blair, who, incidentally was the mother of 12. "There aren't nearly as many names to choose from."—American Legion Weekly.

Next to Liver

In the physiology class the children were studying the different parts of the body. One of them turned to the liver. "And what comes next to the liver?" asked the teacher. No one seemed inclined to answer. Max, who was usually dull in physiology, waved his hand frantically. The teacher, pleased at his interest, said hesitatingly: "Well, Max, what is next to liver?" "The bacon, ma'am," replied Max triumphantly. Western Druggist.

Very Good Society

As the prominent citizen was interested in all kinds of welfare work, his secretary had no hesitation about ushering in a disheveled man with a prospectus. "What is this about?" asked the prominent citizen. "A proposed society to encourage people to build their own business. The other looked over the prospectus and then said: 'This is no doubt a good thing. But if I joined, I'd have to resign from six other organizations, and I'm chairman of two.'"

Flattering the Boy

A glided youth went into a doctor's office for a nasal treatment, the office boasting one of those machines which spray pine balsam and other soothing medicaments. The doctor pointed out that he was very busy, but that the nurse in attendance could administer the treatment quite as well. He told the youth assented with a supercilious smile. And, as a nurse was making things ready, he heard the physician say to her in a loud whisper: "Now be careful, or you'll blow his brains out."

The Peace Plan

Senator Borah was talking about the different peace plans which have been advanced and finally said with a smile: "If the nations of the world really want peace, we could have it without all this argument. The fact of the matter is, that the controlling element in most of the countries wants war because that's the way they make money. A large portion of the world is as willing to accept peace as Mr. Hardy, the grouchy 'Robert' said his wife. 'If you're going to have peace, that good humor makes the ideal home.' 'That's all right,' said Mr. Hardy, 'but doesn't it also say that good dinners are the basis of good humor?' And right there the war started all over again."—Los Angeles Times.

It's a Small World

A Scotsman representing his firm in this country, tells of a Scotch divine who, when he was about to set sail for India, called on an old lady in Edinburgh to say good-bye. "When ye gae the India," she said, "ye'll see the India that went awa' tae the scrapie o' a yon an' his mither since." "But, Margaret," said the doctor, "India is a very big place, and how can I expect to find him?" "Oh, but ye'll be just askin' for Donald." Accordingly to please the old lady the good doctor promised to ask for Donald. At various points he made inquiry among those who knew the ideal home. "That's all right," said Mr. Hardy, "but doesn't it also say that good dinners are the basis of good humor?" And right there the war started all over again."—Los Angeles Times.

Will Grease

A far, strange sound through the night.
A dauntless and resolute cry.
Clear in the tempest's desolate lingering so wild and so high!

Darkness and tumult and dread,
Yet cleaving the storm and the wind,
The wail of the wild geese sailing.

Pushing their perilous way,
Backed by heart and by day,
Steadfast by night and by day,
Weary, but never perplexed.

Sure that the hand of their hope
Waits beyond tempest and dread,
Sure that the dark where they creep
Shall glow with the morning red!

Clearer that pierces the storm
Dropped from the gloom of the sky!
I sit by my north-fire warm
And thrill to that purposeful cry.

Strong as the challenge sent out,
Rousing the timorous heart
To battle with fear and with doubt,
Consequently bearing the part.

O birds in the wild, wild sky!
Would I could so follow God's way
Through darkness, unquestioning why,
With only one thought—no alloy!

pearance known in stormy weather in

MAN ABOUT TOWN

Ever been to a Ku Klux Klan kon-clave? I visited one Sunday afternoon for an hour or more and failed to get the thrill or kick out of it that I thought would be forthcoming.
This was at Concord, New Hamp-shire's capital. Perhaps my geography is twisted and it was in Lowell.
At any rate it was on "the Concord pines," across the Merrimack river from the city of Concord and it over the lowland line, why only by a slight distance.

I expected to have something to write about, but the konklave was smoothly operated after that looked for all the world like a lawn party.
The klansmen and their women and children were gathered in a big lot.
There were probably 2400 or so present. Around the lot boundaries was formed a sort of light-colored wall of parked autos, along the boundary lines of the farm were klansmen, white hood, cape, 'n' everything, all on sentry duty. If you didn't have the word, grip, whip 'or whatever was required you were out of luck as far as passing was concerned.

With about a group of friends numerical strength a group of friends and myself went right to the boundary line and conversed with the guards. As far as we could see they were unarmed. They were good-natured and replied in equal tenor to our queries. One of our bunch asked one klansman where the "society" came from and he replied "Atlanta."
"I asked you where the society came from, not where you'll wind up," said our spokesman laughingly.
"I don't know where they came from the fellow replied in equally good humor. "I hope they come from Manchester. I want to see the Americans kept busy."

There were several hundred autos, mostly from New Hampshire, but with a fair representation of Massachusetts, Vermont and Maine. There were two Virginia cars but I think they belonged to sight-seers like ourselves. Everybody seemed to be having a good time. There were police officers there in uniform but not the slightest semblance of disorder.
Speeches were made but we were just out of earshot although we were told they were more of the fundamental nature and nature of the klansmen than anything else. The party was going on smoothly when I left in mid-afternoon and was the latest K.K.K. affair I ever expected to see.
I came away disappointed as I expected some excitement that would justify my going for a good story.
Perhaps I didn't happen around at the right time or strike the right note-ing.

Residents of the upper Gorham street district, while well pleased with the street improvement now in progress there are somewhat disappointed over the change in the original plan of stopping the new road at 119 instead of going to the city line, as expected. It was announced at the beginning of the paving session, that the new road would run from the railroad crossing near Manchester street to meet the reinforced concrete road, beginning at the city line and continuing through Hillaria.
This plan was backed with delight only by the Upper Gorham street people, but all motorists who used this direct road to Boston. But the "powers that be" have decreed that the work be abbreviated, and hence the disappointment. The small section that is to be let go until later, is particularly bad between the railway tracks, and if the department cannot see its way clearer to do the entire job, a little repair work between the tracks would not be amiss.

The change in the Gorham street plans is similar to the one made in Chelmsford street. There, too, it was announced that the new paving would go to the city line. But Plain street was as far as the job went.
This, though, is a great improvement and opens up a direct route from the city to Chelmsford. Ayer, Acton, etc. and eliminates the old and dangerous route up Westford street and out Smith street.

Yesterday's slow-falling, but continuous rain did crops in nearby towns a world of good, but in many instances it came too late. The excessive heat of July and the first part of August retarded many vertebrate gardens so severely that the yield was only slight and more than one farmer saw raspberries shrivel on the bushes and fall off. Corn is backward, most of the ears seen in local markets being small and the balance of the month does not hold out much promise for improvement.
The only truck gardener who feels at all secure about these days is New England is the one who has some sort of an irrigation plant to fall back upon when nature fails to supply the necessary water. Unless there is an artificial rain-making plant on the farm, raising crops is pure guess work and a gamble. Two heavy electrical storms, although they brought the farmers very much, for a high wind undid all the good that resulted.

A short time ago it was stated in this column that three former Dominican sisters, once teachers in St. Michael's school, had been advanced to the rank of superior in that order. Since that announcement I have learned of a few others, particularly Sr. Helena, who will come to St. Michael's as superior next month, succeeding Sister Mary Williams, and Sister Sienna, who has been made first counselor at the mother house of the Dominicans in St. Catharine's, Kentucky. Both taught here in years past, and are well and favorably remembered by their former pupils.

Antisols find it rather precarious weather these days. Whether or not they will be caught in a thunder shower is a question very difficult to answer. Sunday evening's storm, although preceded by threatening clouds and rumbling thunder came quite suddenly and many were forced to quit on the road until the storm had passed over.

Previous to the storm Sunday, the sky presented a picture of rare natural beauty. The sun setting in the west in fiery glory was a vivid contrast to the black clouds forming a heavy border along the eastern horizon, making colorful sketches that could not but be noticed.

HOLD ANNUAL OUTING
AT REVERE BEACH

The Holy Rosary sodality of the Immaculate Conception parish held its annual outing at Revere beach today. About 70 women made the trip in trucks leaving the church at 8:15 p.m. The trip was indulged in during the normal hours and at noon dinner was served. The return trip will be made at 7:30 p.m. Rev. Owen
P. McQuaid, O.M.I., spiritual director of the sodality, was in general charge, assisted by Mrs. Collins and Mrs. McDonald.

LICENSE BOARD
HOLDS MEETING

At a regular meeting of the license commission held last evening a third hearing was held on the petition of Louis J. Ragosky for the establishment of a second-hand clothing store at 317 Middlesex street. Petitioner was represented by Attorney Daniel J.
Donahue, and a group of remonstrants by Attorney J. Joseph Hennessy.

Remonstrants based their objections on the grounds that such a business in the locality referred to would tend to injure neighboring establishments.
Ragosky, through his counsel, presented a petition to the commission signed by several business men of the vicinity, stating that they had no objections to the granting of the license.
The license commission took the matter under advisement.

HAS WIDE GIRDLE

Since most of the gowns for fall and winter are belted, the one achieves distinction by acquiring a very wide girle and making it the most conspicuous thing about the dress. The model is of plaid silk with shades of blue and gold over a background of cream, and bound with plain silk. It also has an insert of the color in the skirt. Around the collar it is bound with the darkest tone of blue that is found in the plaid.
In its simplicity lies its unusual style.

Watch your step

The fashions today are exceedingly neat, and especially those worn by the women. How striking the gowns that they wear on the street and the suits that they don when in swimmin'. The sandal-like shoes are attractive to me and the silk that goes in 'em looks nice. They say that the girls wear 'em rolled at the knee but I never have stopped to look twice.

The newspaper ads show the dimmy affairs but they're only for women, I guess. I know what the every-day gentleman wears but I'm stumped as to how women dress.

There's one thing that's certain; I've made up my mind that the thinnest of gowns, as a rule, are the prettiest ones that in summer you'll find 'cause they give you that essence of cool.

So here's to the women folks, heavy or lean, whose dresses in thin goods are done. But, if they're as thin as some gowns I have seen, take a tip and keep out of the sun.

WRITTEN AT KILLARNEY

How soft the pause! the notes melodious cease,
Which from each feeling could an echo call;
Rest on your oars; that not a sound may fall
To interrupt the stillness of our peace:
The fanning west-wind b. athes upon our cheeks
Yet glowing with the sun's departed beams.
Through the blue heavens the cloudless moon pours streams
Of pure resplendent light, in silver streaks
Reflected on the still, unruddled lake.
The Alpine hills in solemn silence frown,
While the dark woods night's deepest shades embrown,
And now once more that soothing strain awake!
Oh, ever to my heart, with magic power,
Shall those sweet sounds recall this rapturous hour!

PILL AND BOTTLE

If the average person got from his automobile as irregular service as most of us are content to get from our bodies, he would make a change. This statement is made by Dr. Francis Scott of Smith college.

How many people take as good care of their bodies as they do of their autos or radios? And yet the human body, a thousand times more delicate than the auto or any other machine, is given very little attention. Its fuel, which is food, is fed to it haphazardly, with little of the care we bestow in buying gas for the auto or tubes for the radio.

The noted surgeon, Dr. Charles H. Mayo, probably had this in mind when he said recently: "Civilization can end 'mass diseases' such as yellow fever, but individual ailments such as cancer and nervous indigestion are gain-

ROT, UNADULTERATED ROT

Of course the Courier-Citizen could not let the notification speech of Hon. John W. Davis pass without distorting the speaker's meaning and charging him with saying something that was directly opposite to what he did say in dealing with republican scandals and corruption at Washington. That we shall not appear to distort the editor's words we quote at length:

"In conformity with usual partisan politics Mr. Davis allows the republicans not a scintilla of freedom to stand on. Gross favoritism to the privileged and utter disregard of the unprivileged, is one of the blanket charges uttered. Rot, Pure, unadulterated rot, flatterings and partisan generalities, that is all. We wish these political candidates could tear themselves away from this sort of ill favored talk and try the complete honesty in politics for which they are renowned by all. As for these republican candidates, let us wish them to be as honest as the driver snow and we are the salvation of decent government."

Now here is what Mr. Davis did say in reference to the rank and file of the republican party as contrasted with the corrupt officials at Washington:

"I do not believe that the millions of sincere and patriotic men and women who have composed the rank and file of the republican party, are more ready to endorse these and similar offenses or to defend the offenders than those of other political faiths. Indeed their indignation has perhaps a sharper edge, for it is coupled with the chagrin that must follow from the knowledge that under author-ity issued in their name, corrupt men have crept to places of power and then betrayed the trust that placed them there."

Who then is dishonest on "the rot," "pure unadulterated rot" Who but the Courier-Citizen writer, as Mr. Davis could never be guilty of such distortion and perversion.

Leopold and Loeb were seeking all the thrills that life can offer when they resorted to kidnapping and murder. There is just one remaining which they should be vouchsafed the pleasure of enjoying and that is the thrill of finding the hangman's noose tightening around their necks.

Motor trucks are not adapted to house to house collections or deliveries. The horse-drawn vehicles are still more convenient and economical for such work.

Even if Leopold and Loeb are crazy they never said anything as absolutely foolish as some of the statements made by the alienists testifying in their behalf.

MRS. CHARLOTTE BASCOMB

FIVE GENERATIONS OF WOMEN IN ONE FAMILY, DAUGHTER,

By N. E. A. Service
SAN JOSE, Calif., Aug. 12.—In the modern mad Ponce de Leon search, greatest fountain of youth of all is generally overlooked, declares Mrs. Florence Sebastian of this city.

Mrs. Sebastian, however, has found it. With two living grandchildren, she is as active and vigorous as any girl of 16.

"I follow the rules which still keep my mother young at 82, and my grandmother youthful at 94," she explains. "The secret is simple and there for anyone who wishes to profit by it; keep close to nature."

This remarkable family of five generations of active women is widely scattered.

Mrs. Charlotte Bascombe, the grandmother of a grandmother, lives with her daughter, Mrs. Alice Banks, in Pashley, Alberta, Canada.

These two women, with ages totaling 154, keep house, manage a farm, run a grocery store, and Mrs. Banks also is town postmistress. Until last year she taught school and may again if the inclination strikes her.

Does Needlework

Mrs. Bascombe fills in odd moments of otherwise inactivity by doing needlework.

Mrs. Sebastian, the grandmother and granddaughter, lives here with her husband, an employee of a telephone company. For years she has done all the family work (including washing) in the old-fashioned way, with a washboard—great exercise!—and this year, feeling her time not fully occupied, she has taken up motion picture scenario writing.

Mrs. Sebastian's daughter, Mrs. Helen Meigs, lives with her husband and daughter, Doris, age 3, in Spokane, Wash.

"We are all healthy and active because from earliest girlhood we have applied common sense rules to our living," Mrs. Sebastian declares.

"The first of these is to keep away from stuffy, indoor unsanitation of all the year round, sleeping in a tent, and only utilizing this meager shelter at night. Daytimes we keep out in the sunshine.

Exercise and Healthier
"We find it just as easy to do our work there as indoors—and much healthier."

"Outside of the exercise incidental to housekeeping, I walk some 10, 15 or 20 miles a day. I do not believe ordinary calisthenics necessary under these circumstances."

"All the women of our family have been taught always to eat only the plainest of food."

"We do not use stimulants, condiments only most sparingly, and none of the rich dishes so injurious to health."

"I eat very little meat, in fact, don't have appetite for much. I was fully grown before I ever tasted it."

"But the most important rule of all is that one must keep young in spirit. If thoughts are those of age, age will come; if movements are allowed to become slower, soon it will be impossible to regain springy activity."

"Think youth and take care of yourself and you stay young."

A Story Without Words

LEVIATHAN COMING TO BOSTON DRY DOCK

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—The United States liner Leviathan left here at 5.15 o'clock this morning, daylight saving time, for Boston, where she will be placed in drydock while a propeller, damaged on the last trip from Europe, outlives the total abstinence, according to the moderate consumer of alcohol will be replaced. The giant steamship is expected to reach Boston between 3 and 4 o'clock this afternoon.

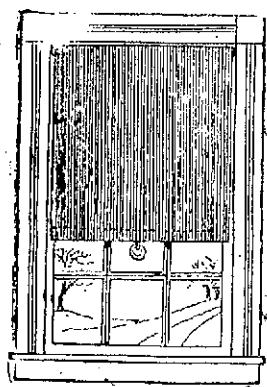

Because of the damaged propeller, the Leviathan arrived here yesterday one day late.

Last winter the Leviathan was in the Boston drydock several weeks after the vessel was grounded on Robbins Reef. She was out of the service approximately four months.

The moderate consumer of alcohol will be replaced. The giant steamship is expected to reach Boston between 3 and 4 o'clock this afternoon.

throughout the convention sessions, which will be concluded Sunday night. Special arrangements have been made for the entertainment of women who accompanied their husbands to Providence.

Nearly 20,000 members of the flourishing "F.O.E." registered in Providence yesterday and more were arriving by every incoming train from many distant points in the United States. The Eagles will parade tomorrow, when it is expected to have fully 15,000 men in line. Lowell aerie will have a place in the imposing column. There will be 20 bands in the long procession.

The annual parade will be reviewed by Mayor James M. Curley of Boston, Gov. William S. Flynn of Rhode Island and Mayor Joseph H. Garner of Providence.

Thomas B. Murphy of Boston, New England organizer for the Eagles, was yesterday presented $1000 in $20 gold pieces by the Massachusetts Eagles, the presentation being made by President Thomas F. Quinn of Lowell aerie.

Among the Massachusetts men named in office by Grand President Howard N. Ragland yesterday were the following: Outside guard, John J. Rice of Framingham; first assistant outside guard, James Gallagher of Revere; assistant grand conductor, John J. Loynd of Watertown; member of the tabulation committee, William T. Mackey of North Adams; one of tylers, William Kneen of Pittsfield.

The features of the program today included grand aerie session at Biltmore hotel, exemplification of the ritual by drill teams at the armory, reception all day and evening at the Eagles' home, sightseeing trips and shopping tours for visiting women, ritualistic exemplification by officers of subordinate aeries at Eagles' home, band concert at Hotel Biltmore and observance of Eagles' day at Oakland bench.

PREPARE TO RECEIVE

ITALIAN FLIER

Plan Reception
INDIAN HARBOR, Labrador, Aug. 12. (By the Associated Press.)—A wireless message from Lieut. Clayton L. Bissell of the army air service, aboard the U.S.S. Milwaukee, in Greenland waters, directs that preparations be made here for the coming of Lieut. Locatelli, the Italian flier who is attempting to cross the Atlantic in the wake of the American aviators.

Argentinian Delayed
CALCUTTA, Aug. 12.—Major Pedro Zanni, the Argentine aviator who had intended hopping off this morning in continuance of his attempted world flight, met with another setback just as he was about to start when one of the tires on the under-carriage of his machine burst. It was his last spare and if another cannot be obtained here, one must be ordered from Lahore.

SOUND VALUE

Sound products evolve from sound principles.

Dodge Brothers Motor Car is the product of an institution whose principles have always been conceded to be pre-eminently sound.

Sound manufacturing methods that place infinitely more importance on quality than quantity.

Sound financial standing, which permits uninterrupted development and adherence to the policy of constant improvement—

A sound method of selecting dealers, from which an organization has grown that enjoys the complete confidence of the public—

A sound sales and service policy, through which buyers are assured full value for their investment—

These basic principles being sound, it follows as an obvious consequence that Dodge Brothers Motor Car represents sound value.

Western American League Teams Begin Last Invasion of East for the 1924 Season

DOUBLE HEADERS ON TODAY'S CARD FOR AMERICAN LEAGUE TEAMS

—Walter Johnson Registered His 106th White-wash—Boosts Strike Out Total to 3180

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Primed for battle by 48 hours' rest accorded them by a conspiracy of schedule makers and rain makers, the western division of American League contenders will begin its last invasion of the east for the 1924 season today. St. Louis will take on New York, Chicago will meet Boston and Detroit will engage Philadelphia in double-headers while Cleveland and Washington hook up in a single game. The only contest scheduled for this afternoon in the National League is that between New York and Pittsburgh in the Pennsylvania city.

The Indians and Senators managed to find a dry spot in the nation's capital in which to stage a ball game yesterday, while all the other major league players were forced by the inclement weather to seek recreation in indoor sports. Postponements of the Pirates-Phillies, White Sox-Red Sox and Browns-Yankees (the latter postponed by the general downpour along the Atlantic seaboard).

In shutting out Cleveland by a 4 to 0 score, Walter Johnson registered his 106th white wash and raised his all-time strikeout total to 3180. His White Sox graciously paroled out five hits to the Speakerites. The victory cut the world champions' lead over Washington to a game and a half. Unlucky Owens, Rowland and Connolly inaugurated a new fashion in major league arbiters' dress when they appeared in olive drab uniforms. This apparel henceforth will be the regulation costume for the nation's mediators.

BOXING

Tommy Robinson of Malden, who has been inactive for some time, staged a most successful comeback at Boston Monday night, when he won over the hard hitting veteran, George Robinson of Boston. It was one of the most strenuous battles seen in Boston in years, and the crowd of fans that turned out for the bout marveled at the speed maintained by the big fellows over the ten-round journey. The decision to Robinson was a proper one and the Malden man left the ring amid vigorous applause.

Lowell fans at the Boston bouts Monday night were deeply impressed at the spectacle of Joe Dencio, who triumphed over his rival from the Philippines, Jose Jarvier, now stationed at the Charlestown navy yard. This battle was one of the fastest of the season. Dencio gave away several pounds to Jarvier, but he carried the fight all the way. He was like a rubber ball in action, bounding in and swapping punches, with the speed and precision of a machine. He gave Jarvier quite a kicking, but the sailor boy stood up there gamely, and made many friends by his work. The local spectators, when recalling that Frankie Hebert recently got a draw with Dencio in Washington, and previously secured a decision over him, agreed that Hebert is of real championship calibre to even stand in there with such a marvel.

Jackie Williams of Chicago, who fought Archie Walker in Lowell last season and failed to show much class, proved that he is a real fighter in his second bout with Wally Lee at Boston Monday night. He tore at the clever Denver colored boy and outlasted and outpointed him in a slashing battle. Williams certainly showed a remarkable improvement over his work in the Spindle city.

Charley Mealey, well known in Lowell, handled Williams Monday night, and after the bout said that he was ready to put the fight against any man of his weight in the country.

TERRY PARKER LOOKS LIKE COMER

BOSTON, Aug. 12.—Terry Parker of Boston, former heavyweight champion, who is traveling on high since joining the professional ranks, signed a contract with the management of Billy Snyder, who also directs the business affairs of Jackie Clark, A.E.F. middleweight champion.

Parker has defeated the cream of the Boston and New England bantamweights, featherweights, including Andy Martin twice, Tommy Nee, Willie Shugrue, Jimmy "Kid" Rice of Portland and lost a questionable decision to "Red" Chapman.

Parker is only 21 years of age and has a very bright future ahead of him. He is very tall for his weight, but can easily scale 125 pounds. He possesses a clever left hand and besides boxes with the skill of Abe Attell, former featherweight champion of the world.

Such wonderful boxing critics as William A. Hamilton, of the Boston Herald, Edmund F. Dunne, sporting editor of the Boston Traveler, Al Lippe, International boxing manager and Tom Walsh of Chicago, manager of Jack Malone, Joe Burman and Charlie White, predict that Parker will be the next featherweight champion of the world.

ASK LEONARD TO POST FORFEIT

NEW YORK, Aug. 12.—Benny Leonard, lightweight champion, who has been asked by the New York State Athletic Commission to agree to box Dave Shadle of California in a title match on or before Jan. 1, 1925, in the event that he defeats Mickey Walker, world welterweight title holder, is expected to refuse.

FAYETTE NATIONAL WINS CALIFORNIAN POLO STAR HOD CARRIER NOW AT NORTH RANDALL ON DEFENDING FOUR STARS AS GOLFER

NORTH RANDALL, CLEVELAND, Aug. 12.—(By the Associated Press).—Fayette National, owned by Guttenstein Bros., Milwaukee, Wis., driven by Tom McKay, won the North Randall purse of $3000 for 213 trotters, the feature of the grand circuit short program here yesterday. He was the only winner to take his event in straight heats but was forced to a brush down the stretch to beat village to the wire in both heats by a narrow margin. Only four horses faced Starter Stone and of these Hollywood Frison was distanced in the first heat after he went into a break in the stretch just when Will Crozier started his move to overtake the leader.

ERIC PEDLEY AND HIS FAVORITE MOUNT

Because of a high wind Fred Edman postponed a scheduled start with Pavonian in an effort to beat his 2:03 1/2 record.

After quitting at the wire in the first two heats, Grace Direct set the pace in the 2:04 class pacing and coming from behind won the third heat, forcing that event into four heats. Logan Hedgewood, which led to far into the stretch, paced the first quarter in 30 seconds flat and the half in 1:00 4-5.

The Belvidere team, under the management of Fred Schard, is ready to meet the best teams in the city. A series of three games is desired. Answer through this paper.

Sammy Paulin and Walter Foye will be the Centralville Phenicians in the game with Hogan's Central in the South common this evening. Abe Buckley will umpire.

ERIC PEDLEY AND HIS FAVORITE MOUNT

California will probably be represented on the polo four which America will send against the Britishers in the September match before the Prince of Wales. Eric Pedley was recently named to take the place of the veteran Webb at the No. 1 position, and experts predict he will remain there.

CITY TWILIGHT LEAGUE GAME CALLED OFF

The City Twilight league game between the Butlers and the Centralville East Ends was called off last night on account of rain. The game will be played at a later date. Tomorrow evening the game will be played at the Butlers will play Richard's Belmonts, the game to start at 6 o'clock.

This evening's encounter will feature the C.M.A.C. and Hogan's Central.

EAST AND WEST MEET IN TENNIS MATCH

NEWPORT, R. I., Aug. 12.—East and west met in the first starred tennis match in the singles on the Casino turf today. N. W. Niles, Boston, faced C. J. Griffin, San Francisco, on the championship playing surface. The rain of yesterday helped the courts and conditions were excellent.

BY JOE WILLIAMS

The scribes wanted to see Bill Melhorn of St. Louis win the open golf championship at Oakland Hills this year. Bill would have made great copy. Few people know it, but Bill is a reformed-hud carrier. What's more, he looks it. In build he suggests the smashing fullback of the 1906 vintage. His huge shoulders are slightly stooped.

"What makes you walk bent over like that?" a friend inquired at Detroit. "If you had carried bricks up five flights when you were a kid you'd walk that way, too," was the answer.

Bill wasn't kidding, either. That was his racket some 15 years ago when he was a sturdy youth in Chicago. Melhorn came to golf via the caddy route. His fine physique and fine fighting ability soon carried him to the lofty summits.

Not so many moons back Melhorn was touched by the glittering wand of romance. A beautiful circus bareback rider came into his life, and a pretty little ceremony followed. Mrs. Melhorn gave up the sawdust ring for the more domesticated role of wife.

You see her at all the tournaments these days, always leading the gallery, pulling hard for Bill. She almost pulled him across at Oakland Hills. For a time it looked as if he'd won. As it was, he finished third with 201 a stroke back of Bobby Jones. Melhorn has the game, temperament and courage to be a champion. Since he is still young his time may come yet.

Melhorn is a fighter in action. We recall an explosion shot he played out of a sand trap at the 12th hole at Oakland Hills during the final round. The ball rested in a heel print. A combination of perfect timing and great muscular effort was demanded. Melhorn rolled his sleeves, batted at his caddy to leave the green, waved the gallery to move to one side, gritted his teeth and banged away. This was not an actor's gesture. It was concentration and determination, plus.

Melhorn made a perfect shot, incidentally, and holed for a par 5 when it looked as if he'd be lucky to get down in 7.

BUTLERS DEFEATED BY INDIAN SECONDS

The Indian Seconds moved into a triple tie for second place in the Upper Gorbham Street Twi League as a result of defeating the Butlers, 6 to 2, last night at O'Donnell park.

The Indians had a new man in the box, Mullin, formerly of the T.B.T. of North End. Mullin's dazzling ball raised havoc in the ranks of the hard, sure hitting Butlers. He had them swinging at nothing, and that's what they hit. The real battling feature of the game was supplied by the pitcher also when he connected with a not one and gave the pill the longest ride yet seen at the park, but because of a bad leg Mullin only reached third. PARK PLAYERS SHOULD WATCH RULES CLOSELY

BY MERCER BEASLEY
The A-Z of Tennis

This is addressed to the many tennis players. The city fathers' attitude toward tennis has changed sharply in recent years. You no longer have to bring your own nets, or chalk your own lines. In most cities the free park facilities for tennis are thoroughly adequate.

There is no reason why you shouldn't develop a good game. And in so doing there is no reason why you shouldn't learn the rules. The fact that you are playing on park courts and in matches with no great importance attached thereto is no reason why you shouldn't respect all the rules of the game. But scrupulously as if you were playing in a major league championship.

Time after time I have seen park players ignore the rules and face the chances courts after the odd game, all the net with the racket and make many other common violations of the rules. The one feature of this is that you get in the habit of ignoring rules and when you do arrive and the city and state tournaments beckon you you are sure to find yourself at a decided disadvantage.

Here's an example: A park player was entered in the city tournament. He was a good player and he fought his way into the finals, meeting a local player of established prestige. They split the first two sets. The park player, in the last set, led by games, 5 to 4. At this point his opponent made a wild shot. It was headed for the back stop. The park player stuck up his hand and caught the ball.

Now as the score was at deuce before the ball was hit the park player's advantage would have been strengthened if he hadn't headlined enough the ball. Under the rule, of course, the point was scored against him. He had gone after the ball. "Well, we catch on like the other parkers," was his futile explanation.

JOHNSTON, CAUSES TILDEN TO SIT UP AND TAKE NOTICE

Maybe the great Bill Tilden won't dominate the tennis battle sector this season after all. The unexpected victory of Howard Kinsey of California over Little Bill Johnston in the Soabright finals has added a note of uncertainty to the singles situation. Johnston for years has been listed as Tilden's nearest competitor. If Kinsey was good enough to beat Johnston

AMERICAN FIGHTERS LEAVE CAMP IN HIGH HUFF

SARATOGA SPRINGS, N. Y., Aug. 8.—Because Luis Firpo, here to train for his match with Harry Wills, insisted on charging admission to the training camp, three American fighters walked out on him. "We don't want to work in the same camp with that guy. He's money-mad." That's what they said. The three were Bartley Madden, heavyweight; Mike McTigue, light heavyweight, and Jack Britton, welterweight.

CLAIM $36,500 DUE TOMMY GIBBONS

LONDON, Aug. 12.—Lawyers representing Tom Gibbons, American boxer, have written Major Arnold Wilson, promoter of the Gibbons-Bloomfield fight at Wembley last Saturday, claiming that $36,500 is due their client. The difference in sterling between $50,000 and the 3000 pounds sterling which Gibbons received.

Major Wilson has gone to the country under physicians' orders, suffering from a nervous breakdown brought on by the strain of managing the fight. Interviewed at Preston by a representative of the Daily Sketch, he said he had been in ill health for some time, that two or three days before the fight his nerves "went" and that he would not be able to say anything. The Daily Sketch says the fight resulted roundly in a loss of 12,000 pounds sterling to its backers, the receipts amounting to 15,000 pounds sterling against expenses of 27,000 pounds sterling.

BLOOMER GIRLS TO PLAY HERE

Manager Bell of Ricard's Belmonts, members of the City Twilight league, announced today that he had signed up the American Bloomer Girls to play his team at Alumni field on Saturday afternoon at 3 o'clock. The Bloomer Girls are on a tour of the east and will play in Boston on Friday night. They will come to Lowell in their special bus on Saturday morning. They have a very strong team this season and have been meeting with remarkable success in all parts of the country. Frank Hild, sponsor of the local team, is planning to offer several prizes in connection with the game.

GRAHAM BROTHERS TRUCKS

No matter what truck you operate, come in and get a Truck Cost Record Book. Keep a faithful record of expenses for six months, or a year if you wish.

Then come back and compare it with the records of Graham Brothers Truck owners, kept in the same book, under the same conditions, for a similar period.

'TIS CUSTOMARY OF COURSE TO BOOST NATIONAL CAPITAL, BUT—

BY HARRY B. HUNT
N.E.A. Service Writer
WASHINGTON, Aug. 13—Let's hurl another brick-bat at Washington, the "beautiful capital." Let's try to get another peek behind the false fronts behind which this city lives.

Washington's population is not a "producing" population. Although it is inclined, as a city, to turn its nose up at other cities, it is in no sense self-sustaining. It is parasitic. Actually, not figuratively, it lives off the rest of the country.

Washington's population falls into three distinct classes.

First—Employees and officials of the United States government.

Second—Tradesmen and their employees, who feed and clothe the employees and officials of the government.

Third—"Retired" individuals of wealth, with social or political aspirations, who find in life at the capital an opportunity to serve their own interests as well as their own pleasure by being "in the swim" of capital affairs.

The result of this condition is that the only group with any permanent abiding interest in the development of the city is the second—the group which lives off the less permanent and less Washington-minded part of the population.

Many thousands of Washington residents, persons who have lived here for years, never think of Washington as "home."

"Home" is where they came from when they first got their job with Uncle Sam. It is where they keep their "voting residence." It is where they expect to return when they quit the government service.

In the meantime, with no voice as to how the city is to be run, with only a "temporary" interest in its affairs, they accept unsatisfactory housing and transportation, high prices and mediocre service, and the dozen and one annoyances and inconveniences that beset the existence of the average sojourner here, as the lot of a temporary dweller anywhere, and make the best of it with a minimum of protest.

Among this group—and is in one of the largest in Washington—there is little loyalty to the capital city. It has taken from them in full measure for what it has given. It never becomes their city, their home.

They now know too well the rear sides of those false fronts which first fascinated them. They may like Washington, but they love remaining steadfast with Kankakee, Kalamazoo and Waila Waila.

One of the difficulties with Washington, on the material side of its evolution, has been its intensive development.

Washington is limited by the boundaries of the District of Columbia. It cannot expand. It cannot spread. It cannot sprout extensive suburban areas of comfortable homes and annex them as part of the parent city.

Anything outside the 73 square miles of the District of Columbia Washington.

You may live five miles from the never can hope to be a part of White House, in Virginia, but you are an outsider.

You may live five miles from the White House, and in Maryland, and you are likewise outside the pale.

You may be seven miles from the White House, and still inside the roped-off point of the District line, and the rest of the United States will pay what may ever be included in the way 40 per cent of your city taxes.

The result of these fixed limits to the development of the nation to its capital city has resulted in a close control by a few large interests of the undeveloped territory still within the District.

This assured monopoly has in turn made possible the capitalization of these lands on a scale which forces their sale in the smallest possible plots.

This makes for congestion and crowding and ugliness, not for a healthy, happy, "beautiful" capital city.

The Bone and Sinew

The readers of THE SUN are the bone and sinew of Lowell. They are practically all Lowell people who have helped to make the city what it is.

They earn their living in Lowell; they spend their money in Lowell; they are the main support of the Lowell merchants.

SUN readers are not in the habit of running to Boston for their supplies. They trade at home.

They are the largest body of newspaper readers in the city, and few of them read any other paper because they don't need to.

There is only one way for the merchant to reach this large, thrifty, industrious and intelligent body of readers, and that is through the columns of THE SUN.

ANNUAL GARDEN PARTY

Brilliant Event in Aid of St. John's Catholic Mission in Chelmsford

Historic Old Common to Be Gaily Decorated—List of Committees

On Thursday afternoon and evening of this week the town common at Chelmsford Centre will be the scene of a gala and brilliant event when the annual garden party and dance will be held in aid of St. John's Catholic mission. For over a month a large and most enthusiastic group of willing workers have been preparing for the event and the thousand and one details have been perfected in a way that ensures to all who attend a good time that will not be soon forgotten.

As in years past, the beautiful and historic old common will be lavishly decorated with gay booths, flags, bunting and hundreds of electric lights, but this year there will be many more booths and entertaining events than formerly, owing to the determination of the people of St. John's and their good friends to start work on their proposed new church in the near future. In fact one who might have dropped in on the general committee when they were planning their garden party might easily think that they were planning for the great midway on the South common, Lowell, on the night before Fourth. Chelmsford has the reputation of doing things right, and the people of St. John's Mission are determined that their annual day will be no exception.

Thursday afternoon will be devoted to the children, not only of Chelmsford but those of Lowell and surrounding towns who may attend. The main event of the afternoon period will be a baby show, which will be held from 4 to 6 p. m. All babies from six months to two and one-half years are eligible, and all that is necessary is that the babies be registered for the show before 4 o'clock at a special booth which will be erected on the grounds for that purpose. The judges of the event will include three graduate nurses, none of whom shall be from Chelmsford. Valuable prizes will be awarded. From the noon hour until 4 p. m. the older children and grown up folks present will be treated to all the pleasures of a country festival. There will be sports and amusements for the boys and girls, including pony rides, games, the thrills of the fish pond and the not less delightful surprises of the refreshments, ice cream and candy booths. These features for the children will be under the general supervision of Miss Mary Hill, Mrs. Robert Donahue and Miss Mary Sheehan.

The big events for the grown-ups will start sharp at 6 p. m. Ten gaily decorated booths will display their wares and as much fun as possible will be packed into the evening hours. In addition, many talented musical and acrobatic performers have volunteered their services, so that the evening will not be devoid of genuine "thrills." There will be opportunities for the sharpshooters and the strong men to show their prowess, while all the usual opportunities will be given for the lucky ones to win something worth taking home. Many of the events have been kept secret by the general committee, but a feature of the evening will be a slide for life, scheduled for 10 p. m. There will also be an offering by the O'Reilly troupe and a comedy entertainment by a committee of the Y.M.C.A. under the direction of John Payne. Throughout the evening there will be a band concert by the Chelmsford band, and for those who wish to dance, there will be a dancing party in the town hall under the direction of Mr. Walter McMahon.

The list of committees in charge of the big garden party is as follows:

RUGS OF SIMPLE PATTERN ARE BEST

The floor is the foundation of a room. It should remain the foundation, stay in its place, and not flaunt itself before the visitor.

Therefore, the best tone for the floor is dark. And the simplest design the best.

Where the floor is of the light kind, a dark rug or rugs should cover it, to furnish the simple, dark, unobtrusive background essential to proper decoration.

But on the floor may be placed various rugs, to conform with the taste of the owner and the principle of decoration in the room.

A good oriental rug is far from being dark and simple, far from acting as a background. But it is used in many homes for its intrinsic beauty and value. It, in fact, acts as the centre of the decorative scheme throughout the room.

But in such event, be careful with the selection of your rug. If you do want some design, some color, some life and attraction applied to the floor in a rug or carpet, see that it is not obtrusive and tiring.

A person looks at a floor most easily. His eyes are soothed by a simple, unobtrusive covering. But let him glance at a rug with varied colors and large pattern, and his eyes hurt from staring at the colors and following the pattern.

If there must be a design in a rug, it should be small, neat, simple and with as little color in it, with as little contrast, as possible. That is next in preference to the simple, dark gray-like covering that makes the best background for the room's furniture and other decorations.

MOVE TO CUT MINERS' WAGES

Declares Attack Will Fail—Workers Will Take No Backward Steps

INDIANAPOLIS, August 13.—The United Mine Workers' Journal, official organ of the United Mine Workers of America, in its issue of August 13, will say:

"There appears to be a well defined movement among certain class of coal operators and coal companies throughout the country to force a revision of the Jacksonville agreement, which would mean a reduction in the wage structure in the bituminous coal industry. Such a movement has been under way for the last several months. It has centered in and around West Virginia and certain parts of other coal mining fields.

"The attack on the Jacksonville agreement and the present wage scale of the mine workers of the country will fail. America will not permit anything of the kind to happen. There is no going to be any reduction in wages. The Jacksonville agreement will stand until the day of its expiration, without change or amendment.

"It is but fair to state that, as far as is now known, the operators who are parties to the Jacksonville agreement are taking no part in the attempt to discard the document. The effort is being made by coal companies in outlying fields and not by those of the central competitive field, who are now under the Jacksonville agreement.

"President Lewis has stated many times that there will be no reduction in wages in the union fields. He has said, and everyone has become familiar with his statements, that the United Mine Workers of America will take no backward steps. He regards the Jacksonville agreement as a sacred binding agreement for a period of three years, and he proposes that it shall be lived up to in every particular. Coal companies, coal papers, and others may as well take notice."

CHANGE IN SCHEDULE OF WORLD FLIERS

REYKJAVIK, Iceland, Aug. 13.—(By the Associated Press)—After plans had been completed here for the American army world fliers to hop off for Greenland tomorrow, weather permitting, a disquieting report today from naval flight Commander Bruce G. Leighton, on board the cruiser Hiram, off the Greenland coast, caused a sudden change in the schedule.

Rear-Admiral Knudsen at once called a conference with Lieutenant Lowell H. Smith, the flight commander, and Major Clarence E. Crumline, of the army air service, on board the cruiser Richmond.

Reports received from August 13 after a reconnaissance from the Raleigh stated that the harbor was too small and too nearly filled with floating ice to make it a suitable or safe landing place for the fliers, and that it would be impracticable for them to hop off from it with a load.

It is probable that a new landing place will be picked.

EX-GOV. DAVIS INCREASES LEAD IN OHIO

COLUMBUS, O., August 13 (By the Associated Press)—Former Governor Harry L. Davis increased his lead to more than sixty thousand over Joseph B. Sipher of Akron, for the republican gubernatorial nomination when 7136 precincts out of 8300 had reported to Sipher, however, still maintained a lead of more than 3000 votes over James A. White, who was running third.

Governor A. V. Donahy had increased his plurality to almost 110,000 votes over James C. B. Reilly for the democratic nomination for governor in 6829 precincts.

LEOPOLD-LOEB CASE

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—(By the Associated Press)—Four alienists will be the only witnesses used by the state to rebut the theory of "mental disease" which the defense has offered in mitigation of the penalty Nathan Leopold, Jr., and Richard Loeb must pay for kidnapping and killing Robert Franks.

The original plan of Robert E. Crowe, state's attorney, to call campus friends and associates of the youths to testify as to their sanity, in refuting statements of witnesses for the defense, has been abandoned. The prosecution believes it is unnecessary.

IT PAYS TO CARRY COPY OF THE SUN

A copy of The Sun was the means of restoring to Frank O'Grady of Gorham street a suitcase containing valued clothing found Sunday on the road in Kittery, Me., by C. H. Farwell of that place. Mr. Farwell, in examining the contents of the suitcase, found a copy of The Sun of July 13 as the only possible clue to identification of the owner.

Believing that the suitcase had probably dropped from an auto from this city Mr. Farwell wrote The Sun stating he would forward the property upon proof of ownership. A statement to that effect contained in The Sun last night served to notify Mr. O'Grady of the finding of his lost effects and he immediately communicated with Mr. Farwell and established the necessary identification to accomplish the forwarding of the suitcase to him here.

INSTITUTE OF POLITICS

Round-table Conference on Latin Affairs at Williams-town Today

WILLIAMSTOWN, Mass., Aug. 13.—The submission of distinctly American questions for settlement by the permanent court of international justice might be "viewed with concern" by the American government, Dr. L. S. Rowe, director of the Pan-American conference on Latin affairs at the Institute of Politics here today.

Pointing out that America's present separativeness of interest from Europe was in no way commensurate with that which existed at the time of the framing of the Monroe Doctrine, Dr. Rowe showed that under article 21 of the covenant of the league, the seven Latin-American members of it are obliged to bring before the league council any disputes which cannot be settled by the ordinary methods of diplomacy.

"If the council takes cognizance of these questions," he continued, "and in dealing with them recommends that economic and financial penalties be taken against the recalcitrant state, the United States is confronted with the question whether such action would be in violation of the accepted principles of American foreign policy."

"It is the present attitude of the league to take no measures detrimental to the United States, but as that body grows in influence, this question of the relation of the league to distinctly American disputes must be faced."

Prof. S. B. Fay of Smith college told the members of his round table that Anglo-Saxons should be more considerate of France's desire to play a dominant role in Europe analogous to that which the United States with her Monroe doctrine plays in the western continent, or to that assumed by England on the seas.

MAJ. GEN. HINES TO SUCCEED GEN. PERSHING

WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—Secretary Weeks announced yesterday that on retirement of Gen. Pershing Sept. 13, next, Maj. Gen. John L. Hines, now deputy chief of staff, would be appointed chief of staff by the president.

Gen. Hines will be succeeded as deputy chief by Brig. Gen. Dennis E. Nolan, now assistant chief of staff, in charge of the supply section of the general staff.

The appointment of General Hines will make no change in his rank and Gen. Nolan will take up his duties as deputy chief as a brigadier general. The rank of general of the armies was conferred upon Gen. Pershing by congress as a special mark of appreciation for his services in the war.

Gen. Hines has had a brilliant career in the army and was decorated during the war with the distinguished service medal awarded for efficiency.

Gen. Hines was decorated for valor during the Solsonas engagement when he was killed in action between the 16th and 26th infantry. He went forward with the 16th infantry, located its left flank, and walking in front of the lines, encouraged the troops by his example of fearlessness and disregard of danger. His citation shows he succeeded in joining the two regiments, "enabling the operations to be pushed forward successfully."

General Nolan was chief of the military intelligence of the A.E.F. He was decorated for valorous conduct while assigned in September, 1918, to command the 55th brigade, 28th division. Taking the part while the force was hotly engaged near Apremont, General Nolan "made his way into the town of Apremont and personally directed the movements of his tanks under a most harassing fire of enemy machine guns, rifles and artillery."

Announcement of the promotions set at rest rumors that General Pershing would be recalled to active service after his retirement.

10,236 TOTAL STRENGTH OF MASS. NAT. GUARD

BOSTON, Aug. 13.—The total strength of the Massachusetts National Guard may not exceed 10,236, the enrollment of July 31, 1924, the state militia bill, now said in an order issued today, a limitation in appropriations is said to have caused the restriction.

Eight guard units were commended for 100 per cent attendance at the summer training camp this year, in a report filed by the state guard inspector.

MISS WILLS WINS SECOND ROUND

FOREST HILLS, N. Y., Aug. 13.—Miss Helen Wills, of Berkeley, Calif., playing through champion, today won her second round match in the national women's tennis championships by defeating Mrs. A. P. Fiske, of Chicago, 6-0, 6-0. The Californian displayed masterful stroking and dazzling speed.

Mrs. Fiske threatened only once when in the third game of the final set when she brought the score to deuce and then made the advantage point, only to lose the next two points and the game.

At no other time was the champion forced to display her variety of puzzling shots which won her the national title last year.

Miss Cora B. Sackett, of East Orange, N. J., defeated Miss Margaret Blake of Lenox, Mass., 7-5, 4-6, 6-3, in a second round match.

DEATH IN LAWRENCE OF MRS. MACARTNEY

Mrs. Helen Morse Macartney, wife of Robert J. Macartney, a lawyer, merchant, and mother of Gardner Macartney, Lowell merchant, died Monday evening at her home in Lawrence. Besides her husband and the son named, she leaves another son, Robert, of Lawrence; one daughter, Mrs. William Planders of Niagara Falls, N. Y., and one sister, Mrs. Fred A. Knowlton of Quebec.

The funeral will be tomorrow afternoon from her late home, 135 Berkeley street, Lawrence, at 2 o'clock and interment, to follow in Bellevue cemetery there, will be private.

STOCK MARKET

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Stock prices displayed a firm tone at the opening of today's market which was featured by a renewed demand for the railroad one-half new 1924 top at 10 1/2 and "Nickel Plate" (which a new peak at 11 1/2, up one-half, Baldwin, advanced a point, but United States Steel common yielded fractionally.

The main price movement continued upward throughout the early dealings although the gains, as a rule, were small. Coppers were again in good demand, Chile and Kennecott bettering their previous high prices and most of the other improving fractionally. Texas and Pacific and Colorado and Southern first preferred were added to the list of new highs in the railroad group. St. Louis Southwestern preferred and General American Tank common advanced a point each. Stewart-Warner and Atlantic Coast line were heavy. Foreign exchanges opened steadily.

Profit-taking forced recessions of one to two points in Union Pacific, preferred, Chesapeake & Ohio preferred, General Electric, Western Union and American Water Works, but when these had been absorbed the market started to move upward again. The leather and low-priced rails, Central Leather preferred, Erco preferred and American Hide & Leather preferred advanced 3/4 to 3 points. Good and common Panama Players, American Can and Baldwin, the last named touching 121. Call money opened again at 2 per cent.

Trading in the afternoon there were advances of one to three points in the Biscuit, Chemical, Tobacco, Public Utility, Texas Gulf Sulphur, Railroad Steel Spring and International Business Machine shares. Omaha, Pennsylvania, strong, while Crutcher, steel, Gulf States Steel, Foundation company and Nickel Plate dropped one to two points.

The closing was irregular. "Big land" jumped eight points and Rutland peaked at 100, but in the late dealings, but weakness cropped out in some of the popular industrials, Crutcher Steel dropping 3 1/2 points.

U. S. SHIPPING BOARD FREIGHTER AGROUND

TOKIO, Aug. 13.—(By the Associated Press).—The United States Shipping Board freighter West Katon is aground on the rocks near Fude Island, 60 miles northeast of Keelung, Formosa, according to Keelung dispatch to the Nishi Nishi. The vessel went ashore in a storm and has a large hole in her hull. Japanese destroyers are proceeding to the scene.

The freighter West Katon sailed from Hong Kong Aug. 9, for California ports. It is of 5556 tons registry and was built in 1919.

G. O. P. OUTING AT HAMBURG, N. Y.

BUFFALO, N. Y., August 13.—John H. Bartlett, assistant postmaster-general and former governor of New Hampshire, and Guy B. Moore, district attorney of Erie county and a candidate for governor, were the speakers at the annual outing of the republican county organization at Hamburg today. The unfurling of a G. O. P. Daves banner here preceded the departure of the party to Hamburg. Mr. Bartlett's address was chiefly devoted to an attack on Senator La Follette and his followers.

"La Follette may not be quite so wild as some of them nor as un-American," Mr. Bartlett said. "Yet I regard it as profoundly significant they so quickly recognize of their kind. You find shouting for La Follette all haters of wealth, all who chafe at the restraints of law. This radical is fanning a fire, an anarchistic conflagration."

DOCTOR HELD FOR GRAND JURY

NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—Dr. Hadley T. Cannon, arrested last week charged with homicide after the death in his office of Miss Monica Malone, 24, of Brookline, Mass., after an illegal operation, was held for the grand jury today. Magistrate House fixed bail at $10,000 after officiating yesterday at the action of another court in permitting Dr. Cannon's release on $3500 bail soon after his arrest.

JOHNSON-JACKSON BOUT CALLED OFF

CHICAGO, Aug. 13.—The ten-round boxing contest between Jack Johnson, former heavyweight champion, and Tut Jackson, of Washington Courthouse, O., scheduled for East Chicago, Ind., Friday night, was called off today.

Gov. Branch of Indiana opposed the match, not because the participants are negroes, he said, "but for reasons the public will very well understand." He ordered it stopped.

QUEBEC IN GOOD FINANCIAL CONDITION

QUEBEC, Aug. 13.—The financial statement for the province of Quebec, for 1923-1924, which was made public today, shows a surplus of $1,303,440.17 in the treasury. The total of what were termed ordinary receipts was $23,170,735, and the ordinary expenditures totalled $21,867,295. Deducted from the receipts was an additional expenditure, termed "extraordinary," amounting to $300,000.

RAIN HITS COTTON PRICES

NEW YORK, August 13.—Nearly all of yesterday's advance in the cotton market was wiped out today under extensive liquidation due to reports of rain in Texas drought sections. October contracts dropped to 27.50 or 25 points under last night's close.

Other large hedging sales from the southwest forced a net loss of 117 points or about $6 a bale. At mid-day prices rallied 25 points on covering.

GEN. PERSHING ATTACKS DEFENSE DAY CRITICS

CAMP DEVENS, Aug. 13.—General John J. Pershing, in his visit here yesterday afternoon following his review of the G.A.R. parade in Boston, told more than 2500 members of the citizens' military training camp and reserve officers, that "the defense day is the most important event ever undertaken in America in the interests of peace" and scored the criticism it has aroused as "unsound and uncalled for."

Denouncing the proposed program for September 12 merely a method of instruction to officers in the regular army, national guard and reserve to prepare them for their duties in a national emergency he said, "only by actually facing the problem can these officers realize the extent of their task in case of war."

"We all pray," he said, "that there will be no more war but there has been no great change in the world since the days in 1914 and 1917 when war stole upon us in the night."

He said that in his opinion if each city in the country could see once a year, the massive display of patriotism he had just witnessed in the parade of the Grand Army, there would be "no more weak objection to the government's modest program of protection."

COMPLETE SHUTDOWN OF WALTHAM WATCH PLANT

WALTHAM, Mass., August 13.—A complete shutdown of the factories of the Waltham Watch company was indicated by the walkout of several departments today, bringing the total of strikers up to 2000 of the 2900 employed. Employees of three departments stopped work yesterday following the announcement of the management of a 4 per cent reduction in wages. The strikers declare that actually this cut runs from 10 to 40 per cent, and an average of 25 per cent. It is said that only two of the 25 departments now remain at work.

This is the first labor disturbance of any magnitude which the company has faced in 70 years.

NEW YORK, August 13.—Nearly all of yesterday's advance in the cotton market was wiped out today under extensive liquidation due to reports of rain in Texas drought sections. October contracts dropped to 27.50 or 25 points under last night's close.

Other large hedging sales from the southwest forced a net loss of 117 points or about $6 a bale. At mid-day prices rallied 25 points on covering.

COUNCIL PASSES $75,000 ORDER FOR SEWER CONSTRUCTION

Proposition to Run a 16-Inch Water Main to the Oaklands is Defeated—Council Passes Supplementary Budget Calling for $73,285

The city council last night passed an emergency order appropriating $75,000 for sewer construction and voted down by six votes to five the administration measure calling for a like sum for the purpose of running a 16-inch water main to the Oaklands. A compromise measure offered by President Gallagher and providing that $75,000 be spent for the extension of present water mains failed to meet anything like spontaneous ac- cord or enthusiasm and was with- drawn by its author.

The supplementary budget, calling for $73,285, of which sum $31,500 was for the board of public service and $41,785 for the charities department was passed, with but little comment. Several councilors took advantage of the presence of members of the board of public service to complain that while the board was given $31,000 to expend on sidewalks this year there has been little seen by them that would be regarded as reflecting judicious expenditure.

The board of elections commis- sioners was also singled out for a smart rap, objections being raised to the location of the polling booth in Dun- more street and a question being made that the vocational school be used instead. Councilor Fitzgerald ex- plained the location of the booth had been changed because the street de- partment was expecting to enter the square where the booth is usually placed.

Meeting in Detail
Messrs. Chadwick, Chretien, Daly and Lamert were absent. The meet- ing scheduled to start at 7:45 o'clock was a few minutes more than the customary hour and a quarter late. At the opening of the session the city solicitor introduced in order au- thorizing the mayor to make agree- ments with the proprietors of the Locks and Canals and the Boston and Maine railroad as to repairs to the School street bridge. A copy of the agreement was attached to the city solicitor explained that there is litiga- tion pending in superior court which will establish liability for bridge repairs. Under this agree- ment drawn between the city and the two corporations the Locks and Canals owners will repair the bridge and ultimate payment will be made by whoever the courts hold liable. A brief discussion preceded unanimous endorsement.

It was voted to ask the board of public service to furnish an estimate of cost for the elevation of the Tenth street reservoir sufficiently to make an appreciable increase in pressure in pipes served from Christian Hill.

A petition for an itinerant vendor's license, made by Teddy's Shoe Shop, was tabled. This is the second applica- tion to reach the body and action was deferred pending a written opin- ion from the city solicitor as to whether it is valid under the peti- tions for improvements of a like nature in Highland avenue and Mt. Hope street.

Carrying the approval of the city solicitor and the board of health the petition for the right to establish a burial ground in Cunningham street for the Polish people of Lowell was granted.

Water Main Extensions
Councilor Cosgrove took the chair while President Gallagher spoke for his order providing $75,000 for exten- sion of water mains throughout the city rather than for the Oaklands project. Mr. Gallagher took for his chief points the claim that extension of all mains would make main- tenance more conducive to the annexation of East Chelmsford and the Navy Yard section of Braintree and that main extensions thus made would be revenue producing as well.

Mr. Gallagher further claimed that greater relief to unemployment would be gained through his measure as more could be put to work in sepa- rated gangs than on the one water main job. Mr. Sandler spoke against citing the fact that main extensions are now keeping astride with build- ing while sewer work is way behind. Mr. McPadden asked Chairman Mur- phy of the service board as to status of sewer work. Mr. Murphy replied it would require $200,000 to get caught up with pending applications.

Mr. Murphy urged the passage of the water main order saying this in his mind was of prime necessity as the danger always exists of the pres- ent main under the river breaking and cutting off the water supply of the Oaklands. Mr. Stearns later claimed that this could not happen as there is an idle 24-inch pipe under the river now with gates ready to be cut in such an emergency.

Mr. Cosgrove called upon Mr. Mc- Padden to take chair in order that he might sit with President Gallagher in the debate from the floor. Mr. Stearns said he thought the increas- ing of the altitude of the high ser- vice reservoir of prime importance and next in order the acquisition of land on the right side of the Mer- rimack, opposite the boulevard pump- ing station, for more wells. Thirdly, he said, the Cook wells should re- ceive attention and be put into con- stant use. As to the Oaklands main idea he said "there is strangely about this case, to me, the idea of an un- necessary expenditure of money. This would be termed by some people a waste of money. I am not ready to subscribe to that statement but many could be found who would."

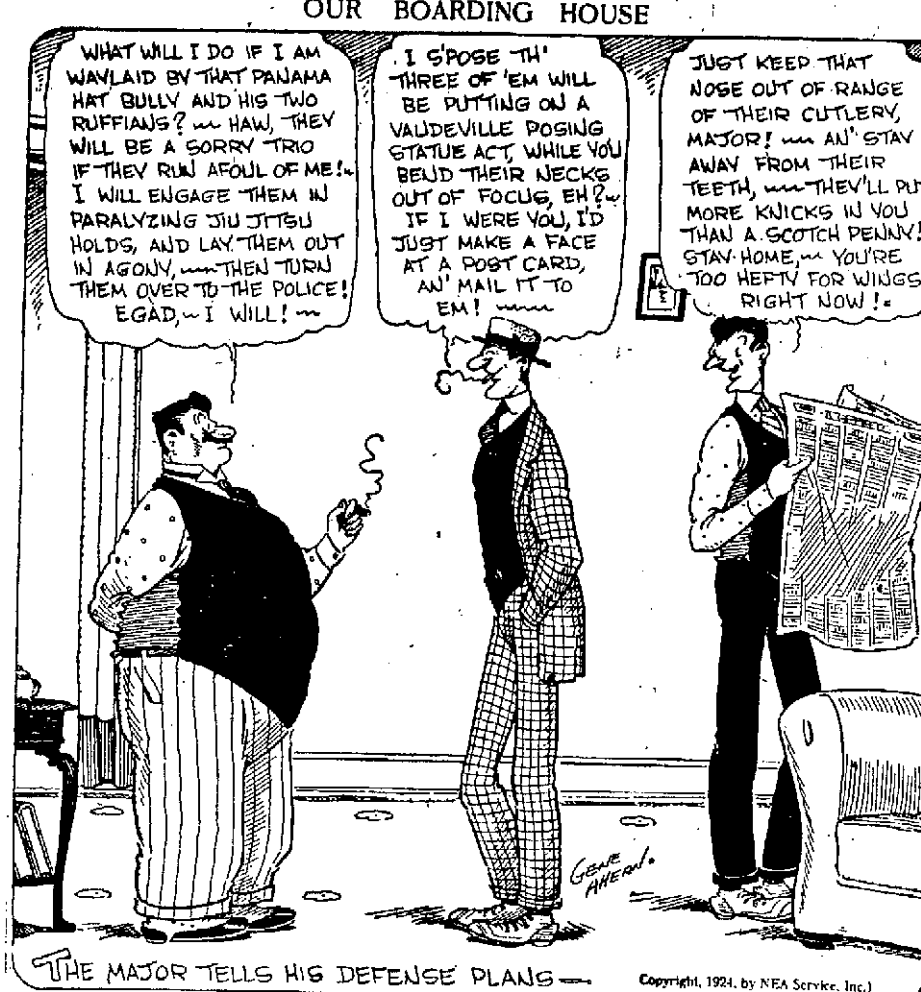

Gallagher Order Tabled
Mr. Stearns moved to table the Gal- lagher order and the motion carried by 8 to 2. Messrs. Cosgrove and Gal- lagher against. Mr. Gallagher re- sumed the chair and declared a 5- minute recess before tackling the supplementary budget.

After the recess Mr. McPadden in- troduced the sewer order as a com- promise and it was carried. Mr. Gal- lagher then withdrew his order. Mr. Stearns moved to take from the city the administration order for the Oaklands water main. The emergen- cy clause having been rejected at last Friday night's meeting the ques- tion, came on the adoption of the order. Five voted to adopt and six against and the president declared the motion lost, lacking the necessary two- thirds by five votes.

Messrs. Fitzgerald, Hennessey, Mc- Padden, Moriarty and Sandler voted to adopt and Messrs. Gallagher, Genest, Dickson, Stearns, McPadden and Cos- grove against.

Adjournment was at 11:35 o'clock.

FINE POTATO CROP
TRENTON, N. J., Aug. 13.—Central New Jersey potato growers are har- vesting this week to harvest a two million bushel crop. Preliminary reports indicate that it will be the finest quality crop ever produced in this state. At least four thousand car loads will be shipped out of the cen- tral potato belt, it is estimated.

TO HOLD LAWN PARTY THE PLATO ASSOCIATION ELECTS OFFICERS

Collinsville Church Affair
Will Also Take Nature of
Reception to New Pastor

A mass meeting of the parishioners of St. Mary's church, Collinsville, was held last night in Harmony hall and preliminary plans were laid for the grand lawn party, the first of its kind to be held in the parish for some time. There was a large attendance of the men and women of the parish and it was evident that the idea of a lawn party was immensely popular and as the evening wore on and the preliminary plans began to take shape there was an abundance of enthusiasm indeed.

Today, Clerk John W. Brennan was elected chairman of the meeting and Leo Marshall, secretary. The date was definitely settled as Saturday, August 20, and the place, the grounds sur- rounding Harmony hall, which lends itself admirably to a fine out-door event. Sub-committees on various fea- tures were appointed, and for an initial meeting, it was a fine start.

Rev. Daniel J. Heffernan, pastor of the parish, was present, and expressed himself as delighted with the at- tendance of parishioners. It augured well, he said, for the success of any movement to see such a large body of men and women enthusiastic for a putting over the project. He spoke briefly of his happy experiences since assuming the pastorate of St. Mary's and was deeply appreciative, he said, of the assistance that has been given him.

It was stated today by several mem- bers of the committee in charge that the lawn party will be the medium of bringing the members of the parish to meet the new pastor, and the af- fair will undoubtedly resolve itself into a reception for the energetic clergyman.

The Lowell representation at the affair will be very large, for anything in which Rev. Fr. Heffernan is in- terested will draw a big crowd of friends from the city as well as from his native city of Lawrence.

Another meeting will be held next Tuesday evening when sub-commit- tees will report on their plans and ideas.

(Special to The Sun)
BOSTON, Aug. 13.—Chiefs of police all over the commonwealth were re- quested today by Frank A. Goodwin, registrar of motor vehicles, to co- operate with him in a drive against unlicensed drivers of motor vehicles. Mr. Goodwin estimates that there are in the state today fully 20,000 drivers who have no right to operate a motor vehicle, and he points out that they comprise chiefly the lawless ele- ment, men who because of unfitness have not been able to secure a license, or those whose licenses have been re- voked for cause, and who are operat- ing in defiance of the law.

In his letter, sent today to every chief of police in the state, the regis- trar says in part: "Reports of my inspectors indicate a widespread violation of the law re- quiring an operator to have a license. 'I think it is conservative to say that at least 20,000 persons are now operating illegally, and they are necessarily of the lawless element. They are either persons who have not been able to get their licenses because they are unfit, or have had their licenses revoked and are natu- rally lawless and irresponsible. 'I wish you would make a drive on this type of violator and in addition to prosecuting them, notify me as soon as possible of the name of the offender and the registration numbers of the cars so that I may take the plates away at once. 'The killing of little children does not decrease. Practically every case of this kind happens in the cities and thickly settled parts of towns. The only remedy is to slow the motorist down in such places and I hope you will do what you can to remedy this condition. Very truly yours, FRANK A. GOODWIN, Registrar."

MATRIMONIAL

Gagne—Asselin
Mr. J. A. S. Gagne and Miss Annette Asselin, two well known local young people, were married Monday at St. Louis' church by Rev. J. B. Labossiere, pastor. Mr. J. A. Gagne and Mr. N. Asselin, fathers of the bridegroom and bride respectively attended the couple. Miss Jeanne Asselin acted as flower girl. The bride was attractively gowned in moonlight satin, trimmed with beads. She carried a shower bouquet of lilies of the valley. Following the ceremony a wedding breakfast was served at the home of the bride's parents in Decatur street, at which guests were present from Warren, R. I., and Fitchburg. Mr. Gagne is assistant treas- urer of the Foreaux Bros. Inc., while Mr. Gagne was formerly employed at Morse & Beals. Mr. and Mrs. Gagne will make their home at 174 Dalton street, where they will be at home to friends after Sept. 15.

DAVIS BACK IN EAST TO PLAN FOR INTENSIVE CAMPAIGN

Gather in Washington for Coolidge Notification

ABOARD THE METROPOLITAN SPECIAL, ENROUTE TO NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—John W. Davis, democratic presidential candidate, was back in the east today to prepare for an in- tense campaign which he has told lead- ers of his party he intends to conduct without gloves.

His drive to carry his message to the country will be inaugurated with his trip to Columbus, O., to address the democratic state convention on Aug. 28. Meanwhile, Clem L. Shaver, his cam- paign manager, and other party chiefs will make every endeavor to complete the campaign organization, which now is far behind that of the republicans. Messages reaching Mr. Davis have confirmed his belief in the radio as a means of reaching a large unselec- ted audience with campaign messages. National Committeeman Dooley, of Por- to Rico, cabled that he had heard Mr. Davis' speech perfectly by radio, and similar reports came from Maine and the Pacific coast.

The candidate expressed surprise that the heavy downpour of rain in which he came had not interfered with transmission. He decided that at times the rain was beating down on the table holding the microphones with such force that he could scarcely hear his own voice.

Coolidge Notification Tomorrow
WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—(Republi- can) Leaders from all parts of the country assembled here today for the exer- cises tomorrow night at which Pres- ident Coolidge will be formally notified of his nomination by the Cleveland con- vention.

The address of the president accept- ing the nomination is expected by the party leaders to set forth morally the principles on which the republican campaign will be based, since it was written before John W. Davis, the democratic nominee, delivered his cor- responding address at Clarkburg, W. Va., and could not, therefore, be re- garded as a direct reply to the lat- ter's statements.

The president had a light program today to permit him to spend some time in preparation for delivery of his address. All members of the nation- al committee as well as republican gov- ernors and members of congress and others prominent in the party affairs have been invited to attend the cere- monies.

Women to Aid La Follette
WASHINGTON, Aug. 13.—With Sen- ator La Follette's approval, the task of organizing women voters in behalf of his candidacy for the presidency has been placed in the hands of women. Mrs. Habel C. Costigan, of Colorado, wife of Commissioner Costigan of the tariff commission, has been made chair- man of a committee of women which will have charge of the work. It is planned to have a membership of at least 100 and to give representation to every state.

The committee will maintain head- quarters here and in Chicago, where Mrs. Glenn Plumb of Illinois, in charge of activities in the west, will be sta- tioned. Regional offices also may be established at other points.

The first move, Mrs. Costigan said today, will be to organize women known to be in sympathy with the La Follette-for-president movement. Then other recruits will be sought.

Davis in New York
NEW YORK, Aug. 13.—John W. Davis, democratic presidential candi- date arrived here early today from Clarkburg, W. Va., and immediately went to his headquarters in an up- town hotel for conferences with a number of those in charge of his campaign organization.

Among those with whom Mr. Davis had conferences was Senator Pitt- man of Nevada, of the speakers' bu- reau, who has had assembled for him a large amount of data to be used in the preparation of addresses to be de- livered later in the campaign.

The itinerary of the speaking tours which the candidate is to make is now being laid out, but information regard- ing it is being withheld until final ap- proval is given.

TRIPLE TRAGEDY AT LINDSAY, ONT.

Mrs. Fanning, Strangled Daughters, Then Attempted Suicide

Little Girls Hanged on Improvised Gallows After Which Mother Cuts Throat

LINDSAY, Ont., Aug. 12.—A triple tragedy was enacted on a remote farm in Lindsay, Ont., here yester- day when Mrs. George Fanning, 28, strangled her two daughters, a son and a son-in-law, and then attempt- ed to end her life by cutting her throat.

As George Fanning, the father and husband, returned from a visit to Lindsay, he found his wife sitting on her bed with a wound in her throat. In an adjoining room he saw the chil- dren, dressed in their best clothes, side by side upon a cot, apparently in a deep sleep.

Fanning attempted to rouse them. They did not respond. He was then he saw around their throats a tight- ly-drawn cord. Investigation revealed that they had been suspended from a plank to the top of a cistern in the potato bin.

Fanning learned that the mother, after having hung her children, had placed them on their bed. Then she had applied the knife to her own throat. She was given medical atten- tion and is expected to recover.

Fanning said, "She was always so kind to them and she dearly loved them." A coroner's inquest was begun late yesterday and adjourned for further consideration of the case until Fri- day night.

FEARS SPREAD OF REBELLION
MANAGUA, Nicaragua, Aug. 12.—Ad- vices received here state the unless there is intervention, the rebellion in Honduras will become general. The situation is said to be grave and the Nicaraguan government is sending ad- ditional troops to the frontier to pre- vent neutrality by preventing the rebels from using this country as a base for their sallies.
